TO OLD GLORY

AND THE FREEDOM OF MAN

IN THIS TIME OF DISTRESS, IT IS MORE NECESSARY THAN EVER THAT WE KNOW AND

UNDERSTAND THE MEANINGS OF THE PATRIOTIC WORDS WE USE. FREEDOM, DEMOCRACY,

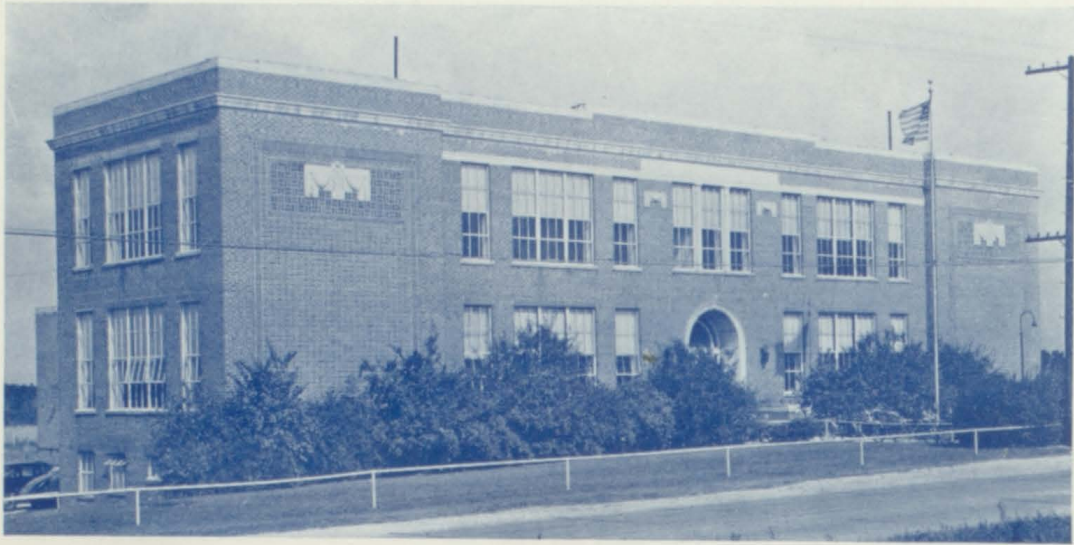

AND PATRIOTISM ARE THE ABC'S OF OUR AMERICAN STANDARD OF LIVING. DEMOCRATIC

FREEDOM INVOLVES NOT ONLY THE RIGHT TO MAKE CHOICES, BUT THE RIGHT TO HELP DE-

CIDE WHAT CHOICES SHALL BE POSSIBLE. DEMOCRACY STANDS FOR THE FREEDOM OF EVERY MAN TO HAVE A PART IN MAKING THE DECISIONS WHICH AFFECT HIS

DAILY LIVING. PATRIOTISM MEANS LOYALTY TO ONE'S COUNTRY. THAT LOYALTY SHOWS ITSELF IN OUR EFFORTS TO MAKE OUR COUNTRY THE KIND OF

PLACE IN WHICH WE ALL LIKE TO LIVE. TO THESE STANDARDS OF AMERICANISM, THE AVON HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS OF 1941 DEDICATE THEIR ANNUAL.

BOOSTER

1941

Published by the Booster Staff and class of 1941 of Avon High School in an effort to liken their student world to a democracy.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF OUR SCHOOL AS INTERPRETED BY THE COMMUNITY

In a Democracy, the secondary school should: (1) emphasize preparing pupils to make adjustments to changing conditions, (2) provide free secondary education to all adolescents, (3) be primarily supported by the local district with the state participating on an equalization basis, (4) welcome suggestions and opportunities for cooperation with community agencies, (5) by law, require attendance of all pupils who leave Elementary school until they master a curriculum appropriate to their needs, (6) assume that pupils are sufficiently similar to profit from a common program, (7) allow pupils some part in determining content and activities of their school experiences, (8) plan correlation of subjects to insure consideration of total experience of child, (9) provide for non-academic needs as well as college entrance requirements, (10) select experiences interesting to pupils but whose major value is in adult life, (11) develop well rounded pupil personalities by individual differentiation, together with social integration.

