Fall

A perfect picture for the perfect night! Joel Decker and date Jackie Ronyak (right) were among the many couples that got all dressed up for a great time at one of the most anticipated events of the year.

WILD NIGHTS!

The crowning of Queen Kelly Vodicka and King Marc Smith (above) started the evening on a royal note.

Sophomore Jeannette Poruban (below) shows that it is not uncommon for marching band members to catch up on their sleep during half-time performances. We would never know it though, because the band did a great job this year.

It took the marching band (right) only DAYS of practice to get their lines this straight! The long hours of work really paid off as the band gave several spectacular half-time shows this season.

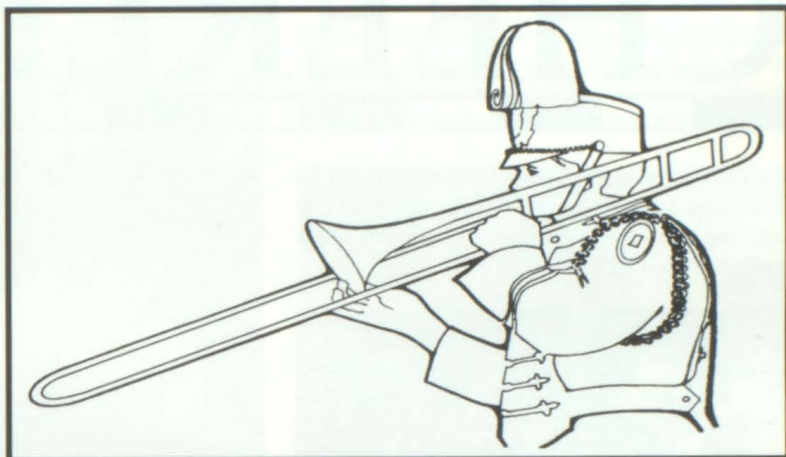

The percussion section does their part in keeping the band in step as they perform at Cedar Point this summer. They are (front, from left): David Douglas and Rick Duluciano; (middle, from left): Nona Redinger, Erin Limmer; (back): Nick Snavelly.

MARCHING BAND

CAUTION! Band has a blast in '95

Loading and unloading the hundreds of pieces of equipment is one of the less glamorous jobs of marching band. Here (left), Julie Aunspaw, Nick Snavelly, and Jenny Danicki pack up to go home.

Warning! Cheerleaders explode with spirit throughout the year!

CHEERLEADERS

Nicole Kapucinski (below) performs to the Avon fight song during a game. By the paint on her face, we can all see that the sophomore class really has the Eagle spirit!

Obviously, the rumor about cheerleaders being camera shy is not true! Heather Shepherd, Jamie Lunato, Kelly Dye, Jennifer Brawner, Anna Rak, and Amy Krall display the spirit that makes them super cheerleaders!

The bold and the beautiful! Cheerleaders Anna Rak and Jamie Lunato (right), both seniors, bravely wait for the football players to burst through the hoop before the game begins.

Senior Jennifer Brawner (below) sets the tone for an upcoming cheer during a time-out of a basketball game. Jennifer could always be counted on to bring smiles and cheers from the crowd.

Cheerleaders and buddies! Jamie Ball and Katie Czarney (above) share a laugh and a sucker. The cheerleaders could often be found hanging out together at games and at other social functions.

Avon golfers bag a successful season and avoid the "hazards" of the game.

GOLF

Freshman Adam Fitch (right) shows the right way to swing the club. Adam was a valuable asset to the team and was awarded a varsity letter for his contribution this season.

Senior Brett Ade (above) concentrates before he takes a swing at the ball. Brett was the team's "first man" and finished the season with a varsity letter in hand.

Brett Ade (right), wearing his lucky cowboy hat, displays his skill at chipping from a couple of feet off the green. Only Brett will ever know if it was his golf ability or the hat that helped him succeed this season.

Adam Fitch (below) displays his backswing and gets ready to hit a long drive in hopes of giving Avon another victory.

Brett Ade (above) watches as teammate Jon Jones takes a putt and hopes the ball goes into the hole. The team members often helped each other to make this season a success.

Warning local harriers: Avon is on the run!

CROSS COUNTRY

Senior Jenny Brawner (below) reaches a mile marker at the Open Door Invitational. Jenny dropped her time in her pursuit of the Most Improved Award.

Margie Ronyak (above right) takes the lead in a cross-country track meet. Margie was named the Most Valuable Runner for the 1994 season.

Jeannette Smith (right) makes her way through a pack of runners at the LCCC meet. Because of her positive outlook throughout the entire season, Jeannette received the Best Attitude Award for 1994.

Competing at the State Meet, Margie Ronyak (left) runs past a sandpile in Columbus. Margie finished thirteenth in the regionals, and 72nd in the state.

Katie Schlessman (below) dips into her energy reserves as she pushes herself to finish the race. The long hours of practice really pay off for runners as they realize they have built up the endurance to go on.

Terra Buchkovich and Katie Schlessman (above) stretch before they compete at the regional meet at Youngstown. Terra, who finished 93rd, did a little better than Katie, who finished 119th.

Keep hands clear! Avon soccer meets "goal" and has a spectacular season.

SOCCER

Goalie Dan Fischbach (right) prepares to stop the shot of a Lorain forward as Doug Hayden and Chad Coe look on. Dan made several saves throughout the year and controlled the defensive end of the game by directing the fullbacks.

Ed Frymier (above) heads the ball to a teammate on his way down the field. Though it was Ed's first year on the team, he was a starter. Ed played defense and some offense.

Frank Colbert (right) easily cuts between two Lorain defenders as he makes his way towards the goal. One of the three captains for the 1994 season, Frank provided senior leadership on the field and carried the team to the All-Star game.

Doug Hayden prepares to pass the ball upfield to teammate Jim Marsiglia (both left). Doug was a midfielder while Jim played forward. Throughout the season, both players showed great teamwork and hustle on the field.

Nick Hagerman tries to steal the ball as Jeanette Smith (both below) follows for support. Nick controlled the flow of the game position of midfielder. A frequent goal scorer, Nick was also a team captain.

Jeanett Smith (left) fights for control against a Lorain defender. Jeanette, a senior, has played soccer for nine years. She shows her athleticism by playing soccer as well as running cross country in the Fall season.

Anthony Danicki (above) steals the ball from a helpless Lorain player and dribbles upfield. Anthony was a team captain and also earned an award for his impressive defensive play. Anthony also kept his grades up and earned the Senior of the Month Award.

J. V. VOLLEYBALL

J.V. girls take no detours on the road to a successful season.

Sophomore Melissa Fernengel (above) passes the volleyball at a home match. Being an "off-the-bench" player, Melissa did rather well in the 94-95 season.

VARSITY SPIKERS' SEASON YIELDS SUCCESS!

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

"Big Seniors" Carrie Stockard and Julie Hollars (right) use teamwork in the back row. Carrie was rewarded for her hard work by being named "Best Server."

Reaching for the stars, Jamie Lunato (above) blocks the ball at the net. Jamie's performance brought her great success throughout the volleyball season.

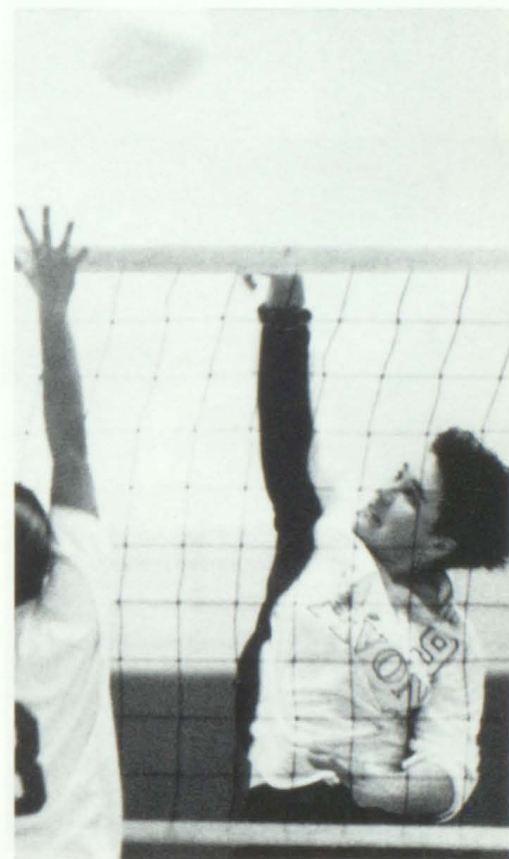

Head coach Marty Yonkoff (right) is showing his team the proper way to 'bump'. Mr. Yonkoff is a pro at correcting all of the mistakes the team makes.

Senior Jamie Lunato (left) spikes the rock during a varsity volleyball match. Jamie also received the most improved player award for the 1994 season.

Senior Amy Scappucci (below) drills the ball as she shows off her perfect form. Amy was awarded Second Team All-Conference, Second Team All-County, and played in the county All-Star game.

