CERTIFIED HOSPICE AND PALLIATIVE NURSE (CHPN) EXAM PREPARATION - Live Event!

For registered nurses working in hospice and palliative care

The CSU Institute for Palliative Care and the San Diego Chapter of HPNA are joining forces to offer a weekend of education, interaction and skill building. If you are thinking about getting your certification (or need to renew it), this two-day preparation course is what you need to help ensure you pass your exam. Alternatively, if you just want to sharpen your skills in hospice palliative care nursing, this is a great opportunity to spend one weekend and return to work razor-sharp.

Comments from previous students:

"Content was excellent, relevant, applicable."

"I really liked the pain and symptom management topics the best."

"Self care: the instructor made you think and evoked interaction."

This two-day program is designed to cover all of the required competencies and examination content for the Certified Hospice and Palliative Care Nurse examination with a primary emphasis on pain and symptom management. Participants will attend review sessions, work with case studies and interact with nursing experts on topics including:

- Pain & symptom management including: pharmacologic, non-pharmacologic and complementary interventions
- Care of the dying
- Grief and loss
- Spiritual issues
- Caregiver support & education
- Practice test

Live Event - COST: $235. To register, visit our website.

About the CSU Institute for Palliative Care

Established in 2012, the CSU Institute for Palliative Care provides palliative care training and continuing education for working professionals, develops academic palliative care curriculum for CSU students in related disciplines, and educates the community at large to raise awareness of and improve access to palliative care. Launched at the CSU San Marcos campus with programs expanding to other campuses in the CSU system, learn more at www.csupalliativecare.org.

San Diego Chapter of the Hospice and Palliative Nurses Association

HPNA is a nationally recognized organization providing resources and support for nurses, registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, nursing assistants, and administrators who care for people with serious or life-threatening illness.

Initial funding for the CSU Institute for Palliative Care has been generously provided by the California HealthCare Foundation, the Archstone Foundation and philanthropist, Darlene Marcos Shiley.
