Volume 18

When you see Lorain Catholic painted on a rock or clad on a person's shirt, you think of the high school and the people who share that part of your life that will be remembered many years after graduation. Sitting through your English, History, or French classes that fill your schedule day after day, you are greeted by classmates who have become friends. After school you share your interests with others through activities. You may be athletic, so you share victories and defeats. You create friendships while improving sportmanship. Maybe you belong to one of the clubs developed for specific interests. This book has tried to capture some of your interests while emphasizing the happy moments of your high school days. So let yourself remember the laughter as well as the tears, the smiles and the frowns, the class work and the parties. Lorain Catholic is certainly a school worth looking into since the people, the activities, and the liturgies have filled your days with happiness and memories.

Coming Together To Praise Our God

Darlene Trebus, Lisa Klevenow, Nicole Rairigh, and Theresa Klejka show devotion to God through Liturgical dance.

"Steady now boys," says Fr. Tom Smith as Dave Sepulveda and Tim Chrulski position the candles.

Stephanie Filak does a reading during the Advent Mass.

Giving It Your All

Laughter, screams, and voices fill the rooms, the stands, or the Auditorium whenever Lorain Catholic gathers to celebrate or to cheer. No longer are you an outsider, but a part of the body that builds L.C. year after year. You will not remember every time you sat through a play, a Mass, or an assembly. Maybe you will remember a certain game in the stands when twenty people tried to stand under one umbrella or the dances that followed many games. The people at L.C. are now a part of you. Names will be forgotten and new faces will have come and gone, but the friends who shared your life at L.C. are now a part of your life through the times you have shared together.

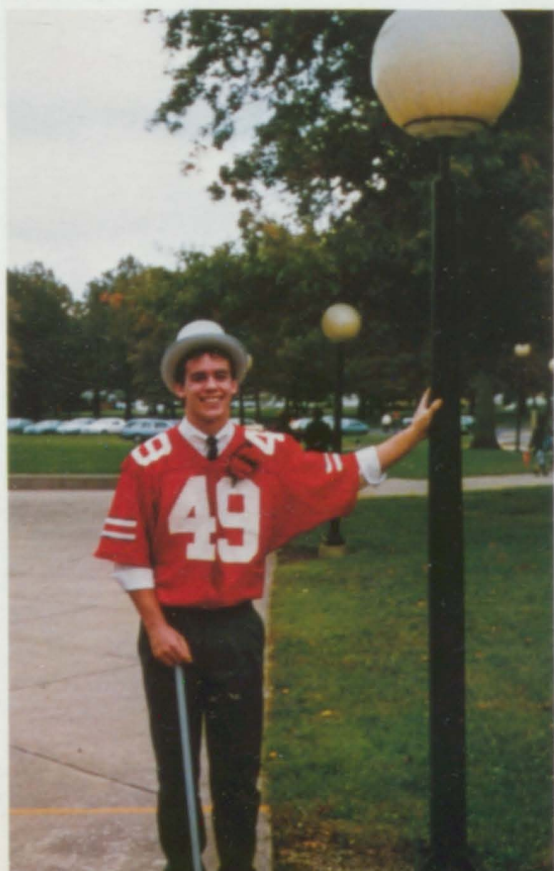

Songs of Homecoming

Homecoming is always a very special event. There are pep-rallies, the float parade, and finally, the game. This year it all took place on a chilly October evening. The parade started at 6:00 P.M., which featured the Homecoming theme, "Songs." The Senior float was the "Monster Mash", the Junior float was "New York, New York", the Sophmores float was "Candy Man", and the Freshman float was "Thank God I'm a Country Boy." All the classes worked hard and it showed. Next came the decision of who would be the lucky lady. The 1986 Homecoming Queen was Meggan Bury. Christy Hemminger and Kristen Moore were the senior attendants. Earlier in the day, the announcement was made that the 1986 Homecoming King was Tom Krupp. Ernie Punsalan and Bill Hayes were the other senior attendants. The junior attendants were Natalie Rich and Chau Nguyen. Sophomores chose Kathy Lesner and Brad Werley and Freshman decided on Cher LoPresti and Jacob Grasso. The Homecoming football game was unfortunately lost against Gilmour Academy. The next day the traditional Homecoming Dance was held. The time that people put into Homecoming and its events helped make it a success.

— Meggan Bury

(Clockwise) Newly crowned Homecoming Queen, Meggan Bury, is congratulated by Rose Fernandez, the 1985 Homecoming Queen. Chau Nguyen fixes his tie while Natalie Rich prepares for a picnic in Central Park, New York City on the Winning junior float. Mr. and Mrs. Bury rush to congratulate their daughter, Meggan. Senior attendants, Christy Hemminger, Meggan Bury, and Kristen Moore, pose for a picture with their escort on the senior "Monster Mash" float. "Thank God I'm a Country 'Girl'" sings freshman attendant, Cher LoPresti, on the third place float. Kenny Krieg is amused with Dave Richard's technique of adding finishing touches to the first place junior float. Overwhelmed by the excitement of Homecoming, Tom Krupp, the 1986 King, holds on for balance. "Brad Werley, wake up. They're taking our picture," mumbles Kathleen Lesner, the sophomore attendant, through her dazzling smile.

(Clockwise) Rob "John Travolta" Sand attempts to persuade Nainesh Shah or his masked friend to dance with him. Dressed in her colorful toga, Kathryn Buckley takes a minute to smile for the camera before rushing off to her next class. "Some people grow up too fast," Gina Bennett and Kristen Kovach say, reliving their past on Twin Day. Dave Lesner pretends that he does not notice the disguised Anthony Rich who is talking with Art Horinek and Joe Leuzzi. The football team gets psyched before the game against Gilmour Academy.

