*We will meet in the Auditorium Room 1750

We hope you'll join the Central New York Organization for Nurse Leadership for a morning of networking, regional collaboration, meaningful leadership conversation, and lunch.

We are honored to welcome Edward McArdle, JD, Assistant Clinical Professor of Bioethics and Humanities, to discuss New York State's Medical Aid in Dying Act. Mr. McArdle previously served as an Assistant Attorney General with the Office of the New York State Attorney General, where his work included matters involving patient capacity, treatment and non-treatment decisions, and safe discharge planning.

During this session, Mr. McArdle will provide an overview of the Medical Aid in Dying Act, explore its legal and ethical implications, and engage nurse leaders in discussion about the role of nurses in caring for patients, families, and healthcare teams. Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions and participate in thoughtful dialogue about this evolving and complex area of healthcare.