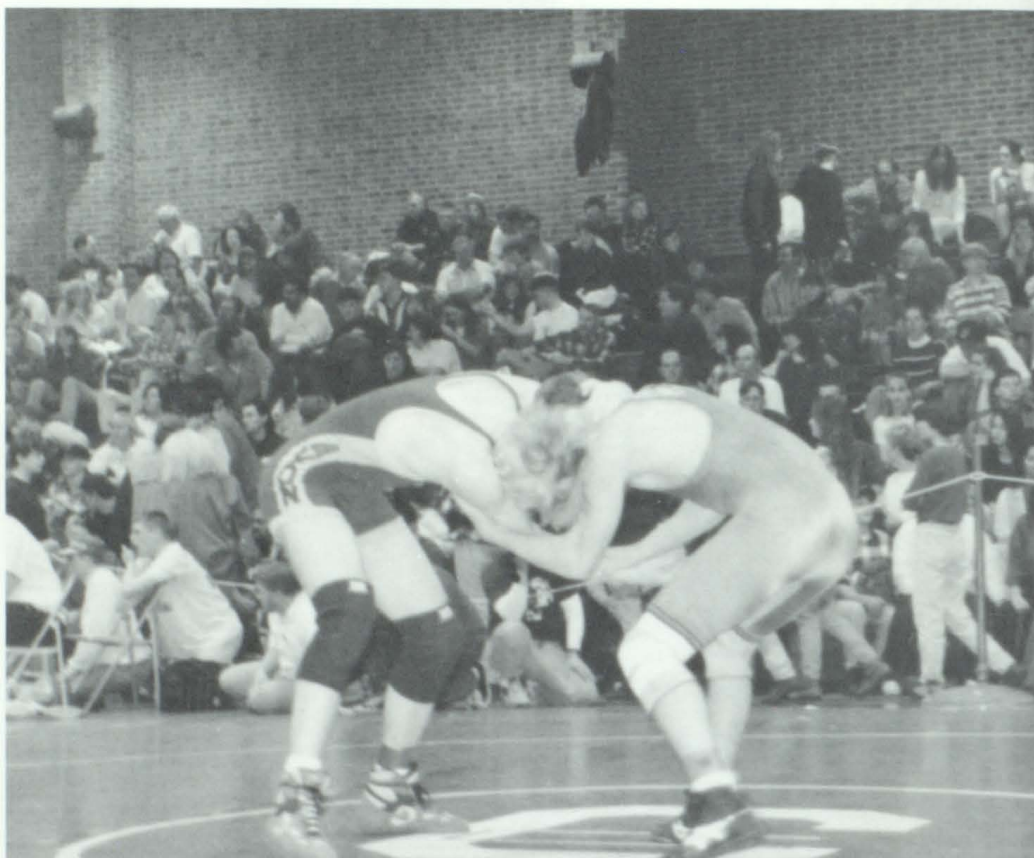

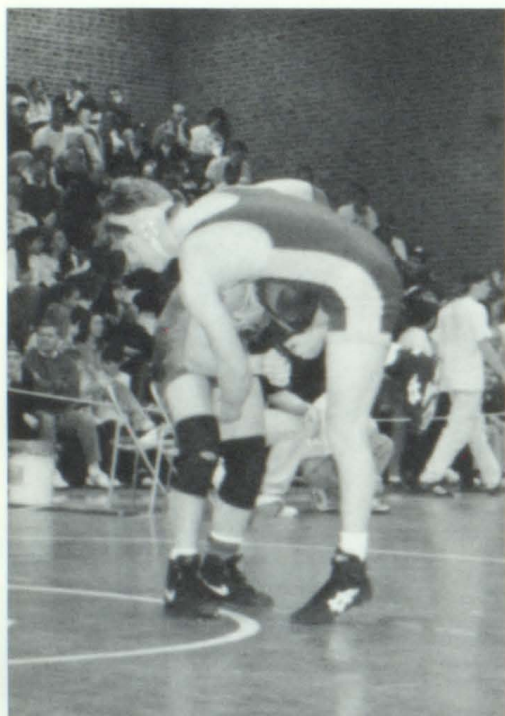

Junior Sarah Lengen (left) displays her beautiful setting technique which will come in handy next season. Sarah's hard work earned her the Academic All-County award.

Junior Sarag Ballog (above) bumps a pass over to Sarah Lengen as they fight to win another volleyball match. Ballog received the Academic All-County award.

New co-ed, wrestling team maps out "pinning" perfect season.

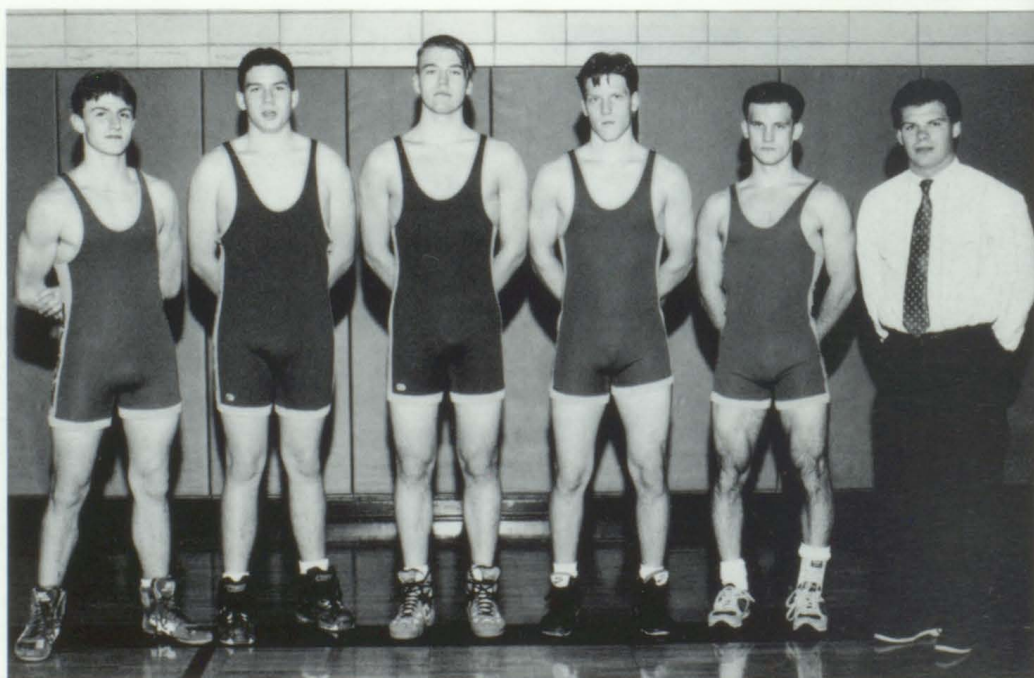

WRESTLING

Senior Brian Piwinski (right) is locked up with an opponent during a varsity wrestling match. After years of learning many moves, Brian determination paid off as he competed at the state level.

Brian Piwinski (left) gets ready for a takedown. Brian, an accomplished wrestler, placed first in sectionals to advance to the district match.

Junior Kyle Stivason (below) tries for a reversal against his opponent. Kyle, who improved greatly this season, ended the season by placing fourth in sectionals and moving onto districts.

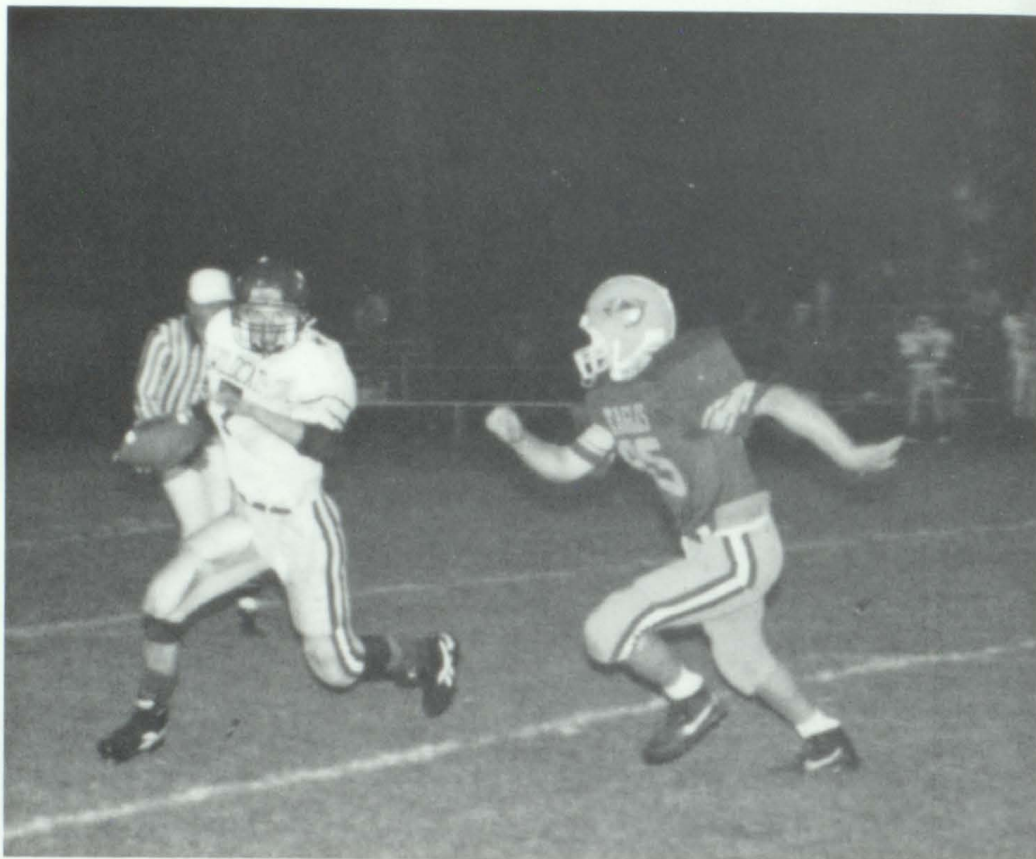

Joe Kennedy (left) puts everything he's got into trying to escape the grip of his opponent. Joe worked long and hard to make this a successful wrestling season.