Put Your Best Foot Forward

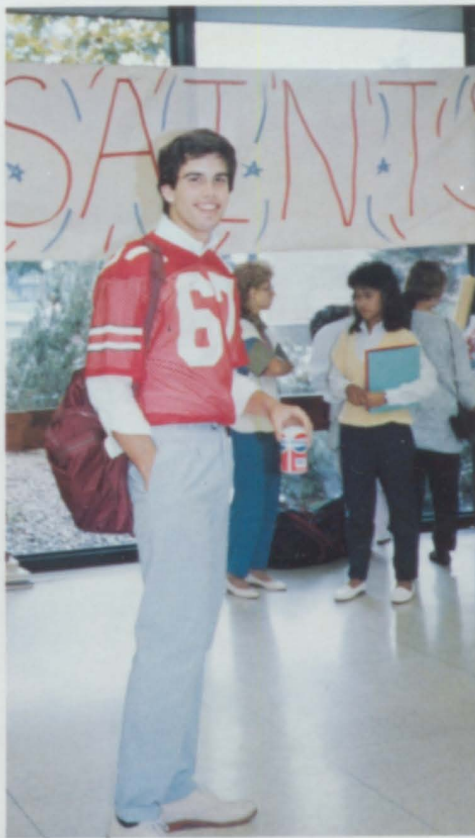

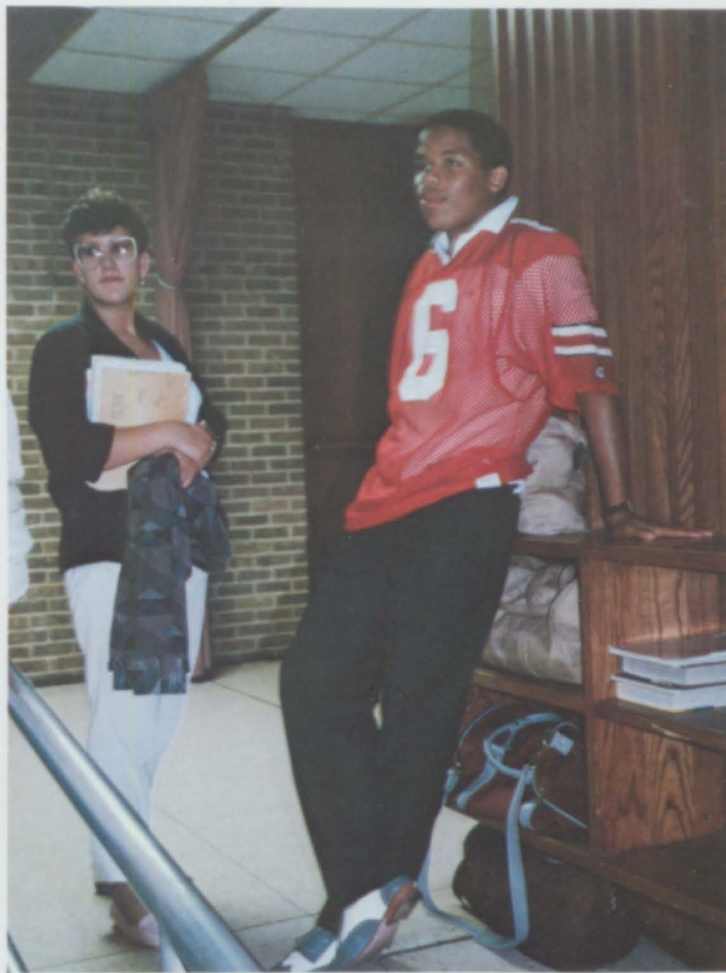

Upon entering an L.C. dance, one can expect to have a high-energy evening. With school favorites such as Senior's "Twist and Shout", Junior's "Walk This Way," Sophomores' "Shout," and Freshman's "Louie, Louie," everyone is sure to hear their favorite tunes. Also, with a few of our favorite school DJs, Anthony Rich, Roman Kniahynyckyj, and Chris Harben, all are bound to have a few laughs. L.C. dances are a time to grow together as a class, take a break from the school atmosphere, and just have a good time. The "together times" with friends are memories that are unique to each individual ... something which makes L.C. "worth looking into."

Students Captured in Candid Moments

We are being very candid when we say we are proud of our student body. And as we see them here, in some candid pictures, you'll notice just how friendly they are to make us so proud of them. (Clockwise from top left) Cindy Chulik, Nancy Kirsch, MaryKay Bukowski, Colleen Kelly, Michelle Leon, and Kelly Kilker stop to greet our camera person, before leaving to face their opponents on the tennis courts. Posing in her band uniform, Paula Sandor says, "I had to wear my 'Monkees' t-shirt or I'd feel underdressed." Bre Bomback and Missy Churchill pause for a moment because AnnMarie Inchaurregui appears to have fallen asleep. Jo Vullo catches Shelly Wilson up on the latest gossip before he leaves for the upcoming game. "I'm part of the 'Pepsi generation'," advertises Gary Butchko. Don't let the smiles fool you ... Michele Leon, MaryKay Bukowski and Nancy Kirsch aren't really thrilled to label all of those yearbook pictures. Yvonne Haight and Ernie Punsalan-the spirit of Senior friendliness. Juggling on the Senior Overnight Retreat-a newly acquired skill thanks to Fr. Dan Nealon. Greg Ferner and Jim Dovin with the hallway strut. A group of Senior guys are gathering to discuss their next modeling job in G.Q. Magazine.

CLASS OF 1990

One of the key words to describe this year's freshman class would have to be "united". I feel this way because the students in the freshman class support each other socially, physically, and academically. There are several examples to prove this. The first is participation as a group at football and basketball games, school activities, and other extracurricular activities. Secondly, in this year's homecoming, we placed third in the float contest with a very untraditional float. Finally, there is the everyday support the classmates give each other to help the ninth grade become a closer knit community.

Another key word that would depict our class would be "determination". The determination to go introduce ourselves to someone on the first day of school is easier said than done. There is also the persistence to overcome the many obstacles of being a ninth grader. Finally, there is the tenacity to represent our class and school without the fear of ridicule.

To sum up our freshman class, I feel we are a blend of spirit, determination, and confidence that will grow as the years go by. We will become wiser, and hopefully make an impact on our school.

CLASS OF 1989

This year's Sophomore class is a well-rounded body of students who have an amazingly high capacity in athletics, academics, fellowship, spirit, and individuality. Our hard work and never ending quest for excellence is best exemplified in our class' homecoming floats, which have taken second place in the past two years. Our spirit and fellowship have shown through in our lead in the spirit points competition. The togetherness of our class as a whole has clearly made us stand out among other classes. Commitment to excellence is clearly our thinking because of the pride we take in every aspect of our scholastic life. Whether it be spiritually, academically or athletically, we strive to be the best. Because of the many leaders in our class we are mature and socially sound. The promising start that our class has had clearly guarantees a successful and beneficial high school career for each student.

CLASS OF 1988

High School can be compared to a marathon. It's an experience that you put everything into, and when you're finished, you have really accomplished something special.

The Junior Class can be compared to the runner. The runner has many God given talents, talents that are perfected during the race. Hard work, dedication, and pride are synonymous to both the runner and his effort to win the race. This is true of the Junior class and our efforts to be the best we can be in highschool.

On our way to the finish line, the class of Eighty-eight has tried to give Lorain Catholic excellence in all aspects of high school life. Academics, sports, clubs and musical interests are some of the areas Juniors have excelled in. Each and every member of our class adds something wonderful not only to our class, but to the school as a whole.

Just like the runner's talents, our class becomes closer with every step of our marathon. Together we will hit our stride and together we will win the race.

Class of 87

For the class of '87, being a Senior meant everything. It was a chance for us to make the spirit and unity formed as underclassmen and combine them into an example of Senior leadership. Four years ago we walked through the doors of LC for the first time as freshmen. Each of us with the same worries and questions going through our heads like, "Will I get lost and make a fool of myself in front of all the upperclassmen?" Freshmen year was a true test of our mental and emotional stability as we mourned the loss of our friend Randy Cavallo, but we stayed united and made it to our sophomore year. For some of us it was the first time we associated with upperclassmen without feeling threatened. As juniors we jumped into the elite club of "upperclassmen." We really put it all together as juniors, showing our spirit, individuality, and unity through our float, attendance at the games, and the Spartan Sunshine Day. Many of us stepped forward as juniors and through our actions showed we wanted to be leaders. This showed greatly in the planning of our prom, "An Evening in Paradise." Now, we're Seniors and we've uncovered more leaders; people who want to make things happen, not let them happen, people who want to help and in turn be helped by fellow classmates. We've earned the respect of the studentbody through this leadership and through the closeness we share with each other. In the years to come, this leadership will help us to achieve success in the future.