In a well organized pupil Activity Program, the school should: (1) allow pupils to initiate plans, subject to sponsors' approval, (2) establish minimum qualifications of leadership, but pupils should be free to make selection, (3) encourage pupils to supplement curriculum, (4) be a place where pupils learn to find and use materials needed in their studies, (5) meet library needs by providing a central general library.

In carrying out the guidance function, the school should: (1) discover the needs and characteristics of each pupil before selecting his school curricula, (2) effect articulation between elementary and high schools to make pupil adjustment less difficult, (3) be responsible for assisting pupils to make appropriate educational plans, (4) encourage more able pupils to succeed this minimum, (5) encourage learning by solving procedures, reflective thinking, generalization, and application, with incidental direction of emotional responses, (6) teach pupils to recognize what is worth thinking about as well as how to think, (7) aid in the development of generalizations, appreciations, attitudes, and ideals in addition to acquisition of knowledge, habits and skills.

In general, the school should: (1) leave final selection of teachers to board of control, accepting or rejecting nominations of school head, (2) give primary consideration to candidates who have completed comprehensive programs which included specialization as well as professional preparation (3) be available for community use when not needed for school activities, (4) be susceptible to some modification and adjustment to meet school needs, (5) have board of control pass upon policies formulated by administration and staff, (6) have a cooperative type of supervision to aid efficient instruction.

HE PLAYS A STAR ROLE

Superintendent

W. E. BLAKE

B.Sc. in Edu., M.A.

Congratulations Seniors,

Looking over a preview of this year's Booster, we find that you have made a very apt choice of theme. In these troubled times, with wars declared and undeclared, it is very gratifying to see increasing evidence on the part of our young citizens towards serious thinking regarding our duties to our nation.

You have now finished one phase of your formal education. All of us who are in any way interested in your welfare feel that the achievement of this honor amply repays any sacrifices that we have made.

Regardless of your future intentions, we want you to feel free to consult us in the event that you need any further service which we may be able to render.

We like to think that your attendance in this school has been but one step in a series of life-long associations. Your continued success in future work will serve as an inspiration to us for future service in our work.

"You to the left, and I to the right

For the ways of men must sever.

It well may be for a day and a night,

And it well may be forever.

But whether we meet or whether we part

For the ways are past our knowing;

Here's luck, from a heart to its fellow heart,

On the ways we all are going.

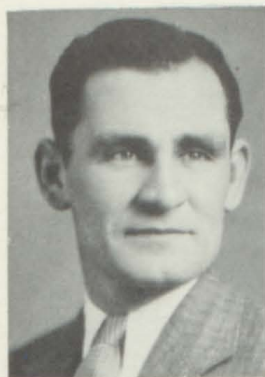

Here's luck; For we know not where we are going."

Richard Hovey.

With sincere best wishes,

W. E. BLAKE

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '41

In September 1937, thirty-two members started their Freshman year. After a very thorough initiation by the Seniors, we were ready to continue our learning.

During this year, the class chose the following as leaders: President, Jeanne Evenson; Vice-President, Betty Smith; Secretary, Bessie Peak; Treasurer, Robert Fitch. We had an able advisor in Miss Peak.

As Sophomores, thirty in all, we had Mr. Page as our homeroom teacher. This year we spent in numerous activities, including roller skating parties and theater parties. These helped to "balance our books" after a party or two.

Our officers for 1938 and 1939 were: President, Henry McCowan; Vice-President, Eunice Kramer; Secretary, Eileen Klingshirn; Treasurer, Betty Smith.

When we were Juniors, we had Miss Conry as our advisor. During this year, our important events were the Junior Play and Junior-Senior Banquet.

"A Crazy Mixup," a classic of Thespian Art, proved that the Juniors had acting ability. Eileen, dressed in her boy's outfit, and Eunice and Marian helping her out of mix-ups, played a big part in the success of it. It was a financial success and enabled us to plan an elaborate banquet for our guests. Elks Hall was chosen as our banquet hall. Tables were decorated with blue and gold, the Senior class colors. Sweet peas and roses were used as centerpieces, and, at each plate, was a memory book for the occasion. The girls were attired in formal dress of all colors of the rainbow. On their shoulders were corsages of roses and sweet peas. The remaining part of the evening was spent in dancing to Johnnie Jackson's orchestra.

