Keynote Speakers

Allyson Headrick is a LMHP and CMSW on the LPS Threat Assessment Team. She received her Bachelor's Degree UNL and her Master's Degree from UNO. In her role as Safety Social Worker, she is primarily responsible for management and monitoring of threat assessment cases in the district, which entails psychosocial evaluation of student risk and safety, developing mitigation strategies for reducing risk, and facilitating psychosocial interventions to enhance the monitoring of safety concerns. Allyson also provides consultation for student safety planning and collaborates with district leaders to align interventions with MTSS.

Joe Wright is the Director of Security for LPS.

Joe is responsible for leading the district's safety and security to create safe environments in all district buildings. In 2013, Joe created a threat assessment program for the district aimed specifically at violence prevention. He is an ATAP Certified Threat Manager (CTM). Prior to his work at LPS, Joe served the City of Lincoln as a police officer retiring at the rank of captain. At the request of the University of Nebraska's Public Policy Center, Joe created a training for Nebraska law enforcement: Behavioral Threat Assessment (BETA), which is still in use today.

Allyson and Joe are our 2023 keynote speakers scheduled for Monday morning. They will be presenting on School Safety and Threat Assessment.
