A Message from the Medical Director

We are thrilled to extend a warm invitation to scientists, researchers and healthcare professionals from around the globe to join us for the most anticipated event in cerebrovascular science. As we embark on the eighth edition of this ground breaking conference, we are excited to bring together brilliant minds dedicated to advancing our understanding of cerebrovascular diseases and exploring innovative treatments.

We extend our gratitude to all participants, sponsors, and contributors who make this event possible. Your dedication to advancing cerebrovascular science is integral to our collective pursuit of improving patient outcomes and enhancing quality of care.

Ricardo Hanel, MD, PhD
