Time for classes

Time for sports

As the seconds ticked away, each formed a small part of our lives which can never be regained. Each was used to advance our knowledge, our happiness or our friendships. Someday these seconds will be recaptured by memories.

We strived to receive an education which would help us achieve our future goals. We learned the subjects which would be useful to us for the rest of our lives. We slowly learned how useful education would be to us.

The times for happiness are so numerous in a student's life. We were happy when we did well in school and our work was rewarded. Assemblies were presented for our enjoyment and enlightenment. We had fun at dances and showed our never dying spirit at sports. We basked in the reflected glory when our teams did well.

Through the year we've made new friendships and renewed the old ones. Our classes did things together, as each year the classmates become closer.

Someday, all these things will be memories. The Seniors made the most of this year, for soon their high school career will be only memories.

The 1959-60 Leader has been designed to capture the moments of work, happiness and fun and preserve them for remembrance. It is a record of the classes, activities, sports and life of Brookside 1959-60.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

For twenty-nine years Mr. William Barr has been a familiar figure at Brookside. First as a teacher, then a principal, and now as superintendent of the Sheffield Lake Local Schools.

To those who know him, however, he is more than that. He is a friend to each student, parent and faculty member.

Although his duties are many and his schedule is busy, he still takes time to listen to what the students have to say. Brookside, to Mr. Barr, does not just contain a student body--it contains individual students, and he tries to take a personal interest in each one.

The schools are not just run with rules; they are run with co-operation, kindness, and the wish to make each of his students a success in life.

Is it any wonder, then, that all of the students, alumni, and faculty members think so highly of this man who has given so much of himself to help them?

PRINCIPAL

A MESSAGE TO THE STUDENTS

Why are you attending Brookside High School? Each of you should ask yourself this question. There are about 5% of the students who would answer "because we have to."

But what about the other 95%? Why are you in school? I sincerely hope that the main reason is to acquire the basic skills and knowledge that will enable you to live a more complete and fruitful life regardless of your particular vocational choice. Although you are not yet prepared to choose a specific vocation in your freshman and sophomore years, you still should not fail to keep in mind that your scholarship, service, moral and spiritual values will follow you in any vocation.

Have you asked the person on the other side of the mirror whether he's carrying his full share of the load so that Brookside High School can give you all that you should receive as one of its students?

Wayne Whyte

ENGLISH

One of the most important subjects taught in school is English, and at Brookside there is no exception to the rule. Mrs. Norma Garber, besides her English, journalism and composition classes, found time to be librarian, Y-Teen advisor, publications advisor and junior class sponsor. Mrs. Dora Mae Killen taught girls' phys. ed. and English and was both G.A.A. and sophomore class advisor. The Junior class thrived under the leadership of John Marker.

SCIENCE — MATH

Preparing students to be future scientists is the aim of the science and math department. Mr. Robert Beno, freshman advisor, taught algebra, general math and plane geometry. Mr. Leroy Pryor instructed students in physics, algebra II, trig, solid geometry and business arithmetic besides being senior advisor and sponsor of F.T.A. Boys' phys. ed., biology and general science were taught by Mr. "Bob Bill" Lowry, sophomore advisor and football coach. The freshman class was led by Mr. Roy Provins who also informed the students in matters of speech, chemistry, and general science.

Mr. Richard Sutton served as guidance instructor for the past year, as well as advising the freshman class and Knights Of Senior Hi-Y. Mrs. Lena Gratchen spent a busy year teaching shorthand, typing, selling and bookkeeping. Latin and home economics were taught by Mrs. Jane Knorek. Mr. Robert Telatnik instructed students in shop and mechanical drawing and assisted in coaching the basketball and football teams. Driver training and shop were classes taught by Mr. Dick Sevits who also served as baseball and basketball coach.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Social science was an important part of the school curriculum this past year. Mr. John Verbanek managed to find time to be freshman and Student Council advisor besides teaching govt., sociology, French, and Spanish. World history, American history and World geography students gained knowledge under the instruction of Mr. Willard Smith who also sponsored the Squire Hi-Y.

