OFFICIAL SCHEDULE OF EVENTS FOR THE

AVON SESQUICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Avon -- The Avon Sesquicentennial Celebration Committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. James Hattaway, general chairmen, has scheduled a variety of events to fill the three-day celebration commemorating the city's 150th birthday.

The complete schedule follows:

FRIDAY, SEPT. 4

A dance will be held for teen-agers at 9 p.m. at the K of C Hall, Moore Road. The special attraction will be the appearance of Jerry "G," Cleveland radio station KYW's "hand-some-est disc jockey." Jerry "G" will emcee the show.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 5

9:30 AM Starting Time

8:00 a.m. Those participating in the official opening parade will assemble in Northgate Park in preparation for the march. More than 20 units are expected to enter the parade. The parade route, as announced by Mrs. Curtiss Marling, parade chairman, is as follows: From the park down Eaton Dr. to Lake Dr. Down Lake Dr. to Doovy's St. and then to Colorado Ave. South on Colorado Ave. to Detroit Rd., crossing Detroit Rd. to travel south on Stoney Ridge Rd. to Lakeland Blvd. East on Lakeland to Garden, and north on Garden to Detroit. Then west on Detroit Rd. to the Avon Municipal Building for disassembly there.

Feature attractions in the parade include a long line-up antique cars, floats, marching units and cars carrying local dignitaries. One of the most interesting floats promises to be one built by the Girl Scouts of Avon. The float will be a gigantic birthday cake, three-tiers, boasting 150 candles.

The Girl Scouts will also appear in scout uniforms dating back to the time the scouts were organized.

11 a.m. - Drag Race

12 Noon - Deadline for entering the Ladies Day Homemaking Contest, sponsored by the St. Mary Church Altar-Rosary Society. There is no entry fee for baked goods, but a 25-cents entry fee will be charged for all art work. Food will become the property of the committee to sell from the booth after judging. The art work will be sold for the owners only if they so desire. Winners will be announced immediately, but the prizes will be awarded Saturday night at the Sesquicentennial Pageant Ball.

All first prize-winning food items will be auctioned off at the ball, with Auctioneer Robert Haas doing the honors. Judging of the items will be between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Categories for the various items is as follows:

Baked Goods: Cakes - butter, sponge, and decorated; breads - yeast, dessert, rolls; pastries - pies and tarts; and cookies. Canned Goods - fruits and vegetables; pickles, catsups, relishes and preserves.

Entries may be submitted to Mrs. Robert Lalonde at the booth at Barnum's Parking Lot, Detroit Rd.

There will be a junior and senior division in all categories. The junior division will include those children and young adults through the 12th grade. The senior division will include all those beyond that age. Boys and men are also welcome to enter the competition.

The judges will be in three groups. Group A will judge the baked goods division. Judges in this group are Mrs. Richard Baker, Mrs. Norman Frey and Mrs. Laura G. Forthofer. Judges in Group B will judge the canned goods division. These judges include Miss Celia Long, Mrs. Walter Rauscher and Mrs. Ena Moore.

Group C will judge the needlework. Heading this group will be home economist Mrs. Robert Hiltabiddle, who will select her judging committee.

12:30 p.m. Women's Costume Luncheon will be held at the K of C Hall, Moore Road. A style show will be held at this time with Mrs. Lu Kepler of the Journal's Women's Page serving as the commentator.

The luncheon attendance will be by reservation only, and tickets may be obtained by phoning Westmore 4-5761.

9 p.m. - Sesquicentennial Pageant Costume Ball will be held at the K of C Hall, Moore Road. Tickets are available through members of the Lions Club, or by contacting Carl Gumina.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 6

This day has been designated as Family Day, and everyone is urged to begin the day by attending the church of his choice Sunday morning. The city has six churches -- Faith Lutheran, Avon Methodist, Avon Baptist, Avon Church of God, St. Mary's and Holy Trinity.

Following the church services, a family picnic will be held at noon at Northgate Park, Colorado Ave.

Children's games will be featured at 2 p.m. During the day the Northgate Swim Club pool will be open to all.

At 5 p.m., a family-type basket picnic will be held. During the supper hour, a band concert will be held.

Conducting the band will be Rolland Miller, instrumental music director at Avon High School. A sing-along will also be held.

A barbershop quartet, the Meloblenders, will be featured at 7 p.m.

A Schwinn bicycle will be raffled off on Sunday before the barbershop quartet-sing along.

Throughout the day, booths along Detroit Road will remain open for business, as they will on Saturday and Monday. Featured among the booths are a photo booth at the lower level of the Central Bank building, a sweetcorn stand, a watermelon stand, fish ponds, and five-cent coffee stands everywhere.

Closing the festivities Sunday will be a street dance at