Brian Denes receives communion from one of the many celebrants who came to make the Liturgy special. Dan Zaworski and Ed Luby provided musical accompaniment. Giang Nguyen, Ann Haradem and Amy Foisy might be reflecting on Bishop Quinn's words, "Tomorrow's world will be more human and holy only if you penetrate that world with your love." The offertory gifts are presented by Missy DeAngelis, Chris Neffenger, Anita Godlewski, Kathy McKean, Mike Horkey, Dave Chopcinski, Eric Sand and Tom Krupp. Graduates of '87, may "your Faith grow, your Hope deepen, and your Love bear fruit".

Who are these people who create the learning atmosphere at L.C.? They come from all over the area, from different families and cultures, but they come to enlighten students with math, English, chemistry, Spanish, or religion. Sometimes the days at school can become monotonous, but these teachers through projects, "live Frogs", "puppets", or movies make their classes interesting. Through the many subjects, they have helped teach us and form us into young adults. The classes may be forgotten, but the invaluable lessons that we have learned will carry us on through life. These teachers have helped make L.C. worth looking into.

Chaplain of Lorain Catholic

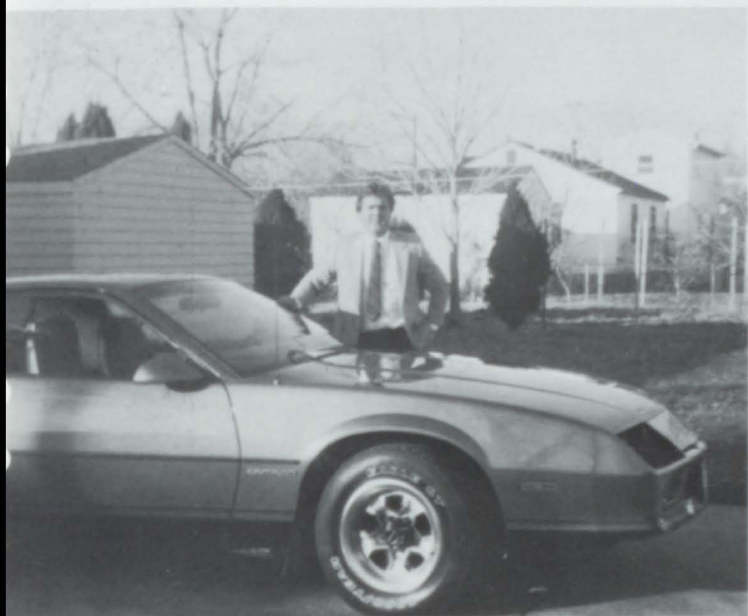

The first Faculty Meeting of the 1986-1987 school year showed the spirit of friendliness and sharing that would make L.C. a school worth looking into.

A guidance counselor who cares, Mrs. Biber helps Senior Amy Izold look for College information.

Obvious isn't it, how happy Baby Roman has made his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cataldo.

It was a special family trip to Epcot center that the Ramseys enjoyed.

Are all of their Faculty Meetings this much fun? Or did Sr. Lucia just tell a good joke.

Mr. Richard Svat just loves the window corner of his office, where he works on development for L.C.

"Ellie Emu" and friend, Miss Rondini share an interesting discussion on the cost of getting married.

What a cute 'honney', What a cute 'Hunny!' — Miss Adamcek and furry friend.

Mrs. Kasprowski with Aubrey, her friendly and faithful Collie.

Discussion, planning, and more discussion, as the Faculty continues to build a better L.C.

Taking time to just 'be' and reflect, Sr. Cordell enjoys a time of quiet at Lakeview Park.

It is hard to tell who admires whom! But the look of love that Father Leo has for his little nephew surely seems to be appreciated.

It is Mr. Lingler and his son, Nick, who really seem to be enjoying one another's company.

"Let's see, what news item of the day can I relate to my Religion class?" asks a happy Mr. Francis.

After a hard day's work, a loving father, Mr. Pogachar, makes sure he has some time for his family.

The star of the Bookstore, Mrs. Zelina, plans her Geometry while waiting for the crowds to come.

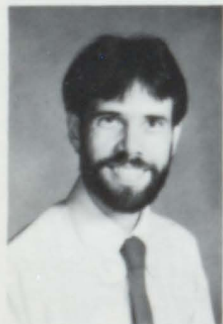

Could it be that the stimulating conversation of Mr. Svat, Mr. Hobart and Mr. Lingler is putting Miss Adamcek to sleep?

Mr. Ruggles, whatever is that little creature you are giving a bath to?

Mrs. and Mr. Paul heading to a Halloween party?

Sitting with her Theology class, Sr. Pat shows there is beauty outside of the classroom.

Mr. Brand makes American History more interesting by adding a touch of his humor.

"This may be Toga Day, but a pencil is still a pencil no matter how we look at it," comments Mr. Cataldo.

Students look on, as Mrs. Paul concentrates on her next strike.

"Any questions?" asks Mr. Lingler while students try to follow along.

An overhead projector is a must for Mrs. Kasproski's Math class.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The 1986-87 Student Government has been the originator of many new traditions. The Marathon Dance proved to be a huge success in raising over $5,000 to help support the Alan Januzzi Home for the mentally retarded. Also, an hour-long adventure movie was presented for the entire student body from Student Government funding. The Spirit Committee held the first All-Fall Sports pep rally, honoring those athletes who often are forgotten during the football season. Not only did it start new traditions, but Student Government renewed old traditions. There were dances for many occasions, blood banks, and food drives. This group was unique and creative, making the school year interesting while holding on to traditions and initiating new ones.

The Executive Board meets before the school year begins to discuss the calendar of events.

Right: "Jane, I told you to dance lightly on your feet — not heavily on mine!", exclaims Al Volak.

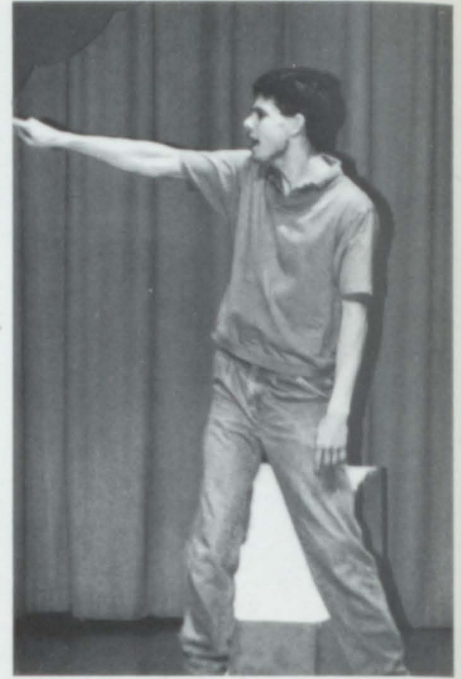

Clockwise from top left: Sue Balzer begs Chris Rowell not to go down into the sewer and risk being made into ground chuck. Missy Churchill's expression tells us Chris Potts forgot to "brush his breath with Dentyne." Jane Wagner shows Roman Kniahynyckyj and Al Volak the cool way to wear a baseball hat. The Charlie Brown cast and Crew take a moment to pose for a picture during dress rehearsal. "What was that you called me?", asks Denise Vargas before she slugs Roman Kniahynyckyj. Al Volak steers his Sopwith Camel toward the Red Baron, decked out in his World War I flying gear.

