BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH of JAMES LEIBEY

From Tracy Learnard Scrapbooks,
Courtesy Watkins Community Museum

JAMES LEIBEY, M. D., deceased, was born in Hamburg, Germany, and in boyhood accompanied his father, Frederick, to America, settling first in Philadelphia, but soon going to the Cumberland Valley, where he was reared and educated. He then went to New Orleans, where he studied medicine and began its practice. Returning north in 1848 he left New York for California via Cape Horn on the ship "Columbus," and after a monotonous voyage landed in San Francisco. Going inland, he engaged in mining. In 1852 he returned east, bringing with him a considerable amount of gold-dust. For a time he made his home in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he owned property, but later went back to New Orleans and embarked in the sugar refining business, making shipments of sugar to the north by boat.

In Logansport, Ind., in May, 1856, Dr. Leibey married Miss Nancy A. Graham. Their wedding tour was a trip to Leavenworth, Kans., where they arrived on the 30th of the same month. On the 3d of October, 1856, they came to Lawrence in a stage with nine passengers, guarded by twenty-six dragoons, whose presence the border warfare rendered necessary. Crossing the Kaw by means of a rope ferry, they entered the town that was to be their future home. Both being ardent free-state advocates and staunch Republicans, they incurred the hatred of pro-slavery sympathizers, whose malice they suffered more than once. They were living in Lawrence at the time of the Quantrell raid and lost their residence and business property by fire. Dr. Leibey was taken a prisoner and locked in a room above the hardware store, it being the intention to fire the building with him in it. A guard was placed before the store to prevent his escape. Mrs. Leibey was driven out of her house by the gang. Learning her husband's whereabouts, she went to the guard and appealed to him for the doctor's release, but in vain. Afterward another ruffian was put on guard and she made her appeal to him, but of course without avail. As she stood watching, she saw the guard hurry across to a saloon. At once she ran upstairs, took her husband down the rear stairs and hastened with him to the river, where they escaped in safety.

After the raid, Dr. and Mrs. Leibey returned to Leavenworth and remained there until a house was built for them in Lawrence. From the shock and danger of the raid Mrs. Leibey suffered a long illness and it was some time before she regained her former strength. In October they returned to Lawrence and took up their residence in a frame house that had been built for them. Soon afterward they erected the residence in which Mrs. Leibey and her daughter now make their home. The latter, Lily Graham Leibey, is an accomplished musician, highly educated, well informed in arts, music and science, and is her mother's companion both in domestic interests and the broader field of knowledge and culture. Dr. Leibey was a man of more than ordinary ability. His education was broad and he was familiar with several languages, besides being a musician, a performer on various instruments and a vocalist. From the age of seventeen he was a member of the Presbyterian Church and his life was that of an earnest Christian. Fraternally he was identified with the Masons. His death occurred in 1868, when he was fifty-six years and ten months old.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF NANCY (GRAHAM) LEIBEY (Mrs. James LEIBEY)

From Tracy Learnard Scrapbooks,
Courtesy Watkins Community Museum

MRS. NANCY A. (GRAHAM) LEIBEY is one of the pioneer women of Lawrence, to whose patriotic devotion and sterling judgment much of the early growth of this city was due. Much has been written and much said concerning the men who came to Kansas in early days with the hope of making this a free state, and certainly too much cannot be said in their praise; but little has been written regarding the women who came west in the '50s, who endured all the horrors and suffered the hardships of border warfare, and who, in spite of all perils, remained true, faithful and steadfast to the end. Such, in brief, is the story of Mrs. Leibey's life. She came west a bride, leaving a home where every comfort had been found and a state where peace reigned; from such a place she was brought to a state rent with dissension and stained with the blood of martyred citizens. Like her husband, she was a radical Abolitionist and was determined to do all within her power to advance the free-state cause. In early days she became acquainted with all the noted men of Kansas and was an ardent admirer and personal friend of "Jim" Lane and other Abolitionists.

