Robin Colchagoff, MSN, RNC-OB, C-EFM, NPD-BC

UM Shore Regional Health

Director of Professional Nursing Practice

Robin Colchagoff, MSN, RN, C-OB, C-EFM, NPD-BC, is an experienced nursing leader and educator with more than 35 years dedicated to advancing perinatal care and professional nursing development. She currently serves at UM Shore Regional Health, where she leads organizational clinical education strategy, supports nursing leadership initiatives, oversees the Professional Advancement Model and Nurse Residency Program, manages student affiliations, and provides executive oversight for professional governance and the UM SRH Simulation Center.

Prior to this role, Robin served as Director of Clinical Education & Development at UM Baltimore Washington Medical Center and Director of Clinical Education at UM Capital Regional Medical Center. Her earlier career includes a decade as a Clinical Educator at Anne Arundel Medical Center and extensive clinical experience in labor and delivery, maternal–child health, and high-risk obstetric care across prominent Maryland and Virginia hospitals.

Robin holds a Master of Science in Nursing with a specialization in education, along with multiple national certifications in obstetric nursing, fetal monitoring, and professional development. A committed educator and mentor, she has served as faculty for regional perinatal networks, chaired the Maryland Perinatal Education Consortium, contributed to AWHONN's Perinatal Nursing textbook, and taught childbirth education in the community. She is an active member of AWHONN, ANA, MNA, A.N.P.D., and the Maryland Organization for Nursing Leaders.

Widely respected for her leadership, innovation, and dedication to elevating nursing practice, Robin continues to shape the professional growth of nurses and promote nursing excellence.
