By her retirement in January 2023, Lillian had made history, leaving the Fire Department of New York City with the titles of:

All the Lonely People Film Presentation

About the presentation: The Chowder Group presents “All the Lonely People” Filmmakers and local stakeholders will be in attendance. The film follows a handful of people from different walks of life as they overcome social isolation and chronic loneliness- a condition that is affecting millions more of us after COVID. The documentary includes the stories of New York residents Ari Rossen and Tony Westbrook living in an urban area. Another cast member, Mary Hill, an 89-year-old caregiver in Shropshire, England, faces isolation in the rural countryside. The film includes teenager Khiloud Alegab who at one point stayed isolated in her room for weeks at a time. “Those are just a few of the people who I personally identified with as I dealt with my own loneliness.” says, Stu Maddux, the director of the film.

Researchers believe the effects of loneliness on our health are as bad as smoking 15 cigarettes a day. The added stress of feeling alone increases heart disease and even earlier onset of dementia.
