J.C. Steele to the "Kansas Farmer"
in 1865

"Mr. Brown: I am highly pleased with THE KANSAS FARMER, regarding it as an excellent medium through which the farmers, stock raisers and fruit growers of the state can exchange opinions, and give for their mutual benefit their individual experience and varied successes in agricultural pursuits.

Having had an experience of over eight years in Douglas County, I think I have learned to my satisfaction that fruit cannot be successfully raised on wet land or on a clay sub-soil without underdraining of subsoiling. I have found also, that the rapid growth of summer, the early frost of autumn, the warm days with sudden changes to severe cold in winter, render it useless to attempt to cultivate the tender varieties of apples and other fruits. We must propagate the hardy varieties only.

Wheat, oats, barley, hemp, cotton, tobacco, sorghum and potatoes may be successfully raised in Kansas, but our strong hold is in grass and corn, if we can secure by pasturing the grass that grows so luxuriantly on our prairies, and convert our bottom land into corn fields and meadows, we can then raise sufficient corn to fatten our hogs, and stall-feed our cattle. But in order to do this, we must have good fences, whether we fence stock in or out, and the sooner we quit dreaming about Shanghai fences or none at all, the better. The subject of fencing is of the highest importance to the farmers of Kansas. A stone fence is better and cheaper in the long run than any other that can be made, but it requires green backs and muscular power, which we cannot all command. In making a wooden fence, good ten-foot rails are cheaper at sixty dollars, than common fencing timber at thirty dollars per thousand. I see some otherwise sensible men in making board fence, using black walnut for fence posts, which out of ground last well, but will not last for posts. Others have a superstitious notion of putting the top end in the ground. I would say put the largest and soundest end down without regard to which end grew uppermost.

Next to a stone fence, is hedge made of Osage Orange, which has proven to be hardy and of vigorous growth, and which can be made without expending much money or hard labor, time and care being only required.

I have already said too much or treated on too many subjects. I would like, however, to say a word to correspondents. If you write for the Farmer and I hope you will, let us know who you are and where you live. It is a satisfaction when we hear from you, to know whether you live in Maine, Florida or Kansas, and whether your experience is applicable to our climate or not.

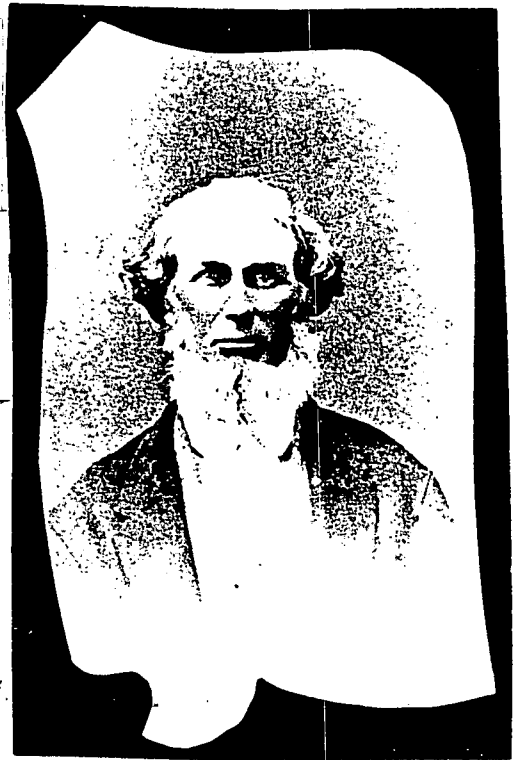

Very respectfully,

J.C. Steele

LUKE RAY, farmer, section 11, P.O. Clinton (township) was born in Cabell County, West Virginia, February 2, 1814, where he grew to manhood. In 1848, he moved to Cole County, Missouri, where he engaged in the mercantile business for nine years, and then removed to Preston, Jasper County, Missouri, and remained four years when the rebels took possession of his storehouse and robbed him of all he had.

He then came to Kansas and settled in Clinton Township, on a farm which he owns, of 160 acres, which he has improved. Mr. Ray was married in West Virginia, April 12, 1838, to Miss Marietta Drown, daughter of Benjamin Drown, Esq. To them have been born eleven children--Eliza A., Paralee R., Sarah F., Henry B., George W., Henry S.G., Marcelmus B., Luke E., Bernard B., Florence R., and U.S. Grant. He has been a Methodist from early boyhood.

Weaver, Kansas

Weaver, Douglas County, Kansas

WEAVER, an early town and community located one mile east and a mile north of Eudora, Kansas, in the farthest north-east corner of Eudora Township is bounded on the west and north by the Kansas River and on the east by Johnson County. This is fertile Kaw Valley bottom land which was originally owned by the Shawnee Indians. The 1854 treaty of Congress gave to each eligible Indian man 200 acres of land and another 200 acres to his wife and each child. The area at that time was covered with timber, but by 1865 most of the land had been sold to white men. Some of the owners were: SAUER, LYKINS, SCHNEITTER, HEROLD and BOSCHE. The land was cleared and laid out in farms. The community was named for the WEAVER family. Henry WEAVER came in 1865 from Columbiana County Ohio and purchased over 1000 acres from the above named investors.