Our Junior officers were: President, Bessie Peak; Vice-President, Robert Shumaker; Secretary and Treasurer, Ralph Plas.

At last '41 is here. We, the Seniors, chose the following as our officials: President, Robert Shumaker; Vice President, Reynold Dechant; Secretary, Ralph Plas; Treasurer, Leonard Detzel.

We say this is not the end, for our motto is: "Not Finished, Just Begun."

PROPHECY OF CLASS OF '41

In 1951, as I was walking through an Army Camp, I collided with Bessie Peak, a nurse. Bessie told me how happy she was to be of some help to the ill and wounded soldiers. After our conversation had "rolled on" for quite some time, Eileen Kling-shirn appeared. I soon learned that she was a canteen work in the camp. We bid adieu, and I was on my way.

My next stop was the airport. Here I learned that Warren King was the aviator of "King United Airlines," and that Leonard Detzel was the head mechanic. While standing there, I noticed a plane was landing and that there was quite a commotion. Upon inquiry, I found out that Eunice Kramer, a newly starred actress, and Marian Nissen, who had studied art in Chicago, were aboard the landing vessel. Just as I was leaving, I met Margaret Kral, who had just organized her own orchestra. She explained further that in her spare time she had earned her certificate to be an aviatrix.

I continued my journey, and my next stop was the American Shipping Company. Here I met four of Avon Hi's alumni, Robert Shumaker, the head engineer, Joseph Miksanek, a welder, Adelbert Kempf, a laborer, and Reynold DeChant, an outstanding machinist.

About this time I was quite fatigued, so I decided to recuperate slightly by having some ice cream. As I was being served, I heard a familiar voice which I soon learned was Bill Taft's. He was the chief "soda jerker."

I resumed my way homeward and switched on the radio to some music and lay in my easy chair reading. Soon the music was interrupted by advertising, the voice of George Bliss. After he finished his advertisement, he announced the great comedian of yesteryear, Ralph Plas, who then "took over."

The next day I continued my journey. This time I chose the country. As I was riding along, my eye caught sight of a mammoth ranch. Being a lover of horses, I stopped, and, come to find out, Robert Fitch was the owner of this dream ranch.

Farther out in the country, I came to "Noble's Acres," owned by Charles Noble.

I decided I'd better have my hair set, so I called "Peggy's Beauty Shoppee" for an appointment. I soon discovered that Margaret Holbury was the proprietor. While at the shoppe, Betty Smith came in and said that she was now a comptometer operator in a large office in Cleveland, and she also revealed that Florence Crowley is now a laboratory technician.

My gas gauge registered "empty," so I pulled in the next service station, which was Hugh Knight's. He informed me that Raymond Alten was the advisor of large paper routes.

Then I returned to the city to do some shopping. Who should the clerk be but Mary Smith, and she related that Genevieve Smith was the dress designer for the store.

Being almost famished, I stopped in "The Highway Diner." To my surprise, Mildred Wilhelmi and Ruth Hein were the waitresses.

Having completed quite a thorough resume of Avon High '41 graduates, I returned home for a badly needed rest.

Seniors Presented "Don't Darken My Door"

On March 13, the comedy "Don't Darken My Door" was presented by the Senior Class of '41 to a large audience. Miss Margaret Halpin coached the cast for a successful performance.

The cast follows:

Roger Kent, a bachelor	Robert Shumaker
Rosemary Kent, his romantic niece	Betty Smith
Tom Garrick, Rosemary's persistent suitor	Ralph Plas
Poppy Foster, maid of all work	Eunice Kramer
Alec Stubbins, Poppy's devoted swain	Robert Fitch
Jane Perkins, a writer of romances	Eileen Klingshirn
Susie Featherstone, a maiden lady	Marian Nissen
Louisa Featherstone, a maiden lady	Bessie Peak

Junior Play, "Heart Trouble"

On December fourth, twelve Juniors under the direction of Miss Halpin presented a three act comedy entitled "Heart Trouble." One of the highlights of this masterpiece was Dot Wood's impersonation of an old maid.

