something TALK about

We arrived on September 7, 1994, thinking everything was going to be the same as it was last year. By 9am that morning, we had new locker assignments, no homerooms, and new policies. The only thing that didn't change was the attitudes of the freshmen. They thought we'd never notice, but under the trembling mass of books and notebooks was, yes, a freshman . . .

Half-way into the school year, I arrived fifteen minutes late after being sick for two days, only to find the doors near the North parking lot to be locked. Walking slowly to the front doors, adding five more minutes to my tardiness, there sat Mrs. Jackson with what I'd like to call her "Tardy Patrol," waiting to hear yet another excuse.

That same day after school, as I was minding my own business, eager to get home, I was suddenly surrounded by reporters asking for my opinion regarding the probable school closings. I think my point was made perfectly clear when I walked away with a forced smile. It doesn't bother me now that I think about it. What's 900 more students? We all have the same goal: getting here, doing what we are expected to do, and leaving ASAP . . . only to rest for an hour and then have to go either to work or back to school for some kind of practice.

Although this story isn't exactly a complete work of non-fiction, it's not entirely false. I was only trying to make something clear. We all know that things are changing, and whether we like it or not, we have no choice but to accommodate to these changes. Remember, change is good. It's something to talk about.

Sexy Legs!

Seniors Denica Durr and Angie Iemma are proof that you can form extremely close friendships while in high school.

Quick . . . push the panic button! Seniors Chris Vitale and Jose Baez do everything in their power to prevent Ms. Thomas from telling Mr. Clark about their journey to Burger King.

Happy Birthday!

Birthdays happen only once a year, and the students milk them for all they're worth. The cake, the pop, and the singing was the perfect way to keep Ms. Bennett from teaching her class.

Superbowl bet or lifestyle? We know he lost the bet, but he didn't have to tell us . . . or show us! The least he could have done was color-coordinate.

The man behind the Counter is . . .

Ten thousand dollars is a lot of money. I don't know how many times I've heard about ten thousand dollars. He'll sit there and worry about it all day. "Ten thousand dollars won't be enough. Not with a cover like that. No, it won't work. We'll need more money. Gosh. And Mark's coming today. His sole mission: get yearbook to spend more money," and give Mr. Smith three ulcers and a heart attack. On top of that, someone stole another can of Coke, and Amie's about to have her baby . . . in his class. "My gosh," he'll say. "She's huge! Penny, come here and look at this. I'm gonna go get the cart from the janitor. The color deadline came went, of the went the color you people me g h He and all pages in. But spot . . . peop put through hell." wonders if there's going to be enough candy, pop, and pizza after school. Everything will be okay, though. Just fine. As long as nothing else happens.

He comes in the next day . . . April Fool's! Did someone make a mistake? Yes, I haven't seen him this mad since, well, never. No, no, Freshman year, I believed he killed a student. It was all untrue, but he could've. If something like that ever happens again, "by God, I'll retire, and who knows what you'll get!" But he won't. He won't because he loves this . . . and us. Otherwise, he would've quit years ago when his desk was floating around on the third floor. But he's a nice guy, a great guy. If he wasn't so funny, nice, kind, cool, etc., we all would've quit a long time ago, and taken "wood shop. It's right over there."

On top of that, no matter how much of a pig pile we give him, he'll still like us next week. He'll try to set someone up with someone else. He'll beg us to take a foreign exchange student. If we say no, "Gosh, you people are so selfish." But he understands.

I'd like to thank him for putting in the time with us. And for making me find the "existentialism" in life. And for seeking something a little different.

—Dan Majesky

For the Record

Mr. Smith,

We've known you for 3 or 4 years now. What can we say? You're the greatest teacher, yearbook advisor, and candy seller we know. You're always there for us when we need you, too. Thank you for all of your time, dedication, and understanding. We love you!

—Colleen and Dave

For the Record

Mrs. Smith,

You're the cutest, friendliest, nicest, sweetest . . . should we keep going? We love everything you do. Like they all say, "Behind every great man, there is a woman." Thank you for everything!

At Your Best

Homecoming was an evening of dancing, talking, and fun. Students danced for hours the day after the Homecoming ceremonies which took place at George Daniel Stadium.

Members of the Homecoming Court included: King and Queen, Bradley Bombback and Yvette Colon, Marco Rodriguez, Joy Poprock, Raji Matthews, Mabel Ramos, Richard Gerber, Chareka Cameron, Leonard Walker, and Latoshia Jackson. Everyone was definitely at their best.

8 DAYS a week

In the course of four years at Admiral King High School, each student will have a favorite teacher or special memory of a teacher . . . "Take out a half-sheet of paper . . ."

"I'm so excited . . . it's Happy Hump Day."

"Time for sermon number 436 . . ."

"Stop all of this discourse people . . . watch this!!"

"Duh! Hooked on Phonics people."

"Oh shut up!"
"Get out of my face, I don't want to talk to you. What have you done for me?"

"And that's the chapter."