From the age of seven until fifteen our subject lived in Springfield, Ohio, where she attended the public schools and academy. When seventeen she began to teach in Logansport and continued until her marriage three years later. She then came to Kansas with Dr. Leibey and has since made this state her home and has maintained the deepest interest in its welfare. While in Leavenworth a body of men came from Platte County, Mo., to terrify the free-state people. She was sitting on the porch at the Phillips house as they passed by. The next morning another company appeared and surrounding the house, sent some of their men into the house. Several free-state men were shot in the hall, ... William Phillips was killed and his brother wounded. Fearing the seizure of their possessions, she had the trunks taken into a building in the rear of a neighboring house and there locked. All free-state workers were ordered by the pro-slavery invaders to leave, and many, fearing for their lives, hastened away, some going on the boat "Emma." Dr. and Mrs. Leibey were boarding with Colonel Sharpe, a pro-slavery man. A mob from Alabama swamp ordered them to leave, and they went to Richland Landing, then down the river by boat. During the passage they met the "Old Emigrant," and boarded it, finding among its passengers Mr. Geary, the new governor of Kansas, who had been a friend of the doctor in California. They returned with him to Fort Leavenworth and remained in the colonel's home for twenty-one days. Afterward they experienced all the perils of war times in Lawrence and more than once escaped as by miracle.

Since Dr. Leibey's death Mrs. Leibey has given her attention to the management of her property and moneyed interests, in which, being a thorough business woman, she has been quite successful. She has never lost her love for Kansas and no one rejoices in its prosperity more than does she.

Note: Mrs. Leibey's father and grandfather were named Israel Graham. Her mother, Mary, was the daughter of Daniel Boven. In 1835 Nancy Graham was born in a hunter's lodge near Uniontown, Fayette Co., PA. For further family information see complete sketch in Tracy Learnard scrapbooks.

CHARLOTTE V. CUTTER'S SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

From: Republican Journal, Lawrence, KS., October 10, 1873.

"Yesterday the seventieth birthday of Mrs. Charlotte V. Cutter was made the occasion by her affectionate children...It took place at the Cutter homestead adjacent to Vinland.

"...The lady in whose home the noble company was gathered was born in 1803 and long a widow, came to Kansas with younger members of the family fourteen years prior to occupy the home her sons had prepared for her...We found among the goodly company the following:

John ROWE, who was born in Yorkshire, England in 1799 and arrived in Kansas May 21st 1856; also his wife, Ellen ROE born also in Yorkshire, England and having come to Kansas in 1857.

Zachariah WARREN, born in Virginia in 1799, has lived here thirteen years. His wife Elizabeth WARREN, also born in Virginia, 1797. These two venerable souls have lived together as man and wife these fifty-one years.

Thomas PEARSON, born in Tennessee in 1806, has been in Kansas fourteen years. His wife, Rhoda PEARSON, born in Ohio in 1820.

Rev. C.H. LOVEJOY, born in New Hampshire in 1811, and came hither March, 1856. His wife, Julia L. Lovejoy, sixty-one years of age, came to Kansas with her husband.

Daniel GOULD, born in Ohio in 1794. came to Kansas in 1855. Lurany GOULD, his wife, born in Ohio in 1816, came hither with her husband.

Z.D. WOOD, a New Yorker, aged fifty-six, and his wife, C.A. WOOD, sixty years old, born in Vermont.

Mrs. Mary GILL, aged 70, born in Cornwall, England. Mrs. G. and her husband have been partners in wedlock forty-nine years.

Lucy ESTABROOK, aged fifty-four, came here in March, 1855, from western Massachusetts.

Mrs. Irene DUNN, aged sixty-nine, born in Ohio.

Mrs. K. WALTON, born in Maryland.

Mrs. Sophia L. SOULE, born in Bath, Maine, in 1807, came to Kansas in the fall of 1855 to join her husband, Amasa SOULE, who will be remembered by all the old settlers as the "venerable cooper," the inveterate abolitionist who harbored runaways, the non-resistant who moulded bullets and sharpened bayonets; a member of the convention which framed our State constitution, and member elect of the first State Legislature, but who died ere the fruition of his hopes in the admission of Kansas as a free state.