John WEAVER, youngest son of Henry, owned a general store, was named Postmaster and was also appointed as Station Agent for the Santa Fe Railroad (which runs through WEAVER). Several trains, both passenger and freight, would stop at the depot. John also had a rock crushing business and furnished rock to the railroad for track construction. John and his wife, Australia, deeded one acre of land near the home and store building for a school which was built around 1894. In 1900 there were 53 pupils.

DATA OF FRIENDS (QUAKERS) MONTHLY MEETINGS
AT LAWRENCE, KANSAS

1869-1935

Data was extracted from Micro-film copies of Monthly Meeting Minutes kept in the Archives of Mid-America Yearly Meeting, reposing in the Friends University Library, Wichita, Kansas.

The film, in some cases, was not as clear as desirable, the penmanship displayed differences in skill and design and the reading not always above question.

The spelling of names was not consistent but from this point in time it is hazardous to guess which is preferred so the original was copied as faithfully as possible.

When the word "birth, born, died, death" is the first word in the data column the date in the date column is the birth or death date. Otherwise the date signifies the date of the entry in the minute book.

There were discrepancies as to date (generally one month) as the Men's meeting and the Women's meeting did not always deal with a given item at the same time.

The extracting was limited to microfilmed data so more work will need to be done in the future.

The minutes contain a wealth of information and inspiration that is only hinted at in these abstracts.

Editor, THE PIONEER
Douglas County Genealogical Society
P. O. Box 3664
Lawrence, Kansas 66044

Dear Editor:

This letter will serve as a clarification and elaboration on a small bit of material that appeared in THE PIONEER, Volume XIV, Issue #4 Summer 1986.

On Page 162 there appear marriage records from Douglas County. Toward the bottom of the page there is an entry that reads SALAVUIEL(?), John, of this city and Jemima Correll of Wakarusa Township..... On Page 163 there is the Bride's Index, where this couple is shown as CORNELL, Jemima and SALVCIEL, John. These surnames should be SALATHIEL and COREL.

Jemimah Corel Salathiel was the niece of my great-grandma, Nancy Corel La Hay Dobbins.

As to John Salathiel, in the books The Life and Letters of John Brown, edited by F. B. Sanborn, (Page 288) and John Brown, 1800-1859; A Biography Fifty Years Later by Oswald Garrison Villard (page 662), John Salathiel is noted as enlisting in John Brown's Company on August 22, 1856.

In the History of Montgomery County, Kansas, which was published in 1903, there is an biography on Thomas Salathiel, son of this John Salathiel. In part it reads,

His father, John Salathiel, of Independence, pioneered to the Territory of Kansas, in 1854, having brought his mother out to the new town of Lawrence, in that year of the separation of Kansas and Nebraska, and the formation of the latter into a territory, with its present boundaries. Mr. Salathiel, Sr. was a resident of Lawrence till his mother's death, directly after which he settled on a farm, some ten miles from the town, where he was living during the Quantrell Raid. He joined Plumb's company for the "hoped-they-wouldn't-find-'em" pursuit of the guerrilla band, and this and the volunteer service he rendered, when Price threatened Kansas, was all the military service he rendered during the Civil war.

John Salathiel was born April 30, 1836 in Lawrence county, Ohio, on the townsite of Ironton . . . He was one of the early merchants in Lawrence, but in 1860, became a farmer in Douglas county, and purchased a claim, on Sycamore creek, two miles north of the historic, but eccentric, town of Radical. He remained a farmer until 1880, when he came to Independence and engaged in the grocery business with which he has since been connected. He married, in Lawrence, Kansas, in 1858, Jemimah Corel, a daughter of Henry Corel, who settled just east of Lawrence, in an early day; a part of the old farm being now the city's beautiful cemetery. Mr. Corel was a settler from West Virginia but both he and his wife died early, thus orphaning a family of eight young children."

My information on Jemimah Corel primarily comes from the census records and my reconstruction of the Corel family. She was the oldest daughter of Henry and Nancy Matney (Matiney) Corel. A typescript family history belonging to Joe Cullen of Rocklin, California, says that Henry and Nancy Corel and their oldest child, William, died in an 1855 measles epidemic that hit Lawrence in 1855, and these three were buried on Mt. Oread. It is of interest to note that Jemimah Corel Salathiel is also listed in the appendix of Joanna Stratton's Pioneer Women, Voices from the Kansas Frontier, although nothing directly attributed to her is quoted in that book.

I am hopeful that these corrections get entered in your fine quarterly. Please feel free to use or edit what you wish.

Cordially,

Bobby Dobbins Title