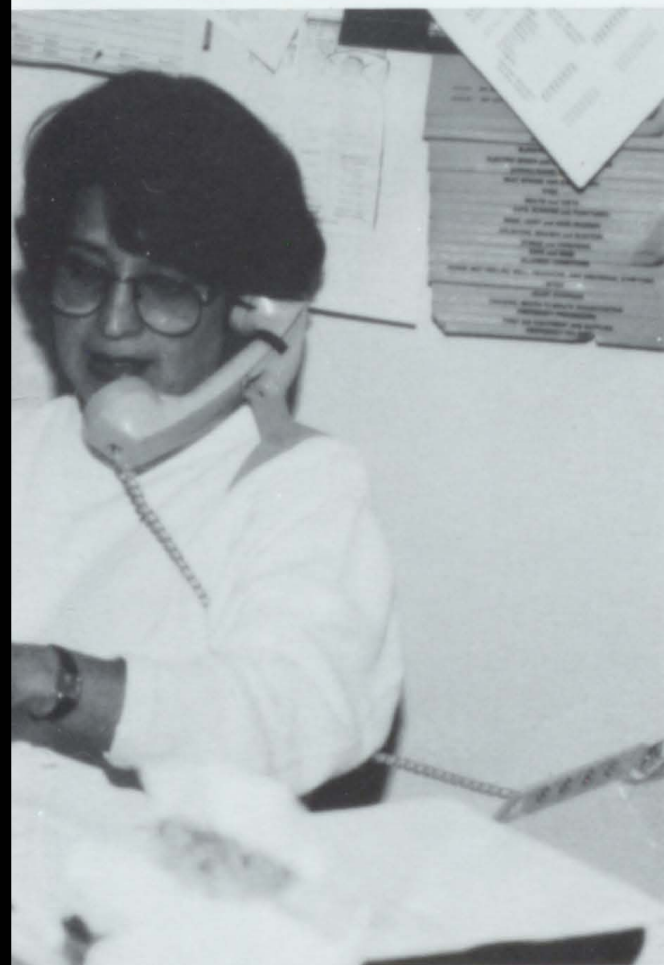

"I'm hunting Jasons!"

"Where's your hall pass?"

They all have their own quirks, some of which we love, and others we love to hate. But we have to give them credit for all of the hard work and dedication they put forth in molding us to be a well-rounded, mature, intelligent person. Personally, I don't think teachers receive the credit they deserve . . . they work practically not only an eight-hour day, but an eight-day week. Not only are they teachers and staff members, but they are also our counselors and our friends. On behalf of the student body, THANK YOU STAFF MEMBERS!!!

There were 44 members in the JOGS program for the class of '95. It is a wonderful organization for the kids to get involved if they're looking forward to the future and finding a good job. Also there is a lot more to JOGS than just finding a job. Our JOGS teacher is a wonderful person, not only as a counselor or teacher, but as a friend also. Thanks to our JOG Coordinator Mr. Larry Lathwell and the good times.

JROTC

Although JROTC was offered for the very first time at Admiral King, it has become quite a success. JROTC focuses on the individual, helping you grow "both as a student and as a person."

Lt. Col. Schmitt and Fire Sgt. Obechi train their students to excel in many areas: both in in-classroom and out-of-classroom activities, in leadership and personal skills, in teamwork, and in current events. The students learn by doing and are commended for their efforts.

The program does require a lot of hard work, but as the JROTC pamphlet states, "It helps you earn what you learn," . . . something everyone should be obligated to do regardless of the subject material or situation. It's not only a class, it's life experience.

Members of the second period JROTC class practice formations in the commons.

First Sgt. Obechi

Latoya Matthews and Sam Baez are equally involved. JROTC students use the skills they've learned in other classes.

National Honor Society

It takes a lot of hard work and dedication to get good grades in high school. Priorities have to be set and sometimes sacrifices have to be made. Every year, students that have made those sacrifices and have done all of that work are recognized. When nominated for National Honor Society, they are not only chosen for academics, but also for leadership, service, and character stressing that success is not just based on good grades, but is based on a well-rounded education and a well-rounded individual also.

2 so much do

It would be difficult to say a student has nothing to do at Admiral King. With a variety of clubs and organizations offered here at King, there is always something going on. From Expressions to Eternity Club, S.A.D.D. to Student Council, Deans Advisory Board to Drama Club, plus a few more in between, life at King is anything but boring!

Being involved in an extracurricular activity is an excellent way to have fun, help your school and community, and become a better leader all in one.

Key Club & Student Council

Key Club is a service organization for high school students which is sponsored by a local Kiwanis club. Key Club's objective is the development of initiative, leadership ability, and good citizenship practices. Key Club provides service and guidance for home, school, and community.

Student Council is an organization whose purpose is to "promote harmonious relations among students, faculty, and administrators; to assist in the management of the school; and to promote the general welfare of Admiral King High School."

Foreign Language Club

The Foreign Language Club is a group composed of French III and IV and Spanish III, IV, and V students who wish to promote foreign language in their community, school, and own club. Activities completed during the season were: adoption of a family, ongoing empanidilla sales, piñatas for teachers international week composed of music, dessert, dress-up, and hat day, international party, and the end of the year banquet. Everyone in the club participated actively and positively, and contributed to the fine year.

Trident and Concession Spotlight

Producing a yearbook is not as easy as one may think, and is most definitely not fun and games. Doing a yearbook takes numerous hours of work to produce the final masterpiece. Copy captions, copy fitting, identification of all the faces in the pictures, designing and laying of the pages, selling ads . . . the list goes on and on. There's definitely too much to do in only one class period of the day. That's why a lot of the work is done in and out of school, as well as after school. Teamwork is essential if the job is ever going to be completed.

From September until June, the year just grows more hectic with deadlines consisting of 20, 30, or even 40 pages in a 1 to 2 month time span. The quality of the yearbook depends entirely upon the cooperation of the staff and student body as well as their hard work and determination. Without permission to photograph and interview, there is nothing to put on the pages! Without the yearbook staff meeting deadlines, there is no book! And of course, who can forget the numerous helping hands of the concession stand workers!?! Because of them, we are able to raise the money needed in order to have a yearbook. Your help is greatly appreciated!