The all star cast was as follows:

Robert Roberts, Roy's Uncle	Jack Sweet
Roy Roberts, a young man about town	Bill Sample
Ronald Randolph, his pal	Julian Forthofer
Zelda Sanderson, Roy's Fiancee	Jean Bungart
Martha Mason, Ronald's Fiancee	Mildred Urig
Rosa Rosabelle, an actress	Cleora Hurdley
Roxanne Raymond, a "maiden lady"	Florence Thomas
Josephine Salisbury, a sweet young thing	Kay Biltz
Druisilla Gibbs, a woman of mystery	Dorothy Wood
Claribel Baker, who ran a hotel	Marie Klingshirn
Nella Adams, an astrologer	Pat O'Brien
Otto, a young bellboy	Ed Drahos

FRESHMAN ANNUAL NEWS

In September of '40, fifty-one 'smiling' faces were seen in the Freshman room under the supervision of Miss Marian Peak.

"Getting in step" was a little task for each newcomer to high school, but after rushing into the wrong classes, they finally were settled to start the first of four years in Avon High.

Every Friday, quite a few empty seats were to be seen in several classes, as the class of '41 contributed a numbers of songbirds to the Glee Clubs.

They seemed to be an exception to other Freshman classes, which have been initiated or 'taken over' by the Seniors in recent years. It seems that these Freshmen are one class which just can't be.

Phyllis Leonard, Josephine Hricovec, James Butti, and Allan Thompson play in the orchestra.

They are proud of the fact that some of their boys, William Bommer, Donal Davis, Everett Peak, Howard Smith, Bill Kavalecz, Allan Thompson, and Stanley Wolfe were able to make the second team basketball squad this year.

A play, "The Goblin At the Grocers," was presented before the High School at Christmas time. The cast consisted of Phyllis Sample, Doris Gough, Raymond Riegelsberger, Walter Leonard and Howard Smith.

Their special projects at the Hollowe'en Carnival were the Dart Throw sponsored by the girls and the Baseball Throw and Cane Pitch directed by the boys.

When one considers the good start that most of the members of this class have made, it seems likely that they will accomplish much that is worthwhile during their high school career.

S. A. A.

Our Student Activity Association has handled the financial affairs of the various organizations throughout the school for the past four years.

Each of the upper six grades and the different organizations has a representative who keeps his group posted on financial affairs. This system eliminates the need for a bookkeeper for each of the various organizations, which is one of the chief merits of the system. Also, all the money is in one account with one chosen group responsible for it and its uses.

At the end of each month, Miss Stagg, secretary, posts on the bulletin board a Monthly Statement and a balance sheet, thus accounting for all money handled.

JUNIOR SAFETY PATROL

The Junior Safety Patrol was organized for the purpose of attaining greater safety for the children in school and on the playground. As a secondary purpose, the children have been instructed in the fundamentals of parliamentary law. They think that this instruction has been most efficacious, as it has been a beneficial preparation to children of the first six grades for their future social and business life.

Meetings were held every Friday. The business meetings were held first, then safety stories, songs, and instrumental music furnished the entertainment part of the program. Every holiday they enjoyed a party, which included those students who had not been reported for misbehavior.

Our Safety Patrol made the playground and school a more enjoyable place for play and work. We are all proud of the accomplishments of this organization.

SCHOOL BUS PATROL

The School Bus Patrol is an organization to further safety for pupils riding on the buses. The members are high school boys, two being assigned to each route. Its greatest duty is assisting lower grade students to cross busy highways. Meetings this past year were held once a month to discuss any problems that might have arisen. Uniforms and badges are furnished by the A.A.A. of Cleveland, which is one of the fine free services they give. The reward for being a member is in the form of merits, which are given at the end of each six weeks.

HONORS WELL EARNED

Second row—Lowell Putzier, Josephine Hricovec, Lillian Stumphauzer, Elfrieda Hein, Patty Blake, Betty Hein, Raymond Turman, Ellen Wolfe.