Kyle Stivason (above) puts his hours of practice to use as he finds the determination to not give up. Kyle's energy and technique helped him to victory in many tight matches.

Eagle Aerie is hard hat area
during football season!

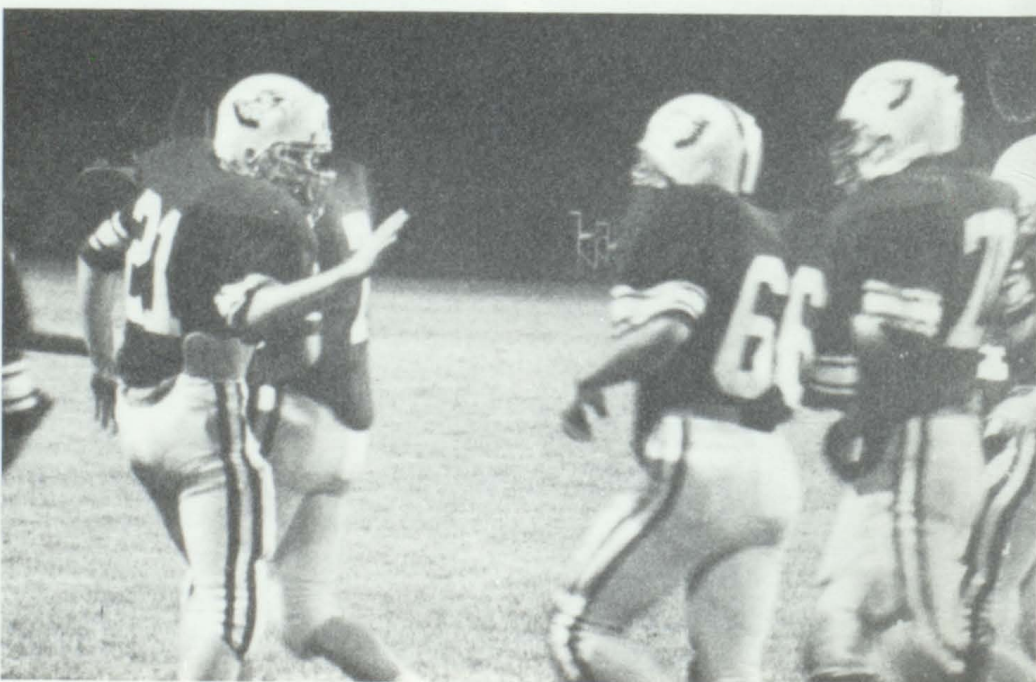

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Attempting a tackle against Keystone, junior Kyle Stivason (right) displays just how mobile he is. Kyle let the runner know there would not be any "left turns" during this game!

The awesome defensive line shows they are not going to allow any "thru traffic" as junior quarterback Aaron Hurley (above) escapes to make a pass.

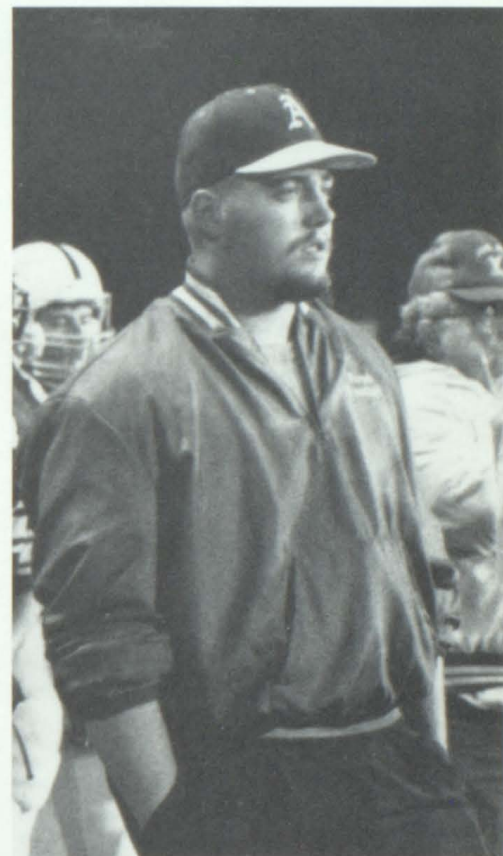

Senior captains Larry Krystowski and Luke Wysocki (right) congratulate one another after making a terrific play. The support that the guys showed for each other contributed to the team's success this season.

Head coach John Lengen (left) displays his ability to get the team pumped up for another exciting game. Coach Lengen's advice helped the team overcome the obstacles on the road to success.

Varsity coach Mike Beres (below) analyzes the play of our team and tries to find ways to bring the opposing team to a screeching halt.

Junior Willie Shober (above) takes the ball downfield in hopes of scoring another Eagle touchdown. Shober never displayed any fear of defensive hazards as he focused on the endzone.

WINTER

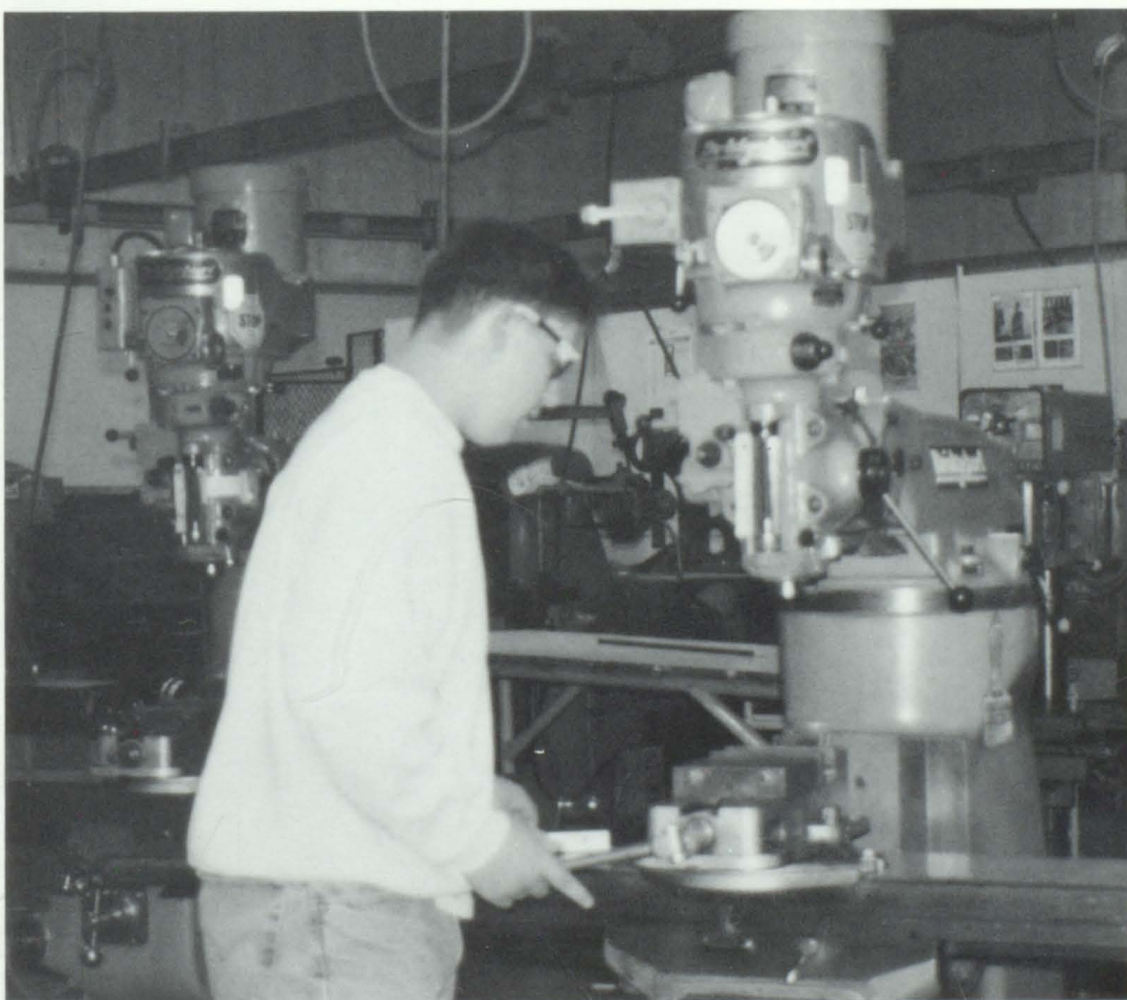

EAGLES AT THE J.V.S.