S.A.D.D.

The Students Against Drunk Driving (S.A.D.D.) club at Admiral King is a group of young people that believe in a mature and healthy lifestyle. This is a group that supports staying away from alcohol and drugs. S.A.D.D. members participate in activities that promote fun without drugs or alcohol.

They spread the word with activities such as "Red Ribbon Week," the Prom Promise program, and the Tree of Life.

Currently our S.A.D.D. chapter is the largest in Lorain County with 120 members. Field trips this year have included "Safe, Sober, and Alive '94" at the Palace Theater, the IX Center, and the Coliseum.

Our officers are Secretary Michelle Lawson, Treasurer Julie Saegert, Vice-President Stacy Wolfe, and Co-Presidents Rachel Kussai and Crystal Maharidge.

ABOVE ALL YOU!

Deaf Students

Deafness; does it make you different than anyone else? The answer's simple—NO. The deaf students at A.K. are proof of just that. These students have proved that they can do just what everyone else can, if not more. These students strive for goals, which is why they excel in and out of classroom activities. Their determination is over-whelming. Deaf people have likes and dislikes just like everyone else. Sometimes they have to work harder than others, but doesn't everyone? The student body treats them with pride and respect, having developed GREAT friendships. The students have learned to look past the fact that they are deaf, and see them for exactly who they are.

Surprise!! We wanted to catch you in action.

The Marching Admirals

Whoever said good things come in small packages must have been referring to the Admiral King Marching Band. The Marching Admirals entered their final season, as we know it, with a style unmatched by the other bands in the Erie Shore Conference. Under the direction of Mr. William Spruill and Mr. Jason Deptula, the band travelled to Berea to participate in a March-o-Rama, where it was the only band from Lorain County. The Marching Admirals also played at every one of the home football games and the Lorain County March-o-Rama, where it received a standing ovation from the visiting bands.

The Kingsmen Jazz Band

The 1995 edition of the Kingsmen Jazz Band has had a great year, giving a stunning send off to an A.K. tradition. This year's group has done an exceptional job, at all their performances. Whether entertaining at school board meetings, playing at home basketball games, or showing what they're made of at local jazz invitationals such as: Tri-C Jazz Fest or the Lakeland Jazz Fest. The group would like to thank Mr. Spruill for all his hard work and understanding throughout the year, and to let him know that they'll never lose the many memories they have had.

Concert Choir

Choir is more than just another class during the school day. Other than the Animation Express, there is another prominent choir—the Concert Choir. This year's group has done a great job! So good in fact that this has been the first year, one can recall, a Lorain City School has competed in OMEA Large Ensemble Contest. After months of hard work and determination, it all resulted for the best. The ensemble received an excellent rating. To all members of the group, you've made this a year to remember.

—Dave Grumbos

The Animation Express Chamber Singers, under the direction of Ms. Jill Murrell, is composed of 19 very talented individuals. Not only does the group sing for school functions, but for community related functions as well. Businesses and organizations throughout the Lorraine area would hire the group for an evening of sheer entertainment.

The group has had a very productive year, starting off with the Christmas season. Some performances included: performing at the Tri-C Jazz Fest, Festival of Carols at the Lorraine Palace, OMEA music competition—where the ensemble received a superior rating—and for many organizational parties.

Even though the group is known as a jazz ensemble, we also participate and perform a wide range of literature such as: ballads, show tunes, contemporary pieces, as well as pieces from the Renaissance era.

All in all, this year has been one hectic, yet fun-filled one. The group has performed

José Baez, Dominic Cardarelli, Brad Bombback, Marco Rodriguez, George Halitzka, Dave Grumbos, Sam Baez, Mike Sestili, Allan Tenorio, Joe Gilkes, Angie Iemma, Rose Giardini, Grace McCall, Gina Ortenzi, Megan Campana, Colleen Curtis (accomp.) Karen Lugar, Michelle Love, Yvette Colon, Beth Koscho, Amy Smith.

Megan Campana sings the solo in "Tuxedo Junction." Mark Stavesky turns pages for accompanist Colleen Curtis.

Animation Express . . . Just another normal day.

"It's time for sermon #143 . . . The shepherd and his lost sheep."

"Don't look at me that way," says Beth Koscho.

"Whoa! Is that what you really want for Christmas?"

excellently at all of the functions, and are proud to have represented the last edition of the Admiral King High School Animation Express. To all members of the group, good luck and you will be greatly missed.

Once Upon A Mattress

Theater Comes To Life

On March 24, 25, and 26, the Admiral King music department presented the hit musical Once Upon A Mattress. The many talented thespians involved in this play made this popular fable—simply come to life. Having had a late start deciding on a production, the entire cast pulled together to make this a top-notch performance. The cast and crew worked continuously throughout the month of March. Everyone was busy completing construction on the sets, memorization of lines, song lyrics, and blocking. Our hats off to all who made this play—a play to remember for a LIFETIME!

"Weird" Stuff

As I am being forced to write this vaguely-put-to-me article on a day in the life of an underclassman, the one at the whip-hand end of my slavery pounds mercilessly at an out-dated electric typewriter with a fading ribbon. She tries another, but it's broken. She opens it and gasps, taken aback by the sight inside. She says something about how gross it is. I expect to see a dead rat, its rotting belly exposed, full of electric typewriter parts. To my disappointment, I find its ribbon to be melted in the typewriter. I hear her complain about how stupid people are, that they can't even hear a typewriter to see what's wrong. Her last comment gives me the inspiration I need for the rest of the article.