Not in picture—Albert Chester, Teddy Stumphauzer, Carlo King, Marlene Gelman, Marilyn Mitchell, Carol Hubbard. Each of the girls and boys pictured above has earned a 4.5 average (A minus or B plus) three of the past five six-weeks this year.

AND WELL DESERVED

Third row—Agnes Hricovec, Harriet Allen, Bertha Klingshirn, Doris Wearsch, Evelyn Klein, Eileen Klingshirn, Joan Weber, Phyllis Sample, Doris Gough, Ruth Kelling, Virginia Mitchell, Lois Mills.

Not in picture—Reynold DeChant, Shirley Palmer.

Each of the boys and girls in this picture has earned 100 or more merits during three of the past five six-weeks this year.

LEADERS' CLUB

This year, the Leaders' Club has helped to sponsor the Hallowe'en Carnival. The girls have sold ice-cream at basketball games to help finance the program for the Athletic Association. Also, the Leaders' Club aided the P. T. A. in sponsoring the Annual Athletic Banquet which was held March 27th.

Pins were given to last year's members. They were Margaret Holbury, Eileen Klingshirn, Julian Forthofer, and Robert Davis. Pins were also ordered for the new members who were chosen this year: Bessie Peak, Jeanne Smith, Katherine Biltz, and Marie Klingshirn.

CALISTHENICS

The Greeks were the first to emphasize Calisthenics as an aid to developing grace and poise. Thus, today, we borrow the exercises of old to bring about good posture, balance, and fluency of movement.

GETTING ALONG WITH A SONG

This year, Avon High had the largest girls' glee club in the history of the school. Under Miss Howe's direction, this group sang at the Christmas and May P. T. A. programs. The girls chose for their '40-'41 officers the following: President, Bessie Peak; Secretary, Betty Smith; Treasurer, Eunice Kramer; Reporter, Doris Gough.

When this group entered the March contest for class B schools, they were rated excellent plus. Although the boys' glee club did not represent Avon at this event, they sang at the May P. T. A. program. The mixed chorus, composed of the best singers from the two glee clubs received a top rating of superior at this same contest.

ORCHESTRA

Another successful year under the adept leadership of Mr. Karl Kolinski has brought the Avon orchestra through with flying colors. These musicians played at several school activities—a P. T. A. Meeting, the Senior Play and Commencement. The personnel follows: Violins—Pearl Homer, Robert Buck, Josephine Hricovec, Phyllis Leonard, James Butti, Marie Klingshirm, Oliver Forthofer; Clarinet—Richard Noble, Ted Stumphauzer; Saxophone—Allen Thompson, Lee Beidler, Donald Biltz; Trombone—John Pickering, Paul Rogers; Trumpet—Reynold DeChant, Donald Moore, Dorothy Kral, Richard Forthofer; Accordion—Lillian Stumphauzer, Donald Hubbard, Agnes Hricovec, Margaret Kral; Bass—Mary L. DeChant; Cello—Margaret Fitch, Lucille Starkey; Drums—Norman Bennett; Piano—Betty Smith.

LIBRARY

The mainstay of the student body has been changed the past year. New book-cases, tables and chairs have been added for convenience. As our library is one of the busiest places in school, the librarians—Virginia Mitchell, Irene Klingshirn, Bessie Peak, Bertha Klinkshirn, Marie Klingshirn, Dorothy Brown, Jean Bungart, Joan Weber, Mary Louise DeChant, Margaret Fitch, and Eileen Klingshirn—worked hard to keep it in "tip-top" condition. These energetic young misses, under the supervision of Miss Smith, are ever ready to help students find books which they wish to read.

CLASSES --- HOW CONDUCTED

MEET THE HOME ECS-PERTS

During the school year of 1940-41, the members of the Home Economics Class have completed individual note-books, a preliminary course in cooking, and a few garments.

In the latter part of the year, they served a tea for their mothers. This was for the purpose of illustrating their social abilities, to bring the parents in closer contact with students, and to model the garments they had made.

