Who's Ready for a Conference?

Michael Stern, MD
2025 D-Team Chair

Hello everyone,

It is my absolute pleasure to welcome you to the 39th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Association for Vascular Access in sunny Kissimmee, Florida! As the chair of the Design Team (D-Team), I am honored to help bring this incredible event to life alongside my outstanding Chair-Elect, Jessica Langille. Jessica has been an integral partner in organizing this year's conference, ensuring we continue to provide an exceptional experience for all attendees.

The feedback from last year's conference made it clear that the transition to a three-day format was a success. We've taken that momentum and refined the structure even further to optimize learning, engagement, and networking. This year's conference is designed to be informative, dynamic, and interactive—allowing you to take valuable insights back to your teams and institutions.