I would assume that if you wanted to properly examine someone's day, you would start at the beginning and move along to the end, slowly and methodically. That's why I'm not doing it that way. I'm going to do it jumbled and confused, like one of my days, like a day in the life of any underclassman. I'm going to start at the part of my day which my life revolves around: lunch.

Go ahead, laugh, it's true. No one cares about anything else. Sure they pretend they do. "Gee, I can't do anything all weekend. Got too much homework." If you ask that person, "Hey, did you do your History homework?" they would shriek and say, "Oh——! Do you have it? No?!? I'll do it in first period! Oh NO! I've got a test in there! I guess I'll do it in lunch." Aha! See? Lunch! He said "LUNCH."

This proves that underclassmen are the world's largest lazy slacker population. That afore mentioned kid won't do his work in lunch. We're all lazy like that sometimes. "So we do other stuff. Weird stuff, some of us. But that's cool, because if we concentrated on school alone, what kind of life would we have? None. That's why no one fixed Colleen's typewriter, they had "better" things to do. I was going to say she was fixing it because she was bored, but she says she likes that typewriter better. But it's really because she has more important work to do, and it's just something "weird" to do instead.

Reminiscing . . .

Remembering back just three years ago, seniors smiled in amazement at all the blunders and confusion they suffered during their freshman year. Although tripping up the steps, dropping books in the middle of the hallway, or getting lost in the chaos of the crowded halls may have sounded too familiar to most seniors, others looked back to those carefree times as more of a stepping stone for what developed into four of the greatest years of their lives.

You know you're a senior when "going to the bathroom" involves getting into your car, when you've already borrowed 200 points in English, when the Army recruiters know you on a first name basis, and when skipping school is more natural than coming to school!

Senior Banquet

Senior Banquet took place on a very rainy Friday night, but no one seemed to mind. Awards were given, stomachs were stuffed, and everyone was dancing by the close of the evening. Senior Banquet for the class of 1995 will never be forgotten! A special thanks to Mrs. G. Jones.

The Need to Succeed

These seniors have worked continuously during their elementary and high school years to obtain the privilege of being one of the top ten students of the last graduating class of Admiral King High School. Every one of these students are members of the National Honor Society, displaying not only academic excellence, but leadership, character, and service qualities as well. They all budget their time between school, sports, jobs, and other extra-curricular activities, while managing to have some free time to enjoy with their friends. We wish the best of luck to these and all the students in the graduating class of 1995.

Senior Committee

The AKHS Senior Committee was hard at work to raise money for the Prom this year. The seniors held AK's first ever Cow Pie Lotto. This event was a huge success. Food, games, and of course a cow, what more could you ask for? They are also sponsoring their annual Rock-a-Thon and T-shirt sale.

Members are Joe Bozsoki, Yvette Colon, Alison Hutz, Rachael Kussai, Tahira Mahan, Elvis Maldonado, Marco Rodriguez, and Mike Sestili. Mrs. G. Jones, advisor.

Sweetest Days of '95

The days preceding May 19 found seniors anxiously preparing for one of the most memorable evenings of their lives—the senior prom. The prom was held at German's Villa in Vermilion on May 19, from 7:00-midnight. The theme was "The Sweetest Days," and the decorations were black, white, and silver.

Prom night was very memorable for many seniors and their guests. It was a chance for everyone to participate in a special event together as both friends and classmates.

Although not everyone's night was perfect, it was generally agreed that the dance was nice and that it was hard not to have a good time. For some students, prom was their last opportunity to be with the entire class, as friends.

At approximately 10 pm, the senior class officers along with Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. G. Jones, and Mr. VonGuten presented the Prom King and Queen. Raji Matthews and Rosemarie Giardini were crowned. They led their fellow seniors and guests in a dance to the theme song, "The Sweetest Days."

Overall, the prom was a success. It was well attended, and those who were there agreed that they had a wonderful time. It truly was an event to remember.

"Prom was more special to me than any other dance because it was the last dance of my high school career."

"You always have fun at prom, being with all your friends, but afterward was a special time to be with your date and the people you doubled with. And then there was prom-to-dawn . . . that was even better."

"Coming together is a beginning. Keeping together is a program. Working together equals SUCCESS."

The Work Pays Off

Football, baseball, basketball, soccer, golf, volleyball, cheerleading, tennis, and softball—the Admiral King Admirals do it all! Pride and strength are top priorities for the Admirals, especially in SPORTS. Hours of prework outs and practice occur before teams are even found as the young hopefuls faithfully report and dream of making the team. Skills are essential as in knowledge of the rules of all sports you play, but equal to all these is working together as a team. A winning or losing team, where you are able to conduct yourself with 100% good sportsmanship at all times!

Upon conclusion of each season, a banquet is held in their honor; awards are presented; teams and coaches recognized, and scholar-athletes are awarded special recognition as deserved.

Football

The 1994 football team saw Admiral King end up with a 1-9 record. This season was a tough experience for everyone concerned because losing is never something to be enjoyed. The team showed great character in the Midview, Cloverleaf, and Elyria contests where the situation was in doubt well into the fourth quarter. The Southview game was an exciting one with the Admirals' victory not certain until Southview missed their field goal on the last play of the game. Even though the season wasn't a good one in terms of victories the 42 men that finished the season learned some valuable lesson of life.