Avon students seek new directions in vocational training

Nick Hagerman (left) proves that going to the Joint Vocational School doesn't mean students leave their Eagle spirit in Avon! Nick, who is involved in the Technical drafting program, was a key element in the success of the soccer team this year.

Brian Zadorozny (above) takes a minute from a busy class period to pose next to his latest project. This is only one of the many cars Brian worked on throughout the year.

David Kloos (left) examines a machine before beginning his work for the day. In machine shops like this one, David is learning how to operate the tools efficiently and safely.

No secrets here! Rachel Walker, Jesse Martin, and Jason DeTardo (right) listen as Jill Newman (far right) spreads the town gossip.

CAUTION! Watch for aspiring thespians crossing

The drama club made this year and extra special one for the retiring Mrs. Hubbard. They put on two hugely successful plays, Camp Paradise and The Lights are Warm and Colored.

An eye for an eye, or, in this case, a pie in the eye, as juniors and seniors battle it out in the pie eating contest. Here it looks as if Margie Ronyak (below) has her junior opponent whipped.

At this pep rally, the varsity boys basketball players were asked to rate the kiss of the most popular cheerleaders. As they were blindfolded, they did not know the kiss actually came from Mom! Troy Duesler (right) rates his kisser a resounding '10'!

What would a pep rally be without a cheering crowd? Above, Troy Duesler, always the center of attention, leads his buddies Tom Gallagher, Chad Coe, and Dan Fishbach in a cheer.

Senior cheerleading captain Kelly Dye (right) uses some motivation to get the crowd really going. The cheerleaders always do a great job of getting both the teams and the student body psyched up for a game.

PEP RALLIES

When classes merge, the Eagle Spirit Explodes!

These girls give a new meaning to the words "bag lady"! Susie Plotz, Karen Robbins, Kristy Hudak, and Jeannette Smith show the aftermath of a whipped cream war.

Outrageous activities and more student involvement helped to make this year's pep rallies some of the best ever. From balloon breaking contests to kissing moms, the pep rallies really pumped up excitement!

The technique for balloon stomping is demonstrated by Senior Fernando Massaro and Sophomore Tim Nelson (left). Looking on is the Eagle mascot, A.K.A Amy Hamby.

Many pep rallies also did double duty as motivational/positive thinking seminars. Tim Gunther (above), a frequent visitor, smiles during one of his speeches.

SMILE, DUMMY! No, not you, Sarah Ballog (below), we all know you're no dummy, especially because Sarah is helping promote Prom Promise.

THE GRIM REAPER STRIKES AGAIN! Students were made aware of the fact that an alcohol related death occurs every 32 minutes, the same interval at which the gong was sounded either by Michelle Teschner (right) or another T.I. member.

The whole T.I. gang (above) takes a minute out of their meeting to smile for us. The advisor, Mrs. Hull, guided these students on how to stay drug free and to help others follow their lead.

GOTCHA! During Prom Promise week, the Grim Reaper pulled students out of class and painted their faces white, representing a victim of an alcohol related accident. By the end of the day, the impact could really be seen, as well as heard, as several "victims," including Amy Krall (right), roamed the halls.

TEEN INSTITUTE

T.I. educates its members and others on the road to a healthy lifestyle

GIMME YOUR JOHN HANCOCK! Students, including freshmen and sophomores, were encouraged to sign the prom promise charter. Megan LaLonde (left) waits to make her pledge to stay drug and alcohol free at prom as others in front of her sign enthusiastically.

Are you a dummy or a lifesaver? Michelle Teschner (above) and one of the crash test dummies stop incoming traffic to find out. Michelle and other T.I. members passed out Lifesaver candy to drivers wearing seat belts, DumDum suckers to those who weren't.

Amy Miesle and Todd Wills (below) put up dirt around the edge of the island in front of the school. S.A.V.E. plants flowers and landscapes every year to make the school look beautiful.

Jim Witherspoon (right) digs in to even out the dirt while beautifying A.H.S. Amy Miesle looks on and decides where to dig next. S.A.V.E. members like Amy and Jim provide an invaluable service to the school and the environment.

S.A.V.E.

Students of Avon Who Value the Environment smooth rough surfaces

Brandy Schwartz, Jennifer Smith, and Liz Liszniansky (left) plant flowers by the entrance during one S.A.V.E. outing. S.A.V.E. not only helped clean up our school, but also participated in several events throughout Lorain county, including Earth Day festivities.

S.A.V.E. members do a fantastic job of landscaping A.H.S. and participate in other community and school recycling and beautification projects.

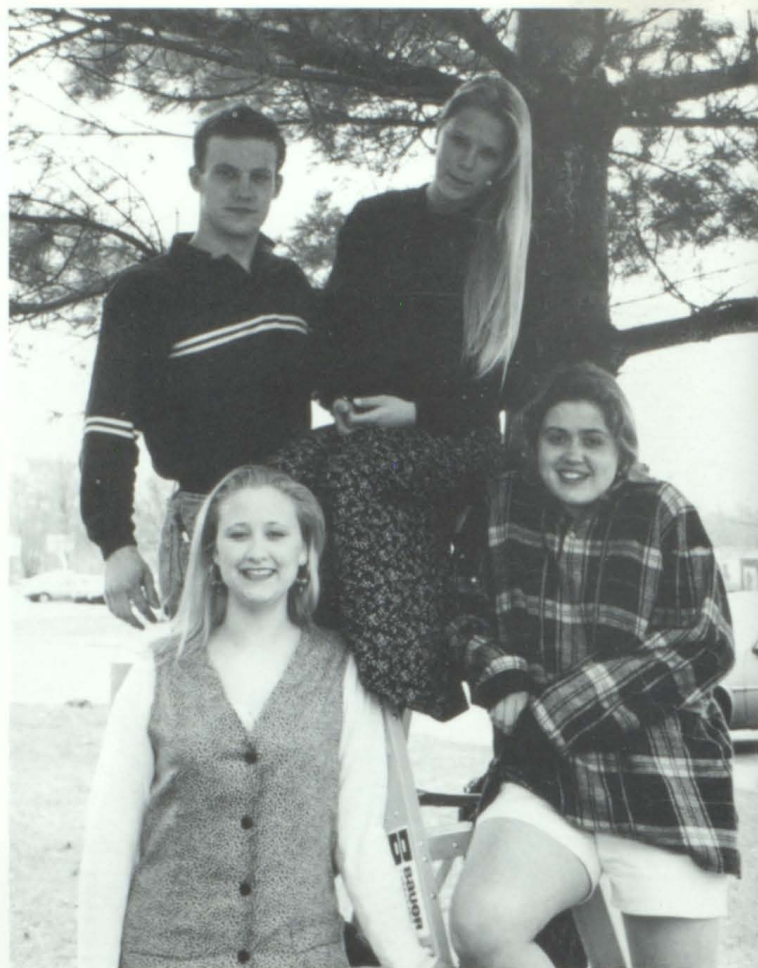

Senior Amy Hamby (above) does her part to help make the school look nice. In addition to S.A.V.E., Amy was involved in many activities.

DOING S.A.V.E.'S DIRTY WORK! Amy Miesle and Jim Witherspoon (left) get so wrapped up in dirt, they forget they have to go to classes.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Fuel Stop: Members provide energy for school and community service projects.

President Kelly Vodicka (left) encourages Kelly Rawlings to relax before she donates blood to the Lorain County Blood Bank. The blood drive was a successful community service project.

Ski bunnies Anna Rak, a junior, and Katie Czarney, a sophomore (below), try their best to appear graceful, even under the circumstances!

Doug Firca squeezes into a picture with seniors Angie Bellomy and Fernando Messaro (right). This ski season was the first time Fernando, an Argentine native, had ever tried the sport. Labelled a "speed demon," Fernando did quite well for his first time on skis!

What a beautiful evening for a fast run down the slopes at Brandywine! Here Anna Rak (above) shows us how to successfully round out those turns.

SENIOR SWEETNESS ON THE SLOPES! Seniors Kelly Vodicka and Angie Bellomy (right) show how much they love skiing and their fellow classmates. The seniors made the most of their last ski season at A.H.S.

SKI CLUB

Ski club enjoys a season of great weather, great skiing, and great friendships made out on the slopes.

Ski club is just full of smiling, happy, people, isn't it? Junior Sarah Koszewski and Senior Kelly Vodicka (above) show us that skiing is a sport that not only encourages fitness, but also laughs.

AH, THOSE SKI BUS RIDE MEMORIES! Chad Coe, Tom Gallagher and Amy Dye (left, clockwise) forget helping Dan Fischbach find warm clothes as they goof off for the yearbook.

