Purpose

The purpose of this event is to provide an update on current issues in oncology nursing geared toward educating Oncology Certified Nurses with ILNA Point Categories in mind.

Learning Outcomes

After attending this program, participants will have a better understanding of:

- Identify risk factors, prevention strategies, and current management guidelines for deep vein thrombosis (DVT) in oncology patients.
- Describe evidence-based approaches to symptom management and palliative care interventions that improve quality of life for oncology patients.
- Explain the fundamentals of cancer genetics and the role of genetic counseling in oncology.
- Discuss the principles of precision medicine and how molecular profiling informs individualized treatment strategies in oncology.
- Summarize the indications, benefits, and multidisciplinary considerations of plastic reconstruction for cancer patients .
- Recognize common sources of moral distress in oncology care and identify strategies for ethical decision-making and provider well-being.
- Assess the impact of cancer diagnosis and treatment on patient intimacy and sexual health

This activity will be submitted to the Georgia Nurses Association for approval to award contact hours. The Georgia Nurses Association is accredited as an approver of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Up to 8 CEU hours will be awarded if all credited presentations and post-test with evaluations are completed.
