You're invited to a special presentation:

Highlighting the Clinical Complexity of Hyperinflammation in HLH and MAS

When hyperinflammation escalates, early recognition matters.[1]

Join Sobi and other healthcare professionals for a presentation on hemophagocytic lymphohistiocytosis (HLH) and macrophage activation syndrome (MAS).

This educational program will examine the pathophysiology, clinical features, and diagnostic process that can support informed care for patients with HLH or MAS. There will also be a Q&A segment at the end for additional information.

DATE: Thursday, November 12, 2026

NOTICE

Permitted Attendees: Speaker programs are conducted in accordance with the PhRMA Code on Interactions with Healthcare Professionals ("HCPs") and internal policies. Sobi conducts speaker programs only for attendees who can benefit from the presentation due to their role in patient care and have a bona fide educational need for the information being presented.

State Law Restrictions: Sobi is committed to complying with all applicable state, local, and federal laws and regulations that restrict, ban, and require disclosure of the provision of meals in connection with speaker programs. Sobi is unable to provide you a meal in connection with this program if you are an HCP licensed in Minnesota or Vermont; employed by the state of Colorado, Connecticut, Kentucky, or Louisiana; or serve on a formulary committee for the District of Columbia.

State and Federal Employees: Certain state and federal laws and regulations may exist that limit an attendee's ability to receive meals (ie, employed by the federal government, affiliated with the US Dept. of Veterans Affairs, Dept. of Defense, etc). By attending and receiving a meal from Sobi at this speaker program, you confirm that you have obtained any necessary approvals from your employer.

Public Disclosures: For all attendees who receive a meal at speaker programs, Sobi may be obligated to report your name and the value of the meal received as required by applicable state, local, and federal disclosure laws.

Alcohol Policy: Consistent with PhRMA Code on Interactions with HCPs and internal policies, Sobi, and its speakers, are prohibited from offering, providing, or purchasing alcohol at speaker programs.