Doug Hayden and Willie Schober (below) take a break between events at Ohio State. These two teamed up for several Science Olympiad events including Designer Genes, Experimental Design, and What are You Trying to Tell Me?

Rachel Paige (right) makes some last minute adjustments on Avon's Mission Impossible event entry. Rachel also competed in Write It, Do It with Katie Schlessman and won fifth at the regional Science Olympiad.

The Eagle's Nest staff (right) discusses a story in depth before they decide to publish it. Mrs. Hull, who teaches Journalism, is often a great reference when it comes to editing and publishing questions.

YEARBOOK & NEWSPAPER

Publishing groups cruise to a fantastic finish

Junior Kelly Rawlings and sophomore Tammy Gilles (left) straighten sweatshirts during a sale. The Yearbook staff hosted two sweatshirt sales this year in hopes of raising money to produce a bigger book.

The Yearbook and Newspaper staffs work diligently to meet goals and make deadlines to keep A.H.S. current and record its history.

Sarah Ballog and MaryBeth Graf (above) debate about which pictures to use for a spread. MaryBeth and Sarah were two of many staff members who worked hard to make Highlights '95 a success.

HOME EC.

Home Ec. club members Judy Schlather and Wendy Adkins (above) show off the Easter baskets made for underprivileged children. The club also helped out a battered women's shelter and did social activities as well.

SINGING EAGLES

Mrs. Ritzert directs choir traffic to a great year

DO-RE-MI! The sextet of Carrie Snyder, Jill Newman, Justin Rhodes, Mrs. Ritzert, Rachel Walker, and Erin Calderwood (at left) give the audience a great show during the winter concert.

In addition to putting on spectacular concerts, the choir, under Mrs. Ritzert's direction, took a helpful turn this year as they raised funds for the purchase of a new piano.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR! Sophomore Jill Newman (above) displays her superb singing ability. Jill had many solos throughout the year. Her mom was also active with the choir as she ran many fundraisers.

Hi! My name is Forrest, Forrest Gump. People call me Forrest Gump, or, in this case, Justin Rhoades (right). Justin was the perfect portrayal of last year's box office hit on Foreign Language Night.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE WEEK

The roads of the world intersect at Avon

Lions, and tigers, and bears, Oh my! The main attraction of the third year students was their performance of The Wizard of Oz. (Left) Doug Firca, the Scarecrow; Sarah Koszewski, Dorothy; and Bill Elliot, the Tin Man; skip their way down the yellow brick road.

When Foreign Language students take a week off to study another culture, everyone benefits! The smells of ethnic foods, the sounds of ethnic music, and the universality of laughter fill the air.

Guess who? Mr. Zimmerman, is that you? No, but Will Schober (above) definitely gives him a run for his money. Will might want to consider this talent when job hunting in the future.

Jennifer Danicki, Jason Detardo, and Jennifer Britton (left) proudly display their country project of Cuba. Second year students are required to complete a year-long study of a foreign country.

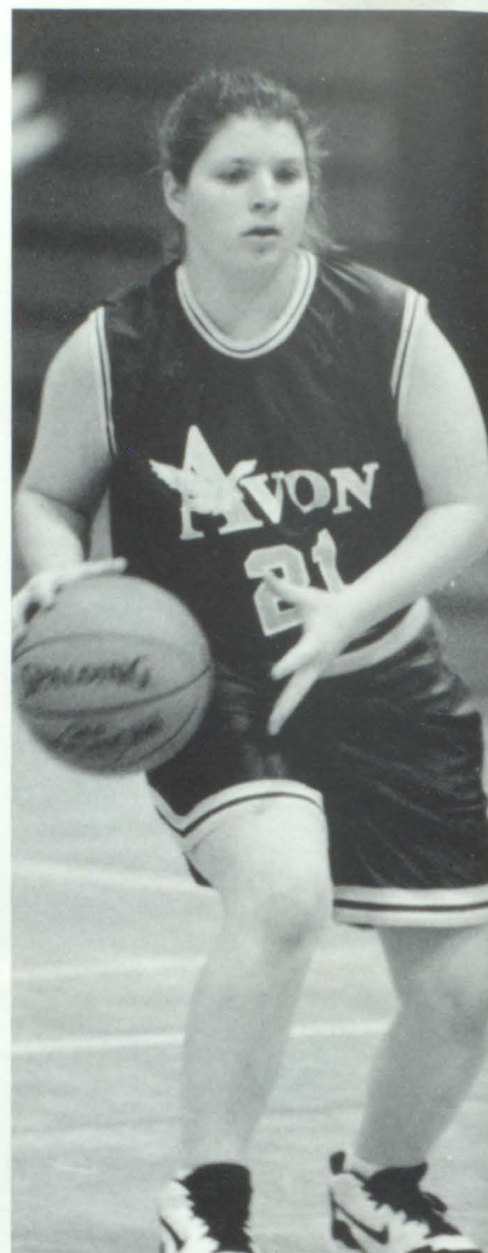

J.V. GIRLS BASKETBALL

J.V. girls "zone" in on a successful season!

Sophomore Erin Tobiasz tries desperately to get the ball from an opponent at a home game. Erin was one of the team's top rebounders this season.

Keeping the Eagle spirit in the family are sisters (above) Tori Hricovec (a junior) and Jaime Hricovec (a sophomore). Tori and Jaime are happy to boast about helping the team to a 15-3 record.

Girls Varsity Cagers swerve their way into a Sectional Championship!

VARSITY GIRLS BASKETBALL

Junior Lynn Wernert and Senior Carrie Stockard (left) fight a Wellington defender for a rebound. Lynn was a starter this year for the Lady Eagles.

Senior Amber Paulchell (left) goes up for the jump ball to start off a conference game. Amber was voted the Most Improved Player for the 1994-95 season.

J.V. BOYS BASKETBALL

J. V. boys head in all directions through the 1994-95 season.

JUST HANGIN' AROUND is Rick Shepherd (above). Not taking practice very seriously, Rick seems to think he is a dunking machine. Rick is one of several players to start on the J.V. team this season.

Scott Crawford, sophomore, (right) demonstrates the foul shot technique in practice. Scott helped to guide the Eagles to an outstanding season.

Sophomore Jim Aunspaw (left) jumps to grab at a rebound in a heated J. V. contest. Jim could always be counted on to give his best effort on the boards.

Jim "The Spoon" Witherspoon (left) wrestles his way into position to make a shot. Jim always gave 110% in both games and practice.

FORM FOLLOWS FUNCTION, and, boy, does Sophomore Derrick Repko (below) have the form! Here, Derrick makes shooting the "J" over a Columbia defender look so easy.

Surrounded by Columbia defenders, Tim Nelson, sophomore, (left) skies for a jumper. Tim was successful in making several shots amid the traffic.

Sophomore Gary Sobolewski (above) goes up strong for the easy two-point shot. Gary showed much improvement through the course of the season and helped the team out in many tight games.

Varsity boys direct on-court traffic as they press to a winning season!

VARSDITY BOYS' BASKETBALL

Senior Anthony Danicki and Junior Jon Jones (below) are on a mission for a victory! The pride and spirit of the team carried them through the season.

Coach Kudela (above right) rounds the team up for a session on avoiding the bumps in the road to victory. The team's use of this advice is evidenced by their successful 1994-95 season.

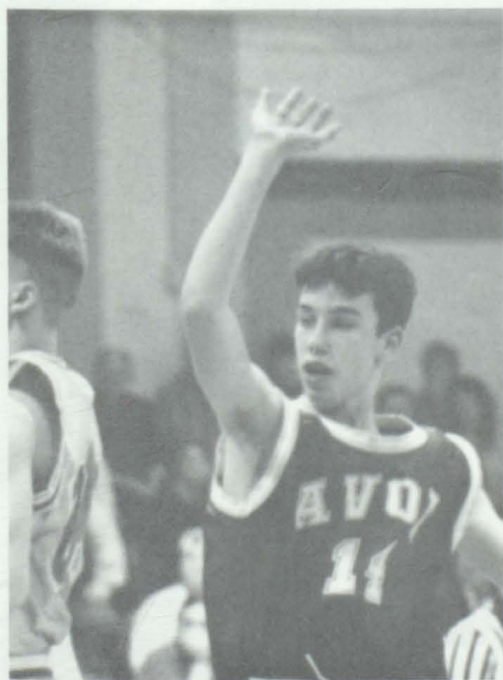

Senior Troy Duesler (right) shows the perfect form for making a long shot from the field. Troy was rewarded for his hard work this season with an Honorable Mention on both the All Conference and All County teams. Troy also participated in the All Star game.

