

CIC-AACN MARCH 14, 2022 DINNER PRESENTATION AT EDDIE MERLOT'S HOSTED BY COLOPLAST

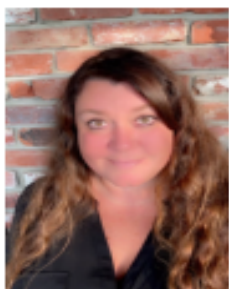

MASD: Science of Simple

Learning Objectives:

- Overview various forms of Moisture-Associated Skin Damage (MASD)
- Discuss the Differential Diagnosis of MASD
- Cleanse, Moisturize and Protect: Elements of skin care and how they support skin health
- Coloplast Skin Care, Science of Simple: A cleaner, simpler, and easy to understand formulary

Sarah Norton

MBA, MSN, RN, CWCN

Sarah Norton has been in the nursing profession for more than 20 years. She received her Bachelor of Science with a degree in Nursing from Temple University in 1996. Her clinical career began at Hahnemann University Hospital in Philadelphia on a Surgical Step-down Unit. Sarah worked as a Surgical/Trauma ICU nurse at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital for 10 years where she was promoted to charge nurse.

Sarah continued to pursue her education and completed the WOCN certificate program at LaSalle University in 2006 then obtained her MBA at the University of Phoenix in 2012 to complement her love of nursing and business. Sarah has consistently been market leader in education on wound care and obtained her Master of Nursing Education in 2021 to continue down the path of helping nurses define and understand concepts in wound care. Sarah is currently the Clinical Consultant Manager for Coloplast Wound & Skin Care and manages a multidisciplinary team of clinical educators.

Eddie Merlot's Steak House
3645 E. 96th St.
Indianapolis, IN 46240
(317) 846-8303
eddiemerlots.com

When:

Monday, March 14, 2022

- 5:30 pm Opening Reception
- 6:00 pm Program Begins

RSVP via Nursing Network
<https://cicaacn.nursingnetwork.com>

Attendees will receive a CERP certificate