The Admirals are still King. The Admiral King boys' soccer team ended the 94 season with the second-straight Erie shore conference crown, and another sectional tournament seed. The season closed with the Admirals on another record setting streak of 34 undefeated conference games. The senior dominated team was lead by captains Mike Pagan and Mike Sestili. Other starting seniors included the offensive guns of Nate Buck and Mike Taliano. Eric Jankowski and Dan Madden covered the midfield, while Mark Stavesky protected the goal. The defense was provided by three sophomores, Elliot Alloway, Brandon Clay, and Josh Silva, Jacob Perez, the lone junior, helped out on offense and set a school scoring record of six goals in a single game. Reserve players Mike Denicola, Chris Ferreira, Jeremy Goldberg, Jason Koscho, Mike McDonald, Sergio Munoz, and Josef Svanda also helped the cause. The team was headed by Mr. Zirola and Mr. Gerken. It was another great year of championship soccer at Admiral King.

Tennis

Under the direction of Mr. Falencki, who was named Erie Shore Conference Coach of the Year, and Mr. Hicks, the 1994 season began with a trip to Hilton Head, South Carolina, where the team played two local high schools. This launched a season of hard work and dedication to produce one of Admiral King's greatest seasons posting a 17-3 record and winning the Erie Shore Conference.

The Admirals made a dynamic showing in the ESC tournament by having each position represented in the finals and also winning the tournament.

Senior Daniela Mesquita had a perfect regular season 15-0 record and a 27-4 overall record. She was the first Admiral King woman representative at the state tournament and held the honor of being named ESC player of the Year.

Named to All-Conference teams were Daniela Mesquita and Cyndia Colon—first team; Nicole Smith, Stacy Wolfe, and Julie Saegert—second team.

The Northeast Ohio All-Scholastic tennis team consisted of these A.K. players: Daniela Mesquita (first singles)—first team; Cyndia Colon (second singles), Nicole Smith (third singles), Stacy Wolfe (second doubles), Julie Saegert (second doubles), Becky Mager (first doubles), and Jennifer Tobias (first doubles). The Admirals closed out its season with a host of accomplishments to its credit.—Stacy Wolfe

"It was a pleasant surprise to have all the girls in the championship finals," said Admiral King Coach Paul Falencki. "We thought 90 points would win it. That's what we were shooting for."

Boys' Tennis

The boys' tennis team had a super season. The team went undefeated in the Erie Shore Conference, on its way to winning the conference. The team, led by seniors Mike Sestili, Nate Buck, and Mark Stavesky, lost only one match all season in a tournament. Coach Falencki and Coach Hicks were great coaches during the season. ## BASKETBALL

The Admiral King Varsity Boys Basketball team got off to a rocky start this year. The team is composed of mostly underclassmen, but they still hold up their own. Reggie Billings feels that "... by the time that the tournaments come around we will be ready for them". He thinks very highly of Coach Gillam, and feels that he (Coach Gillam) is able to teach them a lot of things about basketball. The guys on the team are like a very close family. They all pretty much get along. He believes that their toughest opponents will be Cleveland Heights and the easiest will probably be North Ridgeville. This year's Boys Basketball team is well on their way to an exciting season.

—Arikka Anderson

Coach Bastock expressed nothing but happiness while talking about the boys' J.V. Basketball team. This year there were mostly sophomores and two juniors. They were Kevin Harris and Juan Castro. Between 23-25 students tried out for the team, but only 15 were chosen. There weren't many managers or captains to name. He picked different players each time. He chose the team members he felt were good at being leaders. They had a lot of exciting and close games. He was very happy to see two new kids, Kevin Patterson and John Winborn. He was pleased to see the way they developed in basketball. The easiest game was beating Lorain High School by over 20 points. Their hardest game was against Elyria High School. EHS was undefeated, so it made the whole game very frustrating. The team's greatest strengths were their rebounding and three-point shooting. Jason Koscho had 25 3-pointers. This was the most ever for an A.K. sophomore. Their greatest weaknesses were freethrows and turnovers. Their freethrows percentage was 46% and their turnover rate was at least 24 per game. Coach Bastock felt this year he was running his own show. He felt he had more control over what went on. This was a learning process for him.

—Arikka Anderson

Kevin Harris

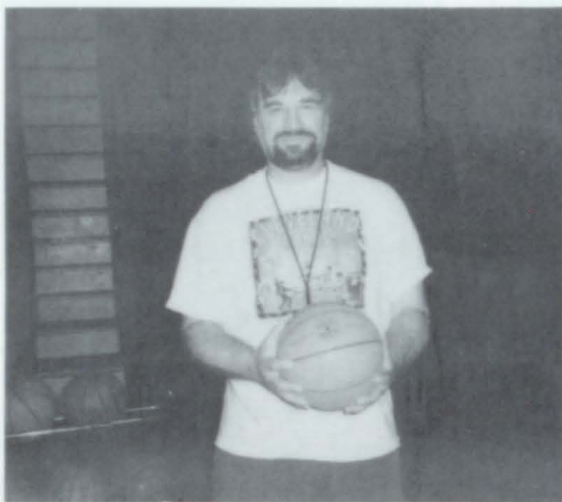

This year's Girl's Basketball team had a very exciting year. These dynamic girls won the sectional tournament and played against Trinity. Trinity is first in the state and fourth in the nation. The girls had grown closer towards the end of the year. They began to work together more. They also matured on and off the court. Mr. Biber taught them to be more self-disciplined. Although they had some problems, the girls learned to deal with him. Their strongest point was their defense and they began to get better at endurance and offensive strategy. Never the less the best part was toilet papering Mr. Biber's house. All in all, this year was great.