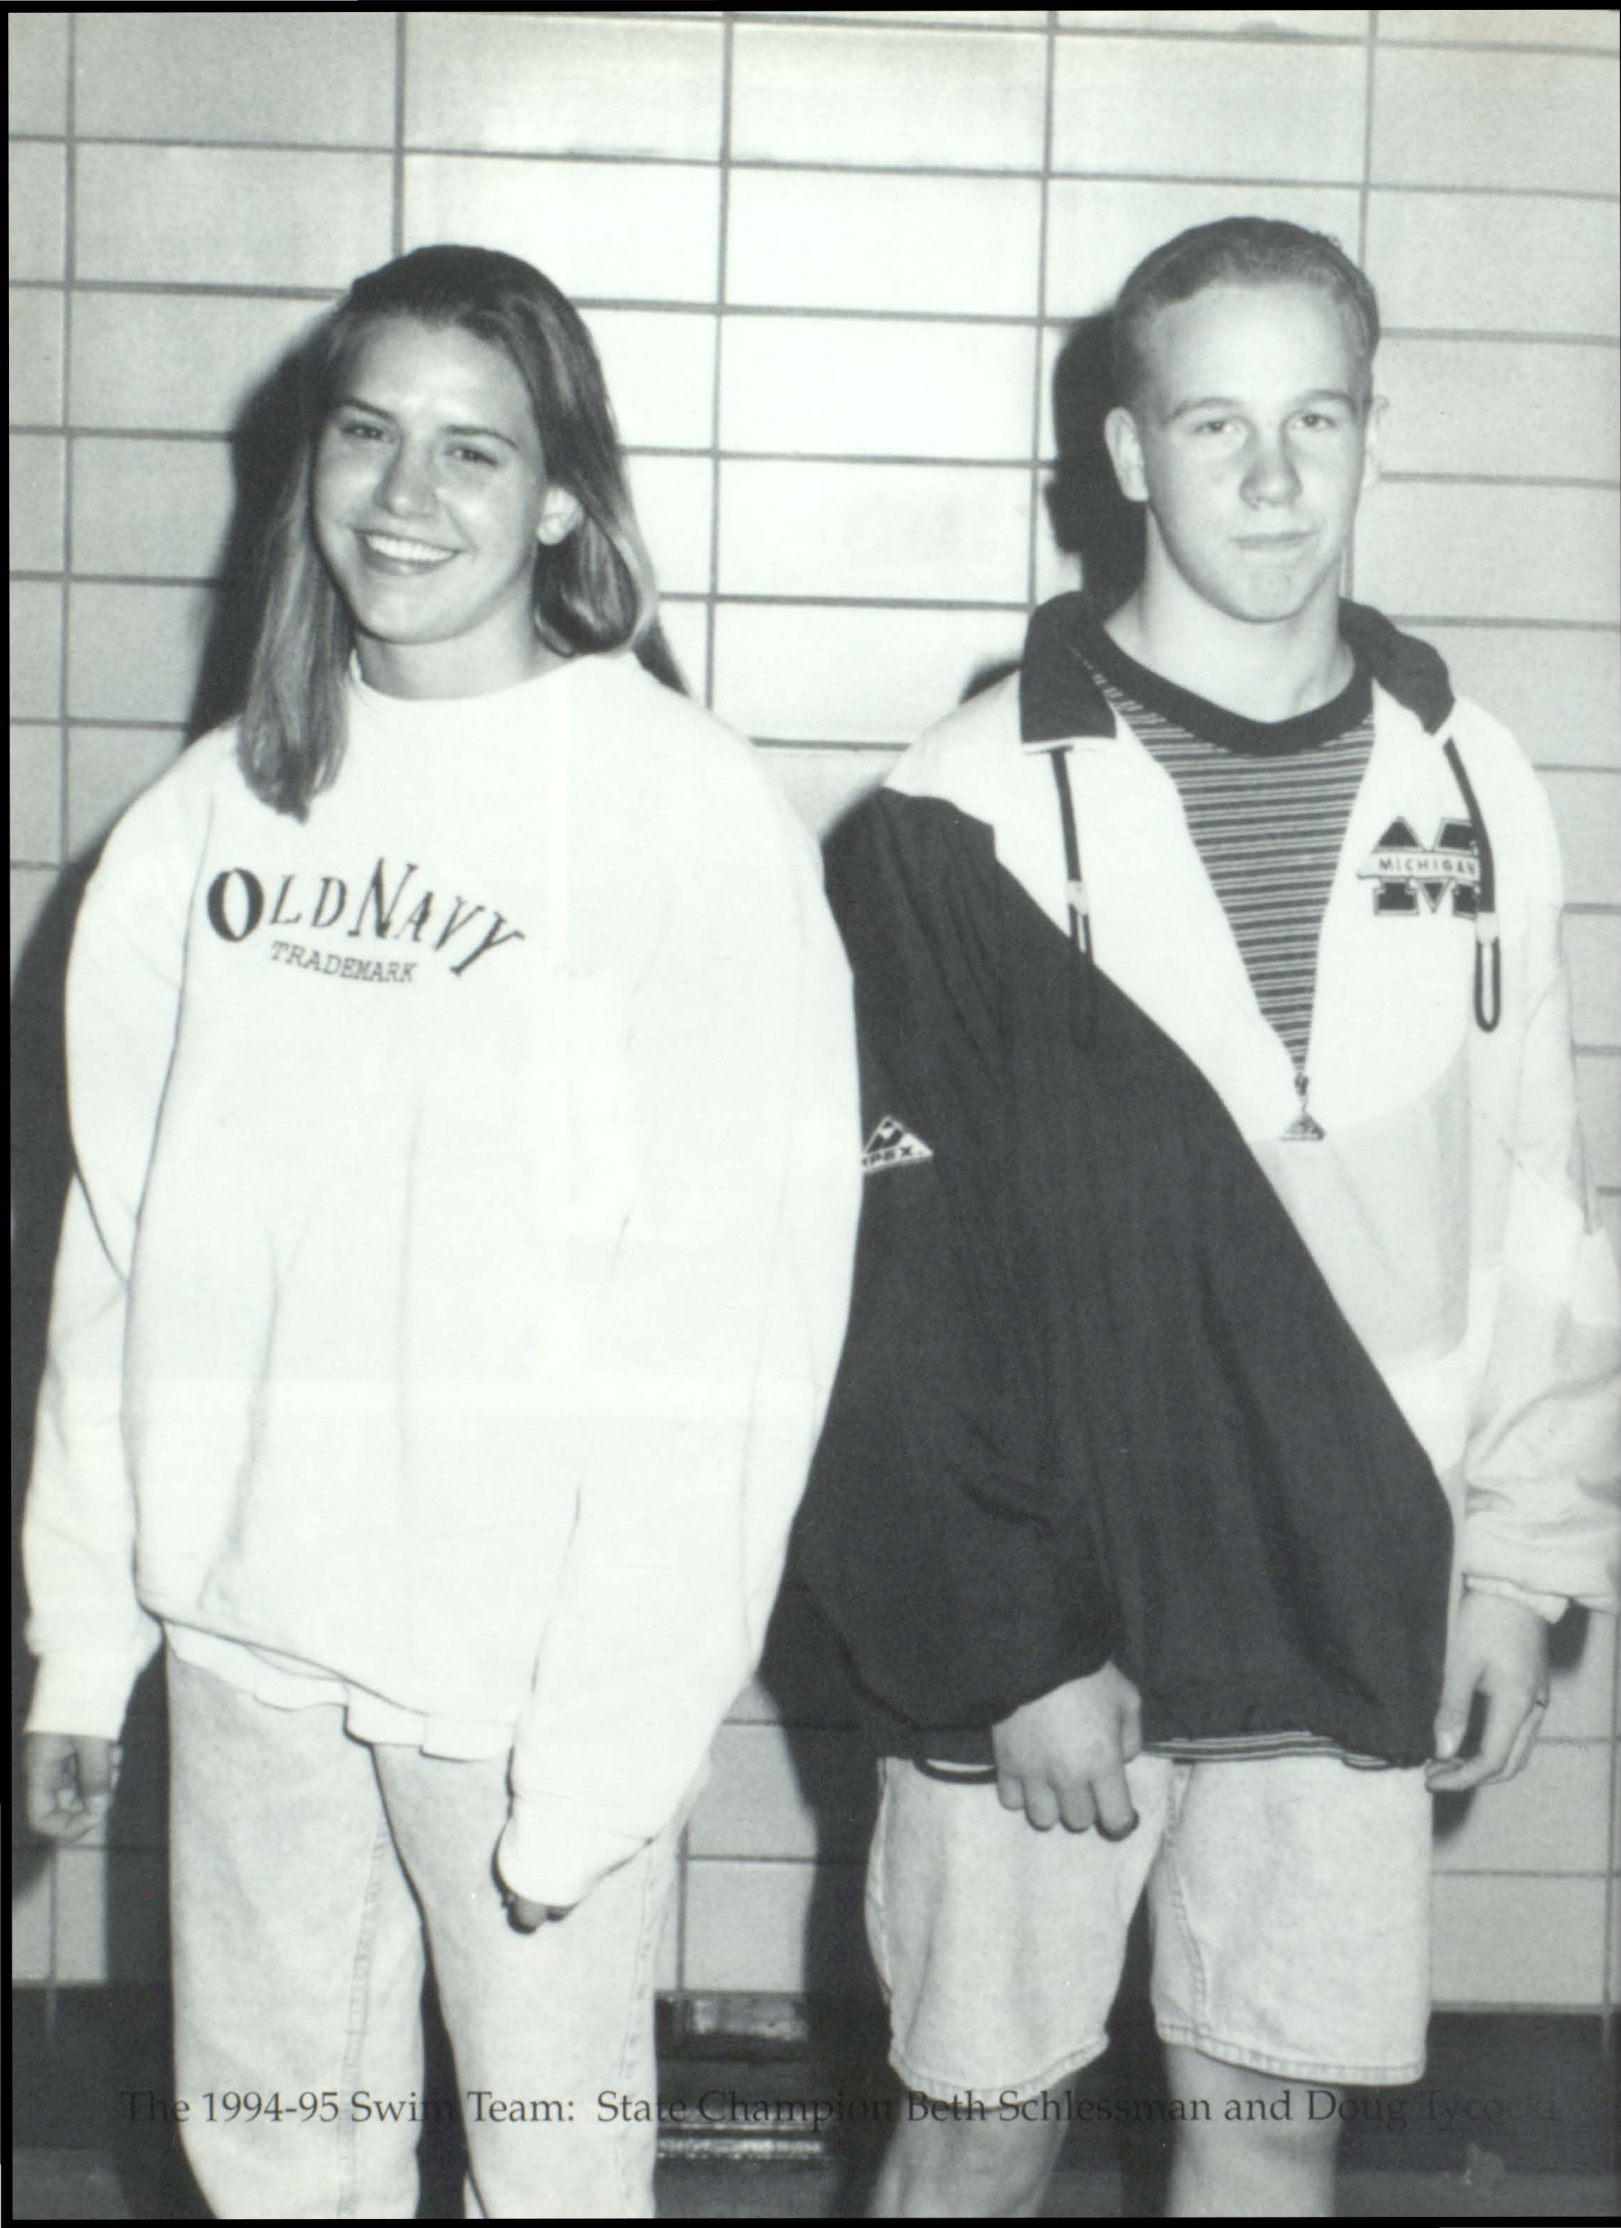

Senior Marc Smith (left) aggressively drives on the baseline for an easy basket. Marc played hard all season and helped lead the Eagles to many victories.

Sophomore Josh Guerrieri (left) is determined to know if he is sure or unsure. Josh was awarded an Honorable Mention All Conference and All District for his contribution to the team's success this year.

Freshman Steve Vega (above) shows his incredible talent. Steve received First Team All County, Second Team All Conference, Second Team Northeast All Ohio, and Honorable Mention All State.

Ah yes, don't you just love that feeling of ice cream, whipped cream, and many other sticky and gooey things all over your head? Judging by Anna Rak's (below) expression, she doesn't, but it does look like fun!

Belinda Orr (left) shouts to the photographer, "This better not be in the yearbook!" Sorry Belinda, this one was too good to pass up!

Even though it doesn't look like it, that's Kyle Stivason (above) buried under all of that flour somewhere, probably not able to breathe or see.

Brian Peregord (left) looks like he's having a little too much fun catching eggs with his head; but then again, he always was a little goofy.

CLASH OF THE TITANS

Caution: slippery when wet

Though this year's Clash of the Titans almost didn't happen, we pulled it off. And, as usual, it turned out to be an awesome way to end the school year on a fun note.

Kelly Vodika (above) expertly shows us how to quickly run around a cone ten times in anticipation of diving through "the pit".

Senior Jamie Lunato (left) crawls through the muck of gravy, carrots and who knows what else that had sat in the hot sun for quite some time before the event. Now that deserves a medal for bravery!

J.V. SOFTBALL

Girls take a detour and experience a building season

Sophomore Allison Chappo (left) waits patiently for the batter to bring her in. Allison could always be counted on to for a base hit in crucial times.

Sophomore Heidi Wagenknecht (left) looks 'em over in anticipation of the perfect pitch. In this game, Heidi was able to bring in one run to put the Eagles ahead by one.

Sophomore Rose Hovanitz (below) does double-duty for the Eagles as she pitches as well as catches. Versatility was a must for players during this trying season.

Sarah Nagel, a freshman (left), warms up a pitcher before the start of an inning. Sarah was an aggressive catcher who made many close plays at the plate for the Eagles.

Varsity girls plow their way through sectionals and finish as district semi-finalists