The girls have enjoyed a profitable year under the leadership of their able instructor, Miss Marian Peak.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The curtain has slowly closed on the stage where busy hands and tools have worked together to produce projects for future needs. Here were spent hours of education combined with cooperation and skill. Lumber was transformed to wood work, and, meanwhile, the minds were trained to perform these arts efficiently so as to teach the carpenters to build. In fact, this subject teaches all those who intend to plan, build, repair, or invent, a clear and easier way into their various fields. We hope that ambitions will grow from this shop and not quiet down with such inactivity as the dust and remains of our projects.

PHYSICS

An interesting course in science has been finished. It has left impressions of deep scientific facts as well as theory. Also, we have more deeply developed the habit of basing our beliefs on facts—the scientific attitude.

We have studied the Fundamental Law of science upon which our industrial civilization depends. Many phases of our life, such as medicine, engineering, and astronomy depend on physics. The chief divisions of physics are: mechanics of matter, heat, light, sound, and electricity. Physics is also the study of the energy and motion of matter that does not undergo a chemical change.

PREPARING FOR THE BUSINESS WORLD

This year's typing class did very well under the careful supervision of Miss Price. We learned to type stencils, legal documents, and all sorts of business letters.

Our required speed in a ten minute test was sixty words a minute with not more than five errors.

CHEMISTRY CLASS

Most every morning, one may glimpse thirteen young chemists in the "lab" delving into and trying to solve a few of the mysteries of the science of chemistry. Under Mr. Blake's supervision and most helpful guidance, the "unknowns" of the science have unfolded before their very eyes, and, although no one was "blown up" the "lab" or in any other way disturbed the peace, many interesting and educational experiments have been performed.

MISS JANET STAGG

OUR NEW SECRETARY

Miss Janet Stagg, an alumna of Avon High School, began her secretarial duties this year in the office of Superintendent Blake. Although Miss Stagg enjoys her position as a member of the faculty, she says that her surroundings bring back memories of student days when she had library and office duties.

In addition to issuing make-up slips, pursuing owners of overdue make-up slips, checking attendance, mimeographing, and typing, she may be seen doing many other "odd jobs" which present themselves. She says she finds nothing monotonous about her work.

Another of her duties is serving as Treasurer of the Avon High School Student Activity Association.

OUR "TAXI" SERVICE

Bright and early each morning, our four bus drivers, Mr. Hall, Mr. Buer, Mr. Klingshirn, and Mr. Detzel "make their rounds" and deliver the students safely at the school doors.

The students are very proud to ride in the busses, as they are practically new, two of them being newly purchased last year and two this year.

Contracts for all four drivers were renewed this year for a period of three years.

With the aid of the Bus Patrol, the busses are kept neat looking, the roll carefully checked, and loading and unloading the busses is carried on much more safely.

Avon Received a Sportsmanship Trophy

At the beginning of the basketball season, the County Athletics Board decided that any team which received a total of 890 out of a possible 900 points on rating at basketball games would receive a sportsmanship trophy. There were ten teams in the county which succeeded in doing this. Four teams received perfect scores, while Avon was right near the top with a score of 899 points.

The teams were graded by the Coach and Superintendent of the opposing school as well as by the referee. Our loss of one point was because of the crowd's interference with opposing cheerleaders and because of excessive whistling.

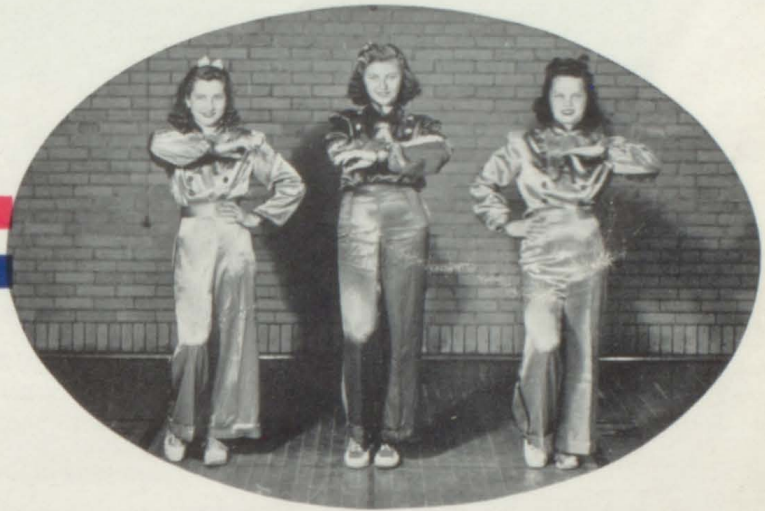

OUR CUSTODIAN

Here's Mr. Barr, our cheerful, dependable custodian. When it comes to neatness and order about our building, he knows our shortcomings, for he has seen more than a generation of pupils in the sixteen years that he has been responsible for keeping our Alma Mater "pleasing to the eye."