Although the girls freshman basketball team was a little rough around the edges, all in all we were a good team. At the beginning everyone didn't get along but as the season progressed and came to an end everyone was kind of sad it was over. A few new friendships were made that may not have been if it weren't for basketball.

We had a good coach. He knew we weren't the team from last year, and accepted us for who we were. I know he was a little sad when the season came to an end. By the time everyone was getting along and playing four quarters the season was over. Everyone learned something different that will hopefully help them when they play basketball next year. So, remember, there is always next year!

Girl's Soccer

The 1994-95 Girl's Soccer team was young and inexperienced but had a fun and rewarding season. Experienced seniors, Rachael Kussai and Nicole Smith were both injured for most of the season but the rest of the squad dug in to provide competition for their opponents. The Lady Admirals won 3 and tied 2, and learned a lot about soccer.

The highlight of the season had to be the first tournament victory ever, a 2-0 victory over Midview, in which Rachael returned to score the first goal. Nicole finished her 4 year career by scoring the last goal of the year. So, both 4 year letter winners had a positive note to end their career on. MVP Sarah Pagan was selected second team all conference. Others receiving mention at the selection meeting were Rachael, Nicole, Narkita Coleman, Erin Sink, and Kara Tobias.

This year, the A.K. softball team was much closer. They were able to communicate more because they were more comfortable with each other. This year was coach McGill's first year as a varsity coach. This was a big change for everyone. The J.V. team was very dispersed at first, then as the year progressed they became more comfortable with each other. The varsity team won 5 games out of 22, and J.V. won 1 game. Overall this was a pretty good year for both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams.

The 1994-95 cheerleaders were very excited to start off the new year. Throughout the cheerleading season there were many experiences beginning with camp. Attending Wright State University the cheerleaders had a chance to learn and develop new skills, meet new people, and compete against other squads for a chance to win a great number of awards. Camp not only was a lot of hard work, but also a lot of fun.

When school started we wanted to pep it up with a "Back to School Dance", and a Back to School Pep Rally. Many other events that take place during the year, take a lot of time and effort. Some of these events include: Homecoming Dance, Valentines Day Dance, the Talent/Fashion Show, and decorating lockers.

Also for a week in each season the cheerleaders experience their own annual Spirit Initiation Week, in preparation for the upcoming basketball season. This years themes were: Animal Day, Old-Fashioned Cheerleader Day, and Blue and Gold Day.

We finally finished our season with our cheerleading banquet. Here we can all look back and recognize all of the accomplishments we've achieved. This was a year we will definitely never forget.

—Stacey Shawver.

Lorain Board of Education

LORAIN SCHOOL TURMOIL

On Sept. 2, Lorain School Superintendent Thomas Bollin announced his retirement effective Jan. 1, 1995. During Bollin's five-year stewardship he revamped a financially strapped district yet took a beating for making the tough but unpopular decisions. He is leaving at a time when the district is once again in financial turmoil, with the recent announcement that Lorain High will be closed and four other schools in the district facing possible closure. School board President Kenneth Kramer said the district will hire an interim superintendent in January until a permanent replacement can be found. Bollin has since accepted a superintendent position in the Robbinsdale Area School District near Minneapolis, Minn. Bollin, 53, came to Lorain in 1989 following a career with the Toledo Public Schools. The district unexpectedly fell into debt in May and now faces borrowing $10.4 million to balance the books by the end of this school year.

—The Morning Journal
January 1, 1995

During the 1994-1995 school year, the Board of Education had to make some tough decisions concerning the school system. There were not enough funds to fit the budget successfully so the board had to review plans to save money. Eventually they chose the plan which has had the most impact on the community, the one which included the closing of Lorain High School. In addition to that, Superintendent Thomas Bollin retired, leaving a vacancy filled by Nicholas Hutlock first as Interim Superintendent, and now, as Superintendent. Here's hoping that the board and the Superintendent can work together to make a better school year for 1995-1996.

Whether roaming the halls or on the roof—Mr. Clark was constantly looking out for the students welfare. He always made sure that a student chose the right path to follow, as well as the right decisions in life.

Mr. Clark . . . past and present. Happy Retirement!!

Mrs. Lois Smoley

From Student Counsel and National Honor Society advisor to a helping counselor and friend—Mrs. Smoley does it all! Mrs. Smoley has been a counselor at A.K. since the early eighties. She has so many great memories it's hard to pinpoint just one. The most important would have to be the fact that she has helped so many people in need. From planning for the present thru the future as well as helping out with their home life. Mrs. Smoley—THANK YOU!