The cast tells Roman Kniahynyckyj (Above), "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown!" Brian McDermott shouts to the cast, "Hey, all you over there, get over here right now!" (But of course, no one is listening to Brian). Denise Vargas, Al Volak, Jane Wagner and Brian McDermott console Roman Kniahynyckyj while Dino Sansotta (alias Snoopy) wonders why there's a bug in his dog food.

(Above) GOOD GRIEF! It's the Seniors' last play! Thanks for a job well done, and good luck while you 'break a leg.' (Upper right) "Maybe we should have practiced this number a few more times?" (Right) Charlie Brown (Roman) seeks the help of Lucy (Denise Vargas).

The cast (Top left Clockwise) tells us that "Happiness is anyone or anything at all that's loved by you." Peppermint Patty (Jane Wagner) tells Snoopy (Dino Santotta) it's time for rabbit chasing. Linus (Al Volak) and Schroeder (Brian McDermott) discuss the answer of "Dr. Seuss" that Linus gave to Mrs. Othmar's form questions. Peppermint Patty? (Yep! This time it is Kathleen Lesner and Becky Hobson as Snoopy.) Lovable Lucy (Played by Kathleen Stipe) caught the ball as "easy as pie" . . . then dropped it. So what else is new? Lovable Lucy (This time it's Denise Vargas) draws Linus' attention to the bird in the sky, the "Turkey Eagle".

"You're good people!"

MONOLITH STAFF

If it weren't for our faithful copy writers like Chris Neffenger we would be at a "loss for words". Angie Weaver and Nancy Kirsch (Left) spent many long hours on putting those underclassmen pages together. Rich Good (Below) grew into quite a darkroom man!

Small — but mighty! Many hours of work that few will ever know about, were put in by this MONOLITH staff. Outer circle (Lower Left) clockwise: Mary Kay Bukowski, Barb Mociolek, Chris Neffenger, Cindy Kordelski, Bill Damm, Dawn Kessler, Natalie Rich, Angie Weaver, Denise Dudziak. (Innercircle) Rachel Sperko, Nancy Kirsch, Michelle Leon, Ray Good, Brian Milovich, Colleen Kelly, Rich Good. (Not pictured: Chris Drop, Sue Balzer).

Adviser ... Typist ... Photographer ... Sr. Cordell ... Adviser ... Writer ...

Unless you've been there ... No one really realizes just how much work goes into putting a yearbook together. It is pretty much a behind-the-scenes job. There are no spotlights, no performances, no big presentations, no applause, just a day-by-day working away at all that makes up a yearbook. It takes a certain kind of person to stick with yearbook. The individual must be generous, resilient, adaptable, self-sacrificing and have a strong measure of patience and humor. Above all, the individual has to appreciate the value of personal satisfaction. We have several of these individuals on this staff. Their names are listed at the back of the book. The book is their creativity, their hard work, their long hours, all those things that you can't even imagine need to be done for a yearbook, unless you've been there ...

Sr. Cordell

"Give me a push!" screams Kelly Danevich.

"Forget it, I've decided to become a chicken!" says Jeff Crowell.

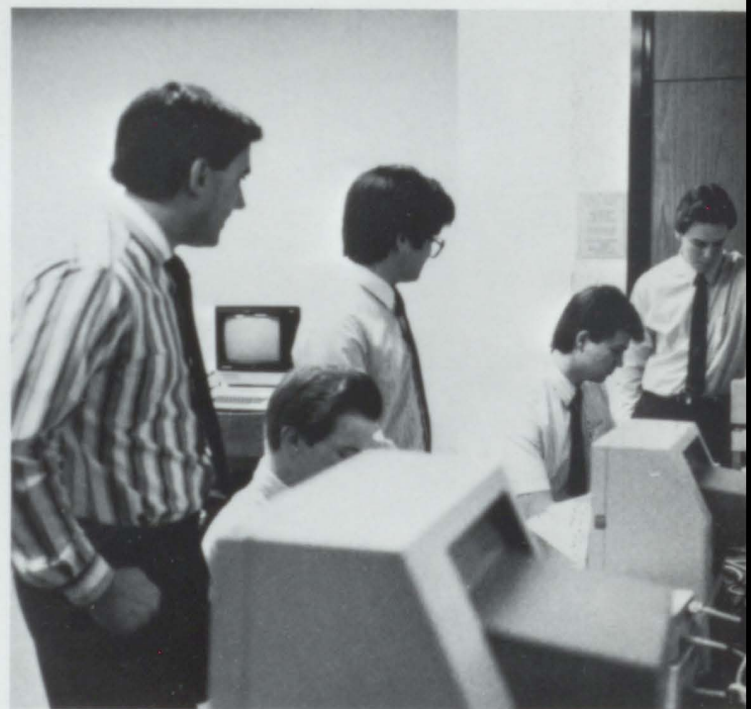

COMPUTER CLUB

Chau Nguyen is debating whether or not to tell Ralph Osting that the main problem is that he forgot to turn on the Computer. It does make it a bit difficult to handle.

Tom Olak, Chau and David Racculia stand by as Dean Kelble and Ralph Osting try out their programs.

"Turn Back, O Man" is Denise Vargas' warning to the wayward.

Men's voices add a certain balance to the choir performances, and we appreciate our men for sharing their voice talent!

Under Miss Milicia's direction, the Choir shared their talents to enhance the many school liturgies, as they did at Christmas time.

It is hard to sing with your mouth closed. Maybe someone should tell Brad Werely . . .

Were it not for those numerous practices, little music would be learned.