VARSDITY SOFTBALL

Senior Jamie Lunato (right) slides into home just in time to avoid the tag. Jamie was an asset to the team as the designated hitter.

Dawn Reichbaum (above), a junior, sends the ball sailing during a conference game. In addition to her powerful bat, Dawn helped the team out by competently playing center field.

Senior Danielle Shestag (left) throws a strike during one of her many games on the mound. Danielle was the Eagles' lone pitcher this year and was voted co-player of the year.

I GOT IT! Senior Tabitha Wilkens (below) catches a pop fly while covering second base. Tabitha helped the team both offensively and defensively this season.

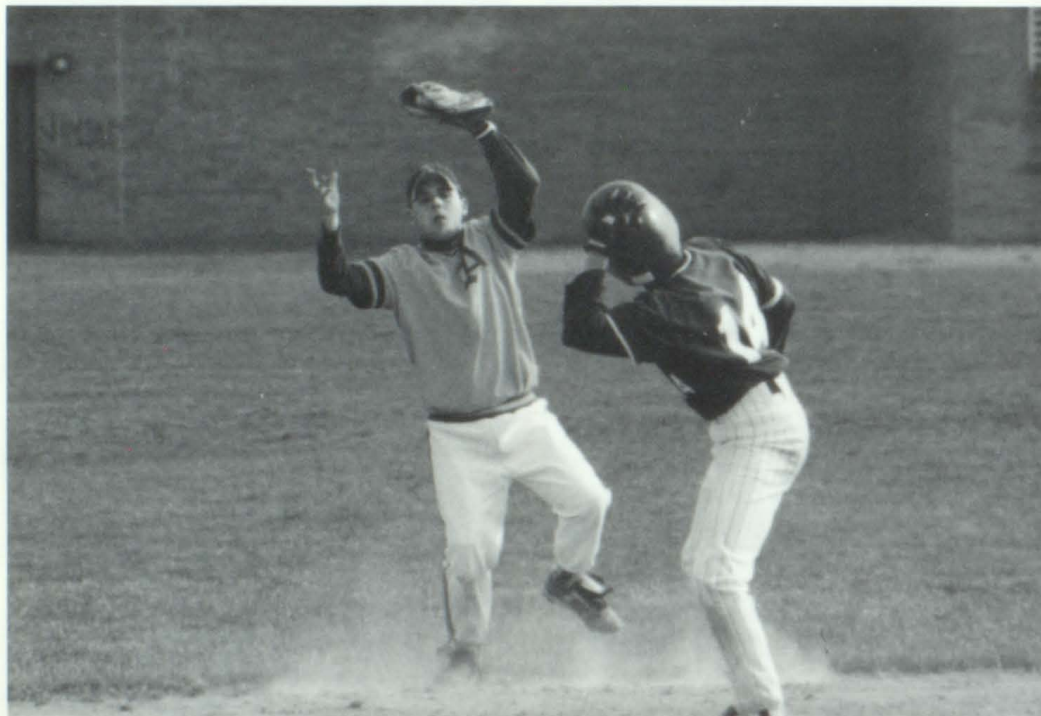

Keeping her eye on the ball while still anticipating the change-up is junior Kim Seman (left). Kim has earned the team's Most Improved Player award this year.

SAFE! Senior Amy Scappucci (above) slides into second base head first to be the go-ahead run in a close game. Amy, who was a team captain, played four years of varsity and was voted the co-player of the year.

J.V. BASEBALL

Paving the way for successful seasons to come!

Paul Coleman (above) daringly leaps to make the catch as a Bay Rocketeer fearfully anticipates where the ball will land. Paul, a sophomore, could always make a play happen when the team was in a pinch.

Down and ready! Johnny Brawner (right), a sophomore, patiently awaits the next ball that dares to come his way.

It's better to be safe than...picked off. Here Mike Cothran (left) daringly creeps out into dangerous Bay territory. Luckily for the team, Mike's skill and agility would never allow that to happen.

Sophomore Rick Shephard (below) tries his best to bat a home run for his team. Rick also played a few Varsity games this year, one in which he smashed a home run.

Sophomore Derek Repko (left) makes it look easy out there as short stop. He also made batting look easy with an average that was over 400.

The mighty Dillion Widener (above) unleashes his cannon towards home to strike out a Bay Rocketeer. Dillion also guest starred in some varsity games, in hopes of adding to the team's success.

Varsity baseball team encounters speed bumps in the '95 season

VARSITY BASEBALL

Pitcher Dan Bigley (right) gives this pitch his all as he tries to lead the team to a victory. With a total of one win this season, Dan was this year's winningest pitcher.

Here we see Rick Diluciano (above), a junior, take it all in stride after making a great play at second base.