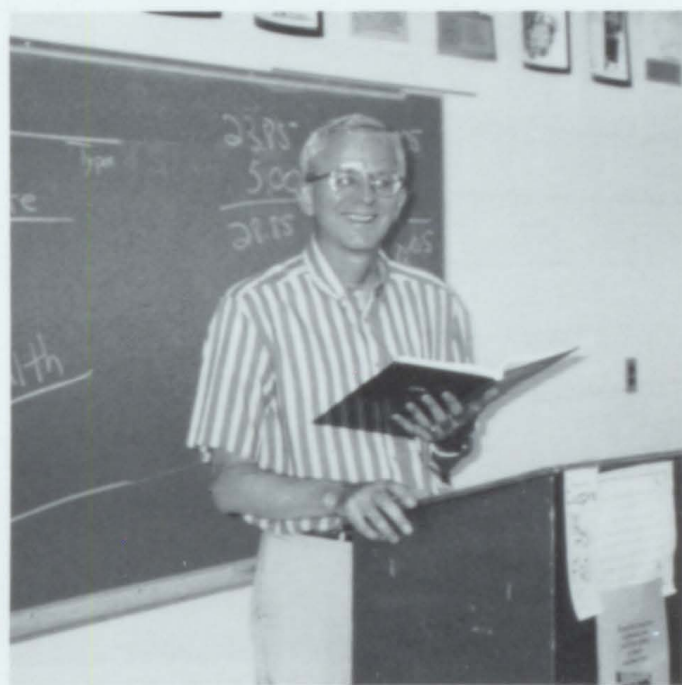

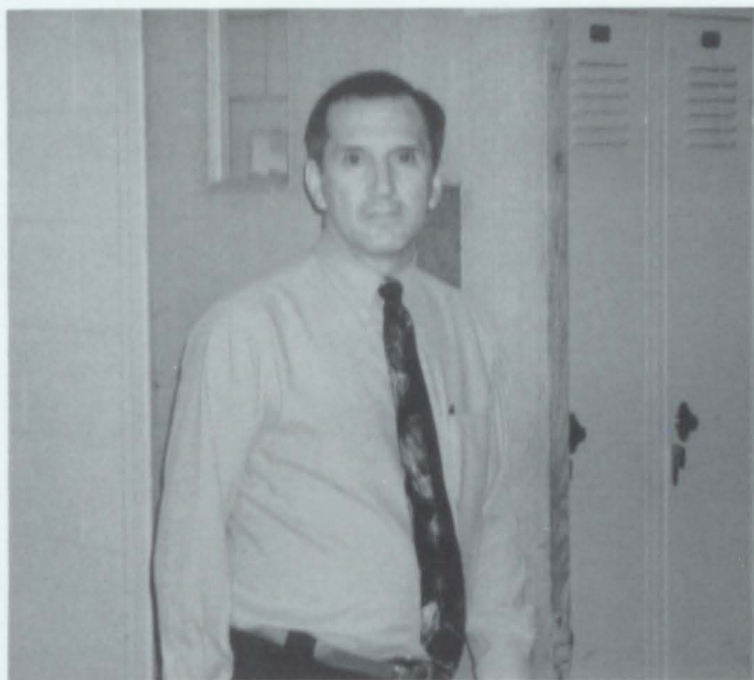

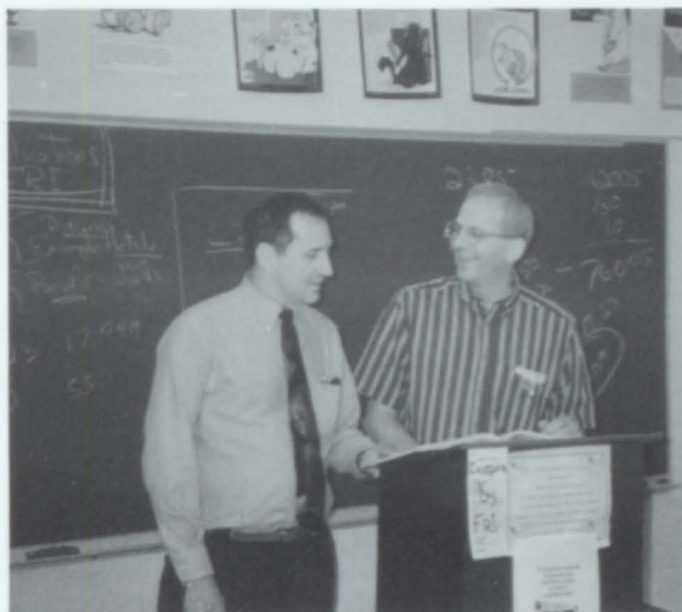

Mrs. Smoley was always working to help us. Now she can relax.

Mr. James Ash

Mr. Ash has been teaching for 29 years, 4 of which were at Admiral King. The 25 years before that were spent at Lorain High. He has taught a variety of classes through the years: American Government, American History, Black History, Economics, and OWE (Occupational Work Experience), which he now teaches. His favorite thing about teaching is working with disadvantaged students who have needed extra help to graduate or to get employment. His favorite memory is working with honor students in the Ohio Mock Trial competition.

Mr. Joe Kubic

Mr. Kubic has been teaching here at Admiral King for 31 years. In that time he has taught Industrial Arts, Woodworking, and, since 1980, OWE. Also, he had taught three teachers currently in the building: Mr. Falencki, Mr. Holowcki, and Mr. Bigio. He thinks respect from students has lessened through the years, but students have become more independent thinkers, he says, which is good because you shouldn't live in a world with a blind obedience.

Smith's European Adventure

It all started out when we arrived at the airport, ready to go. Bags in hand and pouches on waist. We embarked on a journey that took us through 5 different airports including one that has a history of falling into the sea, and one that hasn't been remodeled since the late 50's or so. We had awesome bus drivers like Franc and Jean-Paul, who rammed the bus repeatedly into a wall in Avignon. We had the tour guide from "enfer" who had a dry British accent and a tendency for smacking his gums and attending saucy night clubs in Pigalle. We wasted countless roles of film on certain people in the Quick Burger. And we haven't really been to Aix-en-Provence because we haven't tried the callisons, but no one seemed to care because we were all sleeping or talking. And Dave's voice seemed to be coming from the speaker because Nick (El Tour Guide Supreme-o) was talking about how the British inadvertently control the world . . . and no one cared at all. On the plane ride home everyone was happy because Gina and her evil brother were not there, and I got my vegetarian meal so I didn't need to eat everyone else's cold, hard, wet rolls. I did anyway because at that point I was addicted to bread. We all had a great time. Really. It's definitely something we'll remember for the rest of our lives.