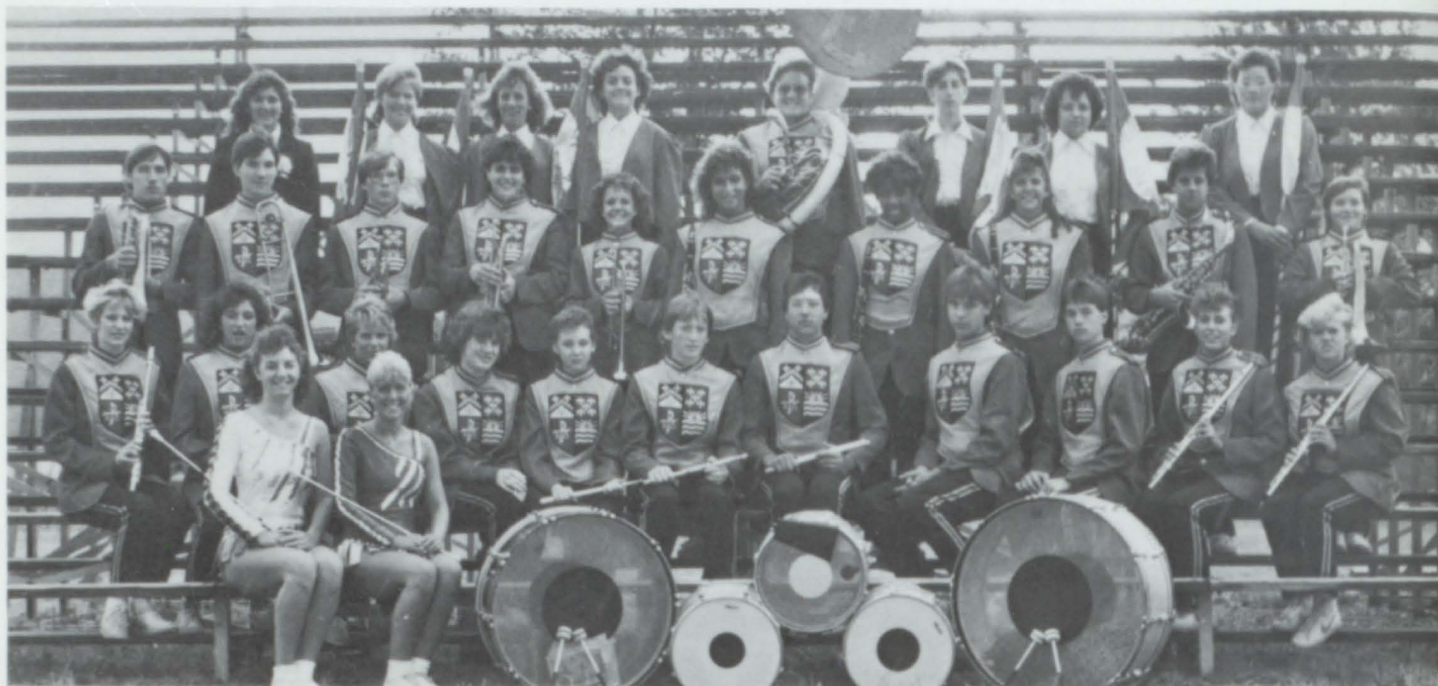

Okay, Chris, you're in the spotlight now. Go for it!

Christy Hemminger and other choir members try to master the new music.

Spartan Marching Band-A Show in Itself!

Senior members of Marching Band — Amy Izold, Mary Arra, Paul Kerpics, Paula Sandor (Bottom) Mike Walton, Brian Milovich, Frank Leon, Dan Drda

Little Dan Drda come blow your horn — a Spartan victory is sure to be born!

"No, Kelly Danevich, don't follow Jane Wagner-she's going the wrong way!"

The Spartan Drum Corps and the Varsity Cheerleaders jam to the S-P-A-R-T-A-N beat.

And now it's time for the Majorette Morning Workout Aerobics with your hostesses, Mary Arra and Amy Izold.

Lorie Mittendorf, Kathyne Buckley, Nicole Izold, (Bottom L-R) Barbara Hunyad, Meredith Washio and Shannon Sweeney show their enthusiasm at the thought of having only 30 more hours of Flag Corps to go.

"All right, everyone, let's keep in time," signals Paula Sandor, Field Commander for the Marching Show Band, as they head down Tower Boulevard.

The Marching Spartan Showband performs for the home crowd.

(Counterclockwise from above) Senior Amy Izold twirls faster than the speed of light. "Karen Fox, the clarinets are on the other side!" A few Varsity cheerleaders show the crowd how to "jam" to the S-P-A-R-T-A-N beat of the drum corp.

Pep Band & Orchestra

The Mad drummers, Brian Milovich and Ray Good try real hard not to look enthusiastic about Pep Band performances. But we all know better. We know that this group of individuals could get the crowd really going strong at games and rallies, by the upbeat sound of their music. It was hard to sit still when this group got going. Rhythm was their middle name. And a slightly different style of music, through the musical talents of the Orchestra, gave us many hours of concert enjoyment. Good job, L.C. musicians!

Concert Band — Musical Moments

The Concert Band stands for a much deserved applause after their concert performance.

Paula Sandor, Loni Mramor, Lisa Gallo and Paul Stauder create some lovely music.

Check the "pucker power" of this orchestra!

One wonders if Miss Milicia might be saying "Hey, you with the tuba, are you a 'Pepper' too?"

"Come on, guys, be happy . . . "How Much is That Doggie in the Window" is such a snappy tune!" (Below) The baton comes up and the music begins. Way to go, Miss Milicia!

Our "Little Drummer Boy" Ray Good, rum-pa-pums at the Christmas concert.

Sports Worth Showing

Varsity Football

"Nobody can stop me now. I'm going all the way!" yells Dante Wilson. Bobby Bayus (right) pleads, "I sure hope somebody catches this!"

The L.C. coaching staff (Jeff Coughlin, Mr. Hobart, Mr. Brand, Mr. Kremer) say that happiness is coaching football.

"Now what am I supposed to do?" questions Steve Ciesla. (Journal Photo)

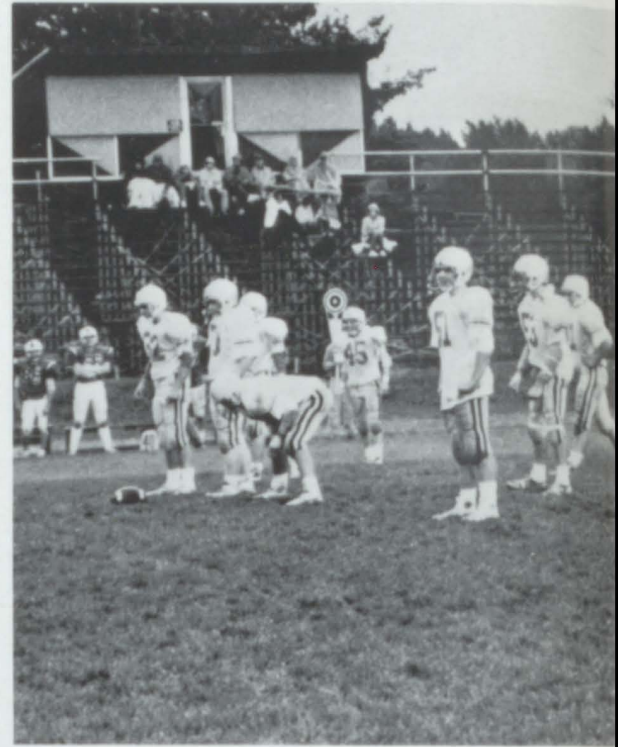

Tom Krupp tells the opponent, "Go ahead, make my day." (Left) Defensively, Gino Silvestri and Tom Krupp stop Gilmore from scoring.

J. V. & Freshman Football

No matter what the team, no matter who the opponent, no matter what the score, there is a certain L.C. pride that always comes through . . . And why not! These teams put in a lot of hard work, lots of hours of practice, and on the game days or nights, lots of individual and team effort. Oh, maybe we wish the performances had been more sensational, but what makes L.C. sensational is the spirit of its students. And we're mighty proud of that!