MUSIC

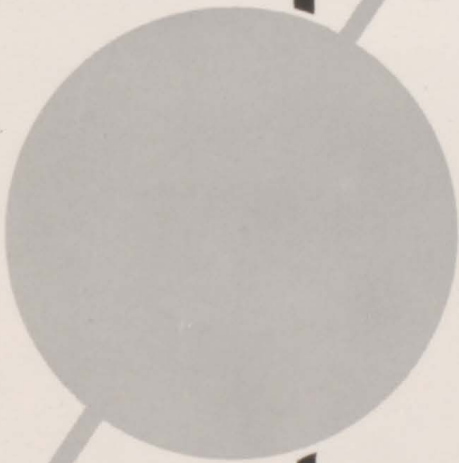

Music students thrived under the leadership of our two directors, Mr. Karl Kolinski, instrumental director, produced a fine band. Chorus and glee club were led by Mr. Douglas Russell. We can be proud of all three organizations.

OFFICE STAFF

The office staff, composed of Mrs. Ruth Barr and Mrs. Mary Maticic, had a very busy year.

Recently added to the staff was Mrs. Greenwood.

The members of the class of 1960 have found themselves at the end of their high school days. The years have gone too swiftly for them, and it's hard to believe that they're ready to graduate. Some will go to college, others will work; but they will all be more on their own than ever before.

As their last days approach, they find themselves remembering the years they've spent at Brookside, learning, and growing fond of her well-worn floor her familiar rooms and her boards dusty with chalk.

They were important. This was their year to remember.

"Grandad Steps Out," a comedy, the play presented by the senior class.

Skip Jackson portrayed an old man with various ailments which had kept him invalid for many years. When an old friend, Warren Davies, came to town and wanted Grandad to go to a reunion, they had to conceive a plan to get him out of the house.

The maid, Beth Kennedy, came to their rescue, and together they schemed against Jane Jeffreys, Grandad's daughter, who had run his life during his illness.

When Grandad's grandchild came to visit, the play became hilarious as Kip, Andy White, asked a girl for a date, and she turned out to be triplets. His sister, played by Joann Bucci, then became interested in the triplets' brother, Steve Klemen.

Others in the cast included Pat Carson, Bill Johnson, Dayle Ramser, Gayle Ramser, Stephanie Nehls, and Jo Ann Toth.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The problem uppermost in the minds of the juniors was, of course, funds for the prom. A Sock hop, magazine sales, and the concessions at both football and basketball games plus their play helped them in their endeavor.

SENIOR CHORUS

The Senior Chorus, also called the Concert Choir, set a new precedent over the years of choral music at Brookside.

Mr. Douglas Russell, the choral director, has many new ideas for the improvement of the chorus. As a reward for his hard work, he has gained the respect of the students and faculty for both himself and his choir.

Participation in the pep rallies and assemblies were a few of the many activities undertaken by the choral group. Also presented were several Christmas programs, a performance for the P.T.A., and a Spring concert.

Officers: Phyllis Skeen, Pres.; Jim McCreery, V. Pres.; Judy Livingston, Sec.-Treas.

This year for the first time a freshman chorus has been added to our curriculum. Under the able direction of Mr. Douglas Russell, pupils having no choral experience are quickly learning the complex world of music. These students joined with the concert choir have given many programs during the year, both for the student body and for the P.T.A.

Presenting the Leader this year was a race against time. Meeting deadlines and producing pictures on schedule were only two of the problems which confronted the staff. However, with the invaluable help of Mr. Pete Prenter, representative from our publisher, Mrs. Gratchen and Mrs. Garber, our advisors, and Mr. Michaels, our photographer, the staff has produced the 1960 Leader. It is our hope that the student body will enjoy it.

This year was a revelation as far as the newspaper staff was concerned. During the first semester our newly-born journalism class got the "ball rolling" by soliciting ads (in greater number than in any previous year) and sponsoring such money-raising projects as the "Show of Shows" to further the paper's goal of selfsupport. The class wrote and edited the first three series of the Cardinal Courier.

The regular staff (not of the journalism class) continued the work through the second semester and, after more money-raising projects, produced the last three issues of the paper for B.H.S. Students.