PIGSKIN PERSONNEL

The year 1940-41 will long be remembered in A. H. S. as a very successful football season. This was only the second year for six man football in Avon, but they won 8 games out of 10, proving that this year was as successful as 1939-40.

The team is fortunate in that they lose only a few players next season—A. Kempf, L. Detzel, and W. Taft.

EAGLES' BASKETBALL SQUAD

 Second row—Francis Abfall, Leonard Detzel, Albert Kempf, Everett Peak, Donald Tomlin.

The 1940-1941 Basketball season did not prove as successful as preceding years.

The varsity won six out of fifteen games, while the second team won six out of fourteen games.

Only three out of the five who earned letters this year will graduate. They are: Capt. Hugh Knight, who has been on the varsity three years, and also an all county guard; Joe Miksanek, the same hard fighting forward as last season; Robert Fitch, who started out as a forward and ended up as an all around utility player.

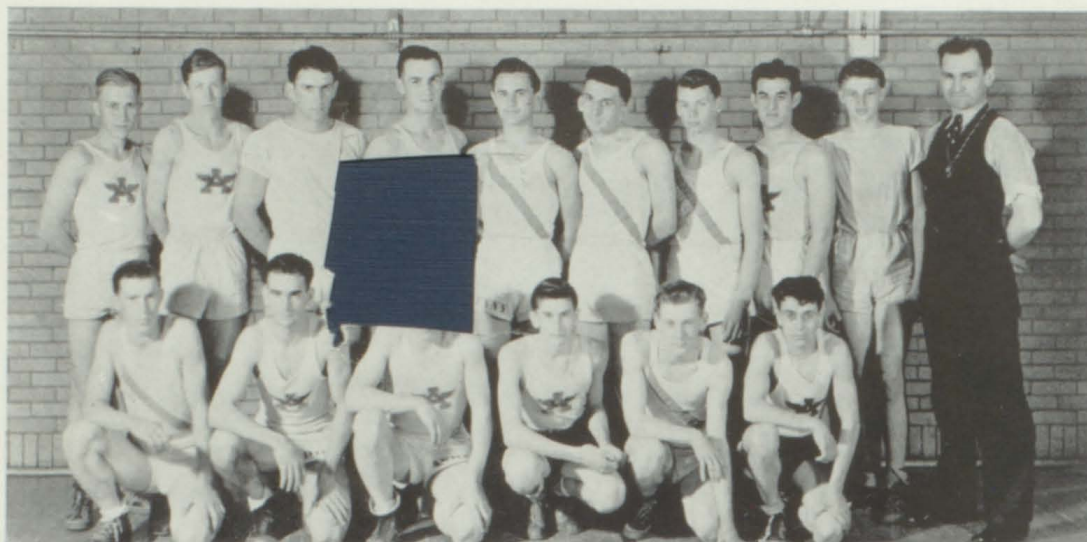

The prospects for next year are very encouraging as the varsity will be almost entirely made up of this year's Juniors. Also, our very promising Freshman team this year should, of course, be improving next season.

Front row—Louis Weber, Don Tomlin, Oliver Forthofer, James Ackerman, Raymond Schwartz, Victor Vasu.

On the track squad this year were such outstanding boys as the following: D. Nagel and R. Shumaker in the weight event; J. Forthofer, A. Kempf, G. Smith, L. Detzel, and R. Schwartz in the middle distance runs; Weber and Abfall in the distant runs; and Tomlin and Fitch in the jump events.

In the inter-class meet of this year, four new records were set, by Nagel in the shot put and discus, and A. Kempf in the 440-yard dash and mile run.