Spartan Soccer

Beating Dave Richards to the ball, Mike Sison prepares for another awesome kick past the opponent. (Right) Marco Sansotta displays some quick moves before moving down the field.

Bob Bury sets up a play so Marco Sansotta can move in for another point.

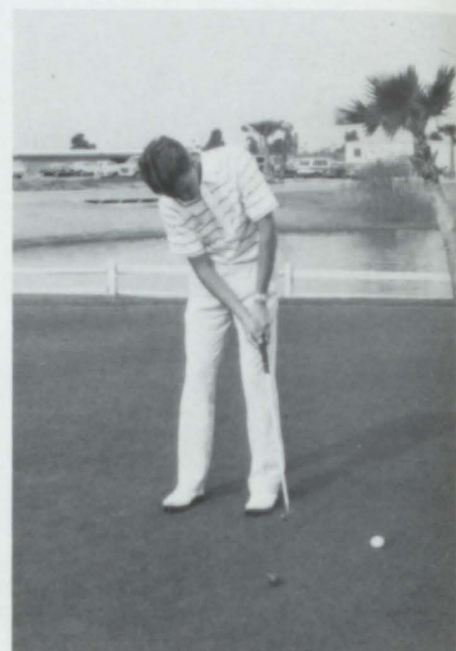

Mike Sison has that look of determination while waiting down field for his opponents.

Marco Sansotta and Dave Richards guard their challengers as their teammates bring the ball to the goal.

A Season of Glory

The game of golf relies on skill, sound concentration, personal confidence, finesse, patience and especially practice. Where one shot can result in fame, another can spell disaster. Golf demands hours of daily individual practice so as to develop a repetitious, smooth, reliable swing. Built on experience and superior talent, the 1986 Varsity Golf Squad at Lorain Catholic prided themselves on extensive practice, self-confidence and teamwork. All six members of the Varsity team set common team and personal goals and worked diligently to achieve them. The team cause ultimately resulted in a 21-2 season. Going into a match, the team's self esteem was always positive of victory, expecting nothing but the best.

Many thanks are extended to coach Jim Francis, who over the past four years has developed our golfing experience, expertise and self esteem. Mr. Francis was the center of our success, always there to shine light on disappointment and to help us learn from our mistakes.

The Varsity team defeated AAA Vermilion for the first time in nine years. It took 2nd in the L.C. A.A.A. tourney, took third in the District Championship, 4th in the Regional Championship, (with a near miss to the State Championship), and achieved the best record of independent golf teams in Lorain County and Northeast Ohio.

The team extends a warm thanks to all the enthusiastic supporters of this past season. We, Jim, Rob and Ted, were all proud to be a part of the great golfing tradition at Lorain Catholic and wish nothing but the best to the team of the future. Good Luck team of 1987!

Here comes Matt Benton! This man has determination!

Steve Kapalin wears the look of concentration, to beat out the other runners.

Spartans Serve Up Spirit

Anita Godlewski S-T-R-E-T-C-H-E-S to hit the ball, and add in those points.

Could it be that Kelly doesn't like the call? (Below) Cheering on the JVs.

A real juggling act for Laura Pogachar, and a lot of skill too!

Marsha Rock (Rocky) says "Hi". (Below) "Yes, Sherri, that is a volleyball!"

JV Gets the Dig

Amy Foisy and Yvonne Haight wave to the fans.

Brian McDermott gets ready to run backup for Mike Sison.

Tennis Talent

Seriously, we know what we're doing!!

Maybe a hug would make me feel a little bit better, says Colleen Kelly.

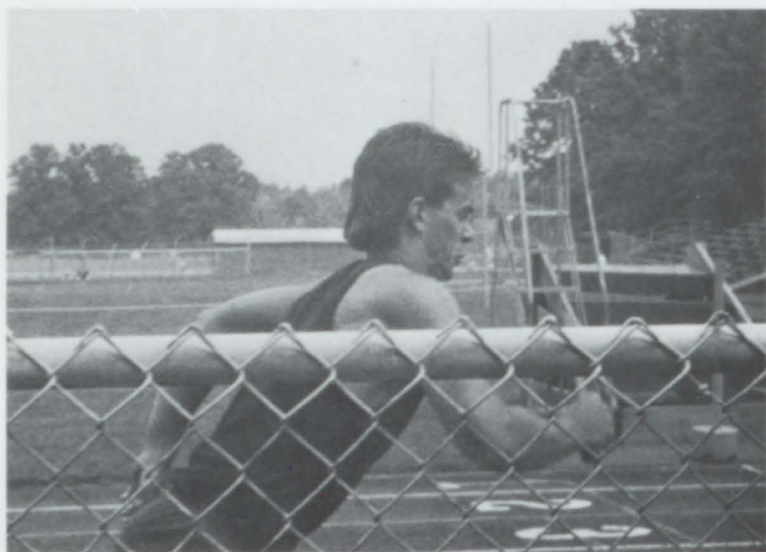

One swift swat from Chris Neffenger and the ball goes flying.

"I guess you're supposed to hold the racket something like this," demonstrates Michelle Leon.

Spartan Track Stars

Tom Krupp — concentration at its max!

Dan Drda, don't sleep now in the relay!

(Bottom clockwise) Matt Benton grits his teeth and races full speed ahead. Matt Benton heads to the finish line with team members looking on. Chris Potts puts all his muscles to work as he races to success. Wait, Ray Good, Dan Drda is trying to catch up with you!

Love that music! At least Dian Heider, Katheryne Buckley and Shannon Sweeney in their stereo-pose seem to.

(Above L-R) Sharon Kapalin, we just know you are heading for an award . . . Kathy Lesner, do you find a certain power with that slight bodyframe? . . . Okay, Anita, we know that you keep your eyes on the future and all those goals. We are proud of all your many accomplishments and records set at L.C. Go for it, Anita!

Varsity Takes a Shot!

It seems Bruce Batista is taking time out to show the latest Spartan strut to the crowd.

Rob Grochocki taking time to get a breather.

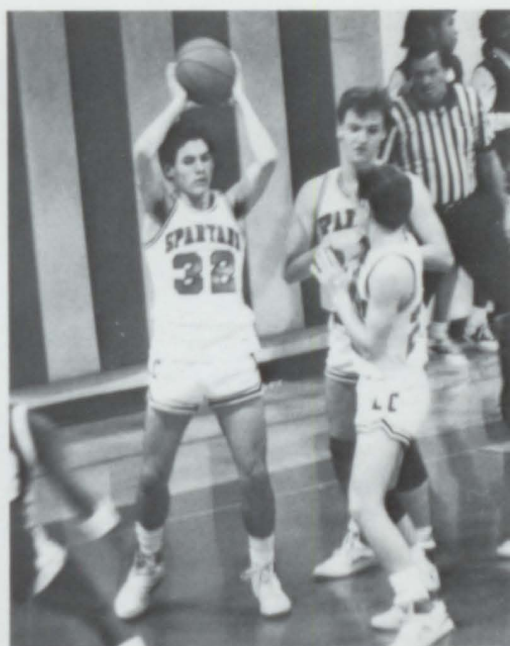

Taking a flying leap — Bastock style.