The Knights of Hi-Y had two main projects this year. The first was the annual Minstrel Show, the proceeds of which were given to a worthwhile world service. The second was to pay the cost of a new intercom system or to buy dark shades and a projector for a room which will be set aside for educational movies. This plan was indefinite.

Delegates from Brookside's Hi-Y participated in the "Youth in Government" program at Columbus, Ohio, for the sixth straight year.

Their activities were: sending two delegates to the National Conference in New York and Washington, a style show, a sock hop and the annual Turnabout Dance.

Although it is a newly formed club, the Squire Hi-Y has been very active. Not only did they aid the Senior Hi-Y in their candy sale and minstrel show, but on their own they sent two representatives to the Model Legislature in Columbus, Ohio, sold Programs at all football and basketball games and donated money to U.N.I.C.E.F.

We are sure this club has a definite future at Brookside.

They took trips to Ridgeville, Amherst, and Avon Lake schools, visited Baldwin Wallace College, and attended several County Teachers Meetings.

One of the greatest honors bestowed upon any high school student is membership in the National Honor Society. Receiving the honor this year were senior, Ron Reith, and juniors, Mary Anne Izold, Sharon Gubeno, Frank Elkovich, and Judith Smith.

The inspiring induction services were led by the senior members who were inducted last year. Daniel Opfer acted as chairman, Steve Klemen spoke about Character, Rachel Caley about Service, and William Johnson about Leadership.

Membership is decided on the merits of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. Only those students who are outstanding in these qualities are chosen.

Mrs. Garber and Mrs. Knorek served as the advisors for the society once again this year.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming, never before held at Brookside, was begun here this past school year. Sponsored by the sophomore class, the ceremony was held at the season's biggest game. Avon, our greatest rival, was the opponent that night.

Miss Linda Greenoe, senior, was chosen by the school's football team to reign as queen. Others chosen were Jane Jeffreys, senior attendant; Judy Nelson, junior attendant; Linda Gornall, sophomore; and Jackie Jones, freshman.

During the half-time festivities, the queen was presented with a bouquet of white mums and red roses. Doug Urig, captain of the team for the night, then placed a tiara of gold and pearls on her head. Each of the attendants received corsages of white mums.

The following evening the queen and her court again received flowers when they reigned over a dance in the Brookside High School gymnasium.

FOOTBALL

Brookside's football team retained its hold on the Inland Conference football crown for the third straight year by becoming Co-Champs with Avon.

Mr. Robert Lowry, the Cardinal's new head coach, was pleased with this year's team. He stated that 100 per cent effort along with excellent material, desire, and sportsmanship were the chief factors contributing to the Co-championship season.

The team's accomplishment of seventeen consecutive wins over three seasons is a record for the Inland Conference. The team placed eight men on the Inland Conference "Dream Team." The members were Dan Opfer, Doug Urig, Andy White, Stan Pliska, and Steve Klemen on the first team and Bill Johnson, Warren Davies, and Jeff Warnicke received honorable mention.

BASKETBALL

Coach Dick Sevits and his Cardinal basketballers can lay claim to a season of bad breaks and heartbreak. On several occasions the Cards looked like the county powerhouse, displaying amazing prowess on the hardwood. Other times, however, through bad calls by the officials and a few miscues by the boys, the team just didn't have the needed push to win. Coach Sevits feels that with a few more breaks and fewer mistakes, the Cards could have had a winning season.

The Brookside Reserves, coached by Bob "Zip" Telatnik, also had their share of hard knocks this season. Handicapped by lack of boys willing to participate in basketball, Telatnik concentrated on developing his boys into varsity material for next year.

Although they will lose most of their material through graduation, the two coaches hope that the underclassmen will make up for the losses and come back with a winning season.

The big question this spring is will the 1960 Brookside Cardinal baseball team be able to repeat the great season of the preceding year. The nine returning players and a fine crop of eligible boys will more than cover the loss of four players by graduation. Coach Dick Sevits' hopes have been bolstered by predictions of a State title for the Cards by local newspapers. With the student body behind them the team is eager to fulfill these expectations.