What a catcher! What a player! Kevin Lane (right), one of only two seniors to make a real commitment to Avon baseball this season, started every game. Kevin also won team MVP for the year.

What a play! Bill Stockard, a junior (left), makes a running catch to end the inning. Bill also made appearances as a pitcher for several of this year's games.

Talk about a follow through! 2nd baseman Doug Firca (below) helps with another spectacular assist to tag out the runner.

Safe! Senior Marc Smith (left) gracefully slides into second base while an Oberlin Indian tries to make the stretch for the out. Marc, Avon's noted third baseman, also won the Coach's Award for the year.

The Dynamic Duo! Seniors Kevin Lane and Marc Smith (above) were definitely the team's greatest assets. Kevin and Marc were also honored by being chosen to play in the Lorain County All-Star Game. Accompanying them to the game was Coach Eaton who was invited to coach their team.

Lady Eagles map their way into the Regional and State track competitions

GIRL'S TRACK

Great Job! Sophomore Claire DeChant (below) finishes a super shot-put hurl. A standout on the track team, Claire advanced to represent Avon High in the Regional track meet.

Senior Margie Ronyak finishes hard as she hands off to junior Terra Buchkovich (above right). Margie ran her way into the 3200M race in the Regionals. Both Terra and Margie are distance runners.

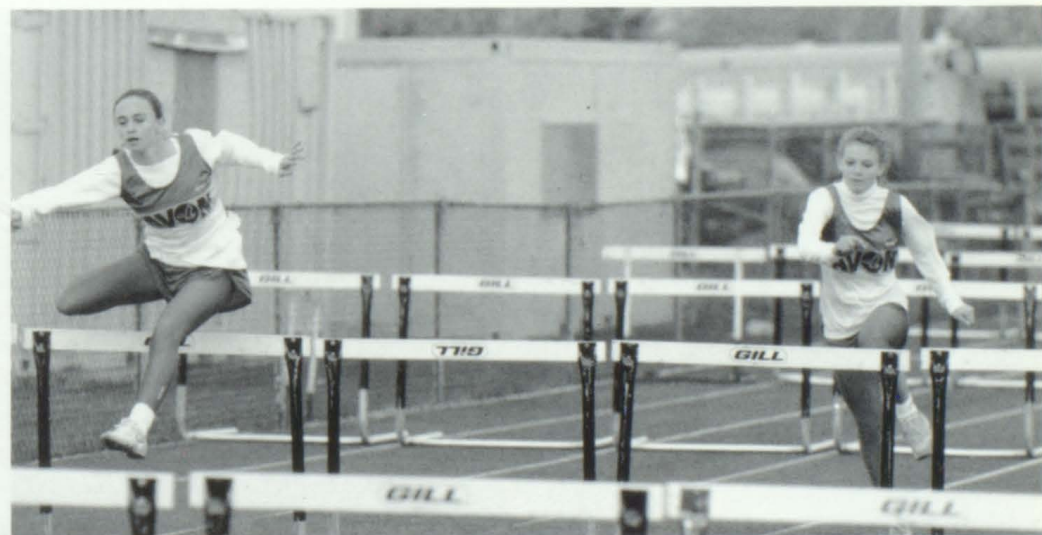

Senior Jenny Brawner (right) clears the bar during the high jump event. Jenny, who also ran sprint events this season, leaped into the Regional track meet competing in the high jump.

Karen DeChant, a senior (left), finishes a throw in the discus event. After breaking many school records throughout her years on the track team, Karen competed in the State meet this year.

Senior Jeannette Smith (below) starts her second lap of the 4x800M relay strongly. Jeannette earned a four year letter in both varsity track and cross country.

Freshman Judy Schlather (left) stretches for one more inch in the long jump competition. Judy was a versatile member of the team who could participate in any track and field event.

Freshman Katie Lengen and Sophomore Erin Limmer (above) leap their way through the 100M hurdles. Katie finished the season in the District meet while Erin advanced to compete in the Regionals.

Boy's team routes its way to a successful '95 season

BOY'S TRACK

Sophomore Mike Parks (below) concentrates on a strong finish as he looks for his fellow team member in order to pass off the baton. Mike was a reliable member of the team this year.

Foreign exchange student Zoran Milosavljevic (above right) pushes himself to get one more inch in the long jump event. Zoran's height and determination proved helpful to the team.

Take a flying leap! Sophomore Tim Nelson (below right) does just that as he prepares to sky over the bar. Tim competed often and successfully in the pole vault event.

Junior Ethan Miller (left) hurls the discus and prays for Olympic distance. Ethan helped the team by not only throwing discus, but also the shot put.

Steve Wessler (below) gives it his all as he pushes to finish strongly. Steve's endurance and speed could be relied upon to bring the team to a victorious finish.

Sophomore Josh Guerrieri (left) shows the determination necessary to make it through just one more lap. Runners like Josh are valuable in that they don't give up and constantly push themselves to achieve more.

Senior Dan Fischbach breathes a sigh of relief as he passes the baton to freshman Scott O'Malley (above). The teamwork necessary to successfully compete in this race is practiced intensely, and, in this case, has obviously paid off.

OUT FOR DINNER AND DANCING! Marc Smith and Sarah Lengen (below) check out the food before heading out onto the dance floor.

Dancing the royal waltz are King and Queen Luke Wysocki and Julie Hollars (below). Both Julie and Luke are athletic and outgoing. They were involved in both school and community events.

YES SIR, WE'RE JUST DARNED HAPPY TO BE HERE! Stephanie Bryant and her date (right) get ready to indulge themselves with a delicious meal at Wagner's.

EVERYBODY DANCE, NOW! Jenny Brawner, Belinda Orr, Dawn Reichbaum, and Jason DeTardo (above) don't need to be told twice, either! This group enjoyed this dance, to DePeche Mode's Personal Jesus, as well as many others throughout the magical night.

Is this Doug Hayden the soccer player? The scholar? No way! It's Doug, the disco king! Doug and many other prom-goers enjoyed the prom as they danced the night away.

QUEEN FOR A DAY! Junior class president Sarah Ballog crowns Prom Queen Julie Hollars (above). Julie, who was also a candidate for Homecoming Queen, was active in all aspects of school and was friendly and outgoing.

PROM 1995

With seniors heading in new directions and underclassmen following their route, Prom 1995 was a wonderful way to cap off a great year. One can only IMAGINE what the future holds!

Bonnie MacKeigan and Heather Shepherd (below) take time to join the band for one more song. Bonnie was Field Commander for the marching band in the fall.

Junior High and Senior High choirs join to sing the seniors out. Seniors Jenny Grake, Kelly Vodika, Bridget Jensen, Katy Stockard, and Rachel Walker (below) join them for a last number before they go on their way.

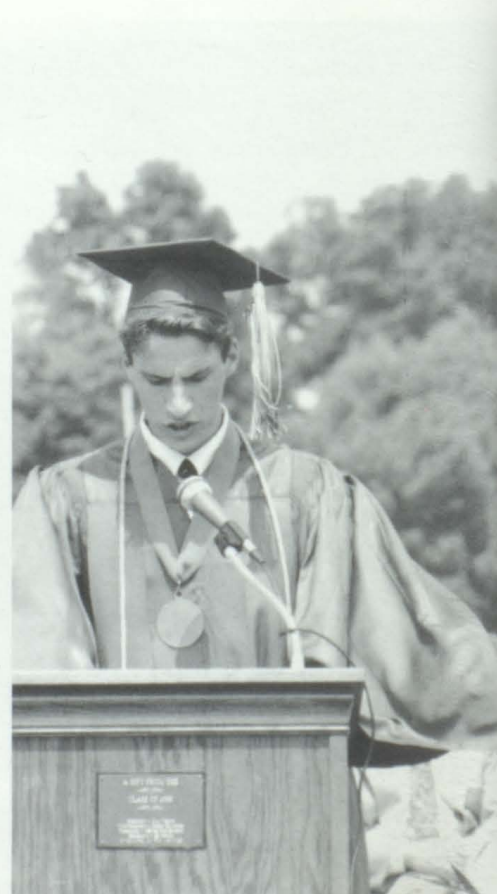

"We honor thee today, wide is thy fame, you noblest achievements, have hallowed thy name.. Brett Ade and fellow graduates (right) honor their school and their country by singing the alma mater and the National Anthem.

Julie Hollars, Amy Hamby, and Nicole Carlson (above) are all smiles on graduation day. Julie participated in sports and group activities. Amy participated in many activities and was one of many office aides. Nicole was in NHS and SAVE.

Co-Valedictorian Anthony Danicki (right), makes an impact on everyone during his speech. Anthony kept a high grade point average and participated in sports year-round. Anthony was in National Honor Society and was in the Top Ten.

Jamie Lunato (above) graciously accepts her diploma from board member Mrs. Polovich. Jamie, who was active in sports as well as other school activities, looks forward to a bright and promising future.

GRADUATION

Graduates only have one way to go: up! However, as Co-Valedictorian Beth Schlessman advises, they must conquer the choppy waters that lie ahead of them first.