—Dan Majesky

Un Viaje Inolvidable

Once again, Señora Colon took a group of her Spanish students to the "Isla del Encanto" (island of enchantment), sunny Puerto Rico! The students arrived in San Juan, and spent most of their time here shopping, sun bathing, and sight seeing. They also visited the cities of Ponce and San German. The students had a great opportunity to learn historical and cultural information about the country and were able to see many beautiful sights such as the cave formations, Cavernas de Camuy, the Phosphorescent Bay, and El Morro, a very historical Spanish fort. Señora Colon's spanish students would like to say, "Gracias, Señora."

EUROPE '95

Several Band seniors and chaperones experienced the customs of Europe during spring break. They traveled to Scotland, England, and France. During the trip they saw many sites, such as the Eiffel Tower, Versailles, several castles, and the Louvre, which is where the Mona Lisa is held. While in London they also saw the popular play, Miss Siagon.

International Princesses

Every year Admiral King High School is proud to have several young ladies representing their nationalities in the Lorain International Princess Pageant. This year there were eight class of 1995 seniors portraying their respective nationalities. These included:

- 3 Italian Princesses: Rose Giardini
Angie lemma
Gina Ortenzi
- 2 Puerto Rican Princesses: Yvette Colon
Michelle Lawson
- 1 German Princess: Kerry Witt
- 1 Hungarian Princess: Rachael Kussai
- 1 Polish Princess: Beth Koscho

We wish them all the best of luck in and out of pageant festivities. Congratulations and make us proud!

It's What You Make It

The Yearbook Committee most often relies on the community to support its production. The statement "It's what you make it" comes to my mind. Many of us on staff went around to dozens of businesses and organizations throughout the summer and during the course of the academic year asking for their support. Most declined for various different reasons which was quite discouraging. We raised a total of $1118 not even 10% of the cost of the yearbook.

We made the most of what we had to work with, but also were restricted from putting many of our ideas into action due to the lack of funds. I believe that the 1995 Yearbook staff has done an excellent job of making the most out of a bad situation. That belief gives me and Dan Majesky the encouragement to continue on the staff for 1996.

I would like and do commend those local businesses and organizations who did come through for us: Driscoll Music, EST Bank, Dr. Gradisek, German's Villa, Bonaminio's, Dr. Timko, Crystal Clear Cleaners, Dr. McDonough, Dr. McMahan, First Federal Savings, Westlawn Optical, Hixon's Country Place, Dr. Falk, IEF, Dr. Brletic, and Bridals by Michele, although we should not have had to rely on them entirely. Our community lacks what others possess—togetherness. We cannot survive without a little help from one another, and that's all we were asking for . . . a little help. All for one and one for all. Perhaps that's only true with the Three Musketeers.

Academic Year Program

International Education Forum

"To provide opportunities for greater understanding between cultures of the world" is the mission of International Education Forum. IEF, founded in 1981, is an American non-profit educational and cultural organization, arranging for young people from all over the world to visit and live in American homes for an academic year, 5-month or 3-month high school program.

The IEF Academic Year Program is designed to totally immerse the foreign participant in the "American experience." His exposure to our culture and our lifestyle is firsthand and personal, imparting an understanding that's otherwise impossible.

IEF participants want to become a "part of the family," sharing in your life and that of other members of your household. Often they remain an "extended" family member for years with the foundation of friendship established during their stay.

The Academic Year Program will benefit you and your family in many ways. Imagine learning to use chopsticks or trading your favorite recipe for one of a new exotic dish without even leaving your kitchen. How about watching your kids describe the finer points of American football while learning some new moves in soccer . . . the possibilities are endless and the enjoyment of sharing them limitless.

Colophon

With each year that passes, the yearbook seems to become more and more time consuming. Work began last year in late June and ended the following June. When the book arrives in late September, it will be evident that it required a lot of hard work. Although we had many difficulties, we managed to get by those obstacles.

The 240 copies of the 1995 Trident were printed by Herff Jones of Shawnee Mission, Kansas. The 144 pages are bound in a custom designed Litho cover with navy blue, gold, teal, and pearlescent berry. Gold foil name stamping was optional. Korinna is the dominant type style, with 8pt. being used for captions and 12pt. for feature stories. Headlines are mainly set in 24pt., but sizes do vary from section to section.

Underclassmen and faculty pictures were taken by Lifetouch National School Studios. The senior photographer was also Lifetouch National Studios. Woodard Photographic became our 1996 contract photographer, and they were kind enough to help us out for 1995.

Mr. Leighton Smith

advised the yearbook, providing us with the support, organization, and motivation to do the best job possible. The yearbook was broken down into six sections: student life, sports, population, academics, clubs, and advertising. Co-editors Colleen Curtis and Dave Grumbos; Population, Kelly Schue, Dan Majesky, and Nicole Sauvey; Sports, Arikka Anderson.

Aaron Josefczyk and the other photographers at Woodard Photographic sacrificed a great amount of time which allowed us to have quality photos. The entire Admiral King staff, administration, and faculty gave us continual assistance, encouragement, and patience throughout the year. We'd also like to send a special thank-you to our Herff Jones representative, Mark Potteiger, who guided us through the entire process. He's become not only an adviser but a friend also.

Thanks to everyone who gave us the caring and motivation we needed to make the last Trident yearbook special.
