

FREE Training to Improve Vaccine Confidence in Alaskan Communities

Registration opens Thursday January 27, 2022
Online class offered January 31 – June 30, 2022

For registration support or questions please contact Katy Wright, kswright3@alaska.edu, 907-786-6589

This free self-paced course is designed to provide participants the knowledge and skills to promote COVID-19 vaccine confidence among clients, family, friends, patients and/or community members in Alaskan communities.

Courses are self-paced and offered online via UAAs learning management system Blackboard. The Provider course is designed for licensed, or license eligible healthcare providers and the Community course is for entry level healthcare professionals and the public.

Upon completion participants will be invited to attend a monthly synchronous session to practice the skills learned in the online portion.