A pep talk from Rob Grochocki to the L.C. student body, while Bruce Batista reflects on the message.

Bob Salkowitz is fighting his way through the traffic.

Bryan Marsh looks for help as he keeps the ball away from the opponents.

Bruce, don't hit him, just throw the ball!

J.V. Basketball

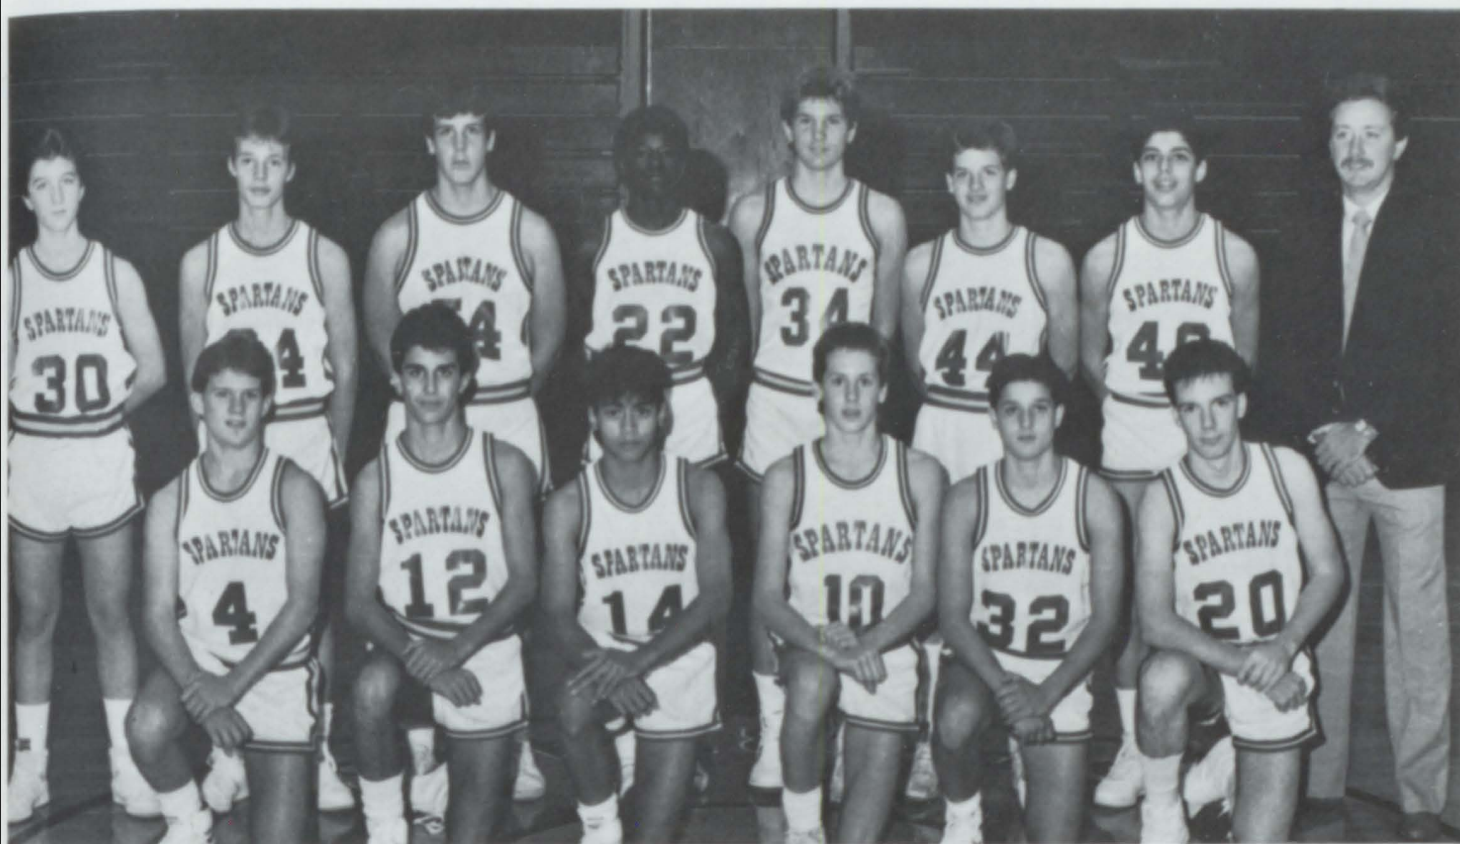

Mr. Pogachar, Coach, John Finnerty, Glenn Konowal, Ray Washio, Pat O'Hara, Joe Russ, Brad Werely (Front) Joe Notarberardino, Ken Zapolski, PJ Newbert, Lenny Torres, Bob Bury, Al Volak.

Frosh Basketball

Mr. T (Terrence Tilford) aims for the hoop. (Middle) "Eric, you're supposed to dribble the ball, not chase it!"

The In-Between Moments

A yearbook tries to cover all the significant events of the year, all the activities and clubs, the Faculty, and the traditional class photos. But there are some in-between moments that just don't fall into any particular category. On these two pages, we capture just a few of those in-betweens, realizing that they are myriad in number and individuals.

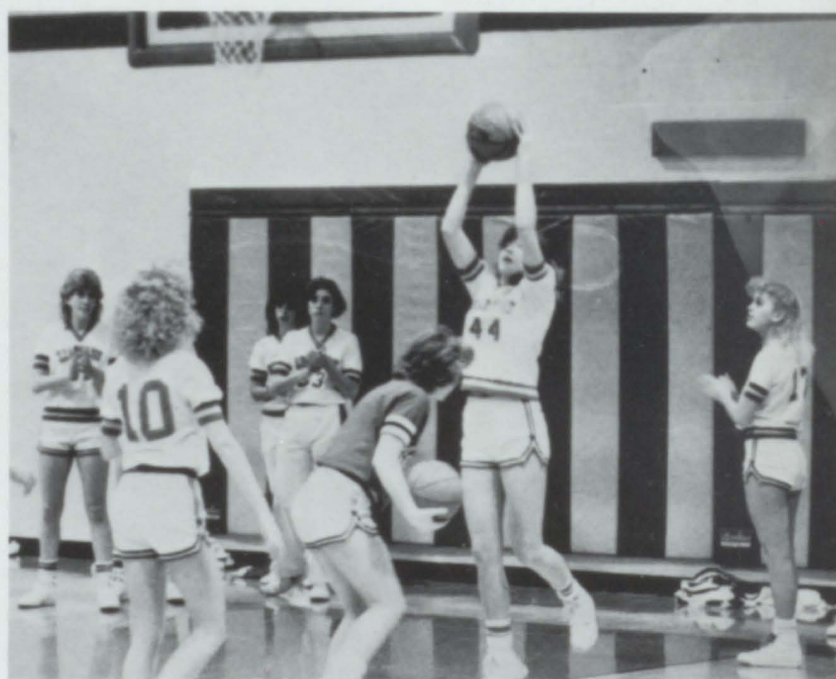

Girls Varsity Basketball

The team applauds Sherri Klinar's poise as she does a piroette with the basketball. (Left) Anita Godlewski reaches out to grab the ball away from that '#40'.

J.V. Basketball — a Happy Team

Varsity and JV Softball

Bridget, hit a homerun!

It's Allison Sofranko racing for an awesome catch!

Honors and Awards

Rose Anne Anthony and Scot Zemperi display their awards for recognition of outstanding students in Grade 9 Religion.

Our Principal, Sr. Lucia hands out Academic excellence awards to Fran Tibbitts, Laura Pogachar (Below) Cindy Kordelski, Amy Litkovitz and Chau Nguyen come forward to receive their pins. (Bottom) Tina Lopez admires Tina Miller's determination in getting a letter out of Mr. Brand.

Shannon Sweeney is really pleased to get her "Most Improved in Track" award, while Scott Havrilla and Mike Zelina look on in admiration.

Varsity Baseball

J.V. Baseball

Vince DeAngelis leads towards homeplate.

Vince DeAngelis takes a powerful swing. Vince, where's the bat?

It's Vince Notarberardino rounding the bases. Way to go, Vince!

Mike Pearl checks out the situation before coming up to bat.

Could this be Jerry Mucha sliding in for a run? (Above Left) Jerry, this is no time for chatting with Vince! Joe Notarberardino tries the Spartan stroll.

L.C. Students Coming Together for a Cause

Students dancing for a cause

LORAIN — Lorain residents can watch 130 Lorain Catholic High School students dancing the evening away tomorrow on Lorain Cable Channel 36.

The youngsters will put on their dancing shoes from 8 p.m.

tomorrow till 8 a.m. the next morning, to raise money for the Bartlome Home for the physically handicapped.

The marathon dance will be telecast from 9 p.m. to 10:15 p.m. tomorrow. Callers may call in with their pledges at 282-8216 today, tomorrow or during the course of the dance. Money from the dance will benefit the Bartlome Home for physically handicapped adults, which is currently being built in South Amherst.

About 130 students have signed up for the marathon. Each student has raised a minimum $25 pledge, a spokesperson for the school said.

The Bartlome Home, which is being built by St. Francis Residential Living Inc., is scheduled to open in June. The home will house eight adult residents, said Al Januzzi, founder and trustee of St. Francis Residential Living Inc., a non-profit, privately funded organization.

Signing in was the first of many "steps" for the Dance Marathon evening. The evening DJ's, Anthony Rich and Roman Kniahynyckyj (below left) get their sound board ready, while Chris Neffenger (Middle) and Al Januzzi take delight in the program listing of sponsors and helpers. And then the dancing begins for L.C. students 'with a heart for others'. (Far right) Dian Heider, Renee Step and Sharon Kapalin "Rock Around the Clock".

(Clockwise from Top Right) Heather Miller, Theresa Neuhoff, Maureen Bury and Christina Lopez "Twist and Shout". Jennifer Ksenich and Hallie Wright pretend their feet really don't hurt. It's called checking the record sheets as students come on and off the dance floor — the job of Matt Willard, Christine Costello, Paula Sandor and Chris Rowell. Sheila Kodman, Ann Haradem, and Missy DeAngelis do the twist. Students do the "boogie-woogie". Students dance "To the Beat of the Rhythm of the Night". It's called, "Walk like an Egyptian."

Some L.C. students danced so energetically they became a blur of movement. But for all who came, it was one "fun" evening (evening into morning, that is!). Congratulations to the Student Government, Advisors, and Studentbody for a great success! Over $5000 was collected — now that's L.C. Spirit!

Coming Together Because . . .

... studying with a friend (Anita Godlewski & Chad Reed) is fun to do.

... you can be crazy with friends, (like Ray Good, Matt Benton, Brian Milovich and Frank Leon) or you can help each other out like Mrs. Freeman's class does (Left).

... because Mr. Brand loves a classroom full of students ...

... gathering for a team rally gives a chance to see friends who follow other schedules. (Clockwise from top right) ... teaching guests to become good fishermen in Home Living is a challenge as Lynn Elwell, Angie Sepulveda, Moe Burns and Samantha Dolinsky soon learned ... Mrs. Kasprowski's homeroom is a fun place to gather ... Cafeteria food is more palatable when shared with the company of friends (where are they, Bill?) ... all the Fall Sports athletes were honored at a pep rally.

... during Spirit Week, Spartan friends become "twins" for a day to double the fun ... (Below) A happy three — Brian Denes, Steve Ciesla and Dan Katiba ... L.C. fans cheering up a storm

... it's neat to check out what others are wearing as Amy Neffinger, Celeste Durnwald and Jamie Lines seem to be doing ... you can be comfortable dressing 'differently' when others do the same as Kelly Kilker and Chris Benton can support ... that's what happens when everyone departs after a long day of classes.

"We've Got Tonight"

This year's Prom was held at the recently renovated Antler's Hotel Ballroom. Music provided by the band, Eclipse, turned the magic moments into a night worth remembering. May 16, 1987 will be a time of special memory as these pages recall.

Spreading a Little Sunshine

Bre Bomback and Kristen Moore are the only ones who find the camera more interesting than the action of the indoor games. (Right) Aaron Hayes auctions off another teacher item.

Christina Lopez and Chris McNulty pile more surprises into Pat O'Hara's arms.

Gina Bennett buys Fr. Leo's mystery gift (it was a camera!) at the annual teacher auction.

The infamous "I survived Mr. Reddy's Class" t-shirt is admired by Heather Cassidy and Dominique Fior and ? ...

Bruce Batista leads the Seniors as they show the underclassmen how to "skin the snake."

Sr. Cordell is "caught" capturing the action on Spartan Sunshine Day.

Now what do you suppose Mr. Cataldo, Mr. Macholl, Mr. Hobart, Mr. Pogachar and Mrs. Paul are concentrating on? Games ... or Summer?

Leading his class to win the "skin the snake" contest, Gary Butchko gives that winner's look of confidence.

Jeff McNulty doesn't seem to understand why others aren't joining him in his cheerleading.

The indoor games hold the Seniors and Juniors attention.

Paula Sandor mumbles, "Take the lifesaver already," to classmate, Mary Arra.

Gino Silvestri and Yvonne Haught wonder just how Sean Champe can fit under the bar during the limbo contest.

Lenny Torres looks for that last drop, while Belinda Willard and Erica Brown discuss the day's events.

Spartans' break time. (Above middle) Chris Benton & Nainesh Shah discuss the 'fun' of Senior Year, as Nainesh says farewell and Chris says "Here we go".

The end of another Spartan Day. (Clockwise) Mary Arra gives Loni Mramor a supportive hug as they reminisce about other Spartan Sunshine Days and how quickly time goes by. Senior, Amy Izold shares some insights with Sophomore, Laura Pogachar. More of the Spartan gang gathered around to soak up some rays. A rather 'unique' reaction to school's almost being out. Gathered into greatness — in sharing friendships. Dan Zaworski, Bruce Batista, Jenny Godley and Mary Arra wait for the signal to begin the tug-a-war contest, but Bill Hayes and Shelly Wilson are distracted — again. Well, the weather was great, the games and auction were fun and the Spartans were and are, the "Sunshine" of L.C.!