We complete our list of the more advanced of the party with Adrian DAVIS, aged sixty-five, from Westport, Maine, on a visit to Kansas. There were present also, T.C. Marsh of Chicago, Rev. V.M. King and his amiable lady, now of Burlingame, in this state, and the children and grandchildren of the family.

We found all these gray heads, then, grouped together for the first time in their lives, enjoying this occasion immeasurably..."

House built by Charlotte Varnum Cutter's son, George in 1858 on his claim in Vinland, Douglas County, Kansas Territory. George's brother and sister, Alfred and Charlotte came to this homesite in 1858 and his mother, Charlotte V. Cutter and his sisters, Martha and Sarah and brother, John came the following spring. The house, built mostly of walnut, was razed in the 1920's.

Note: Charlotte (Varnum) Cutter died in 1880. She was the widow of John Pierce Cutter.

ALICE ANNIE COLLIER

Was born June 21, 1860, in Pittsburgh, Pa. At the age of five years she took a long journey, taken by many about that time, to Kansas. She was domiciled for the next three years on a Kansas farm just south of Lawrence. Tiring of country life and rural school she took up her abode in town and entered Quincy school, steadily pursuing her studies and graduating from Central high school in 1876.

She early applied herself to the study of music and became very proficient. In the fall of 1876, when she entered the University, she became a member of the chapel choir and continued in that capacity for the five years succeeding, contributing very largely to the enjoyment of nearly every student occasion and program by the magical power of her melodious voice. She was the "Sweet Singer of '81." She was an honorary member of the Orophillian Society and an I. C.

In October, 1884, Miss Collier merged her life with that of her classmate, Don J. Rankin. Her biography will be continued under that name.

DON JOHN RANKIN

A condensed bundle of perspicacity, was born in Black Jack, Douglas county, Kansas, (probably in the proverbial log house) on Oct. 26, 1858, just seven years after the advent of the senior member of the class (Floden). At the age of three moved to Lawrence in time to have been massacred and to have his house burned by Quantrell. Afterwards lived in the suburbs of Lawrence. Attended city schools and in 1873 entered junior preparatory class at K. U. Took a scientific course and specialized in mathematics and natural history. Was an Orophillian.

Mr. Rankin was married in October, 1884, to our own Alice Collier and together they have journeyed through the 47 years, happy, buoyant and prosperous. After the marriage they went immediately to the New Orleans Exposition with the exhibit of the Reading Iron Works of Reading, Pa. They moved to Reading in 1885, where Rankin was superintendent of ice machine construction for the Reading Iron Works.

He went to Albuquerque, New Mexico, in 1886 to erect an ice machine. In 1887 bought the Albuquerque ice plant and returned there to operate the same, remaining in the business till 1901. Has been in the real estate and insurance business since.

The children, all graduates of K. U., in order of their ages are: Herbert W. Rankin, '08, is city manager of Radford, Va., Madonna R., '08, resides in Kansas City, Mo. Her husband, Albert P. Learned E., '10, K. U., is with Black & Veatch, consulting engineers. Juanita R., '10, whose husband, Howard A. Parker, is city engineer of Tulsa, Okla.; Zella Rankin, '21, of Cambridge, Mass., whose husband, S. P. Learned, '22, G '25, K. U., is a professor in the Harvard Business School.

Don and Alice are very justly proud of the fact that all their four children are graduates of K. U., all are married and have families, and they boast of one great grandchild. This is surely a record which will stand for a long time, eight K. U. graduates in one family, and all back to help celebrate the Golden Anniversary of the class of 1881.

EXCERPTS TAKEN FROM THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF ALBERT R. GREENE 1842-1893

"On the 26th of September 1860, I walked to Lawrence, a distance of 20 miles, to hear William H. SEWARD. His speech was the one common cry--"A long cherished desire of mine is fulfilled". He was a very distinguished looking man, but it seemed to me he flourished his gold snuff-box too much for good taste....."

"I walked home that night, arriving before daylight, having made 40 miles. The family kept me up an hour relating what I had seen and heard. Later in the season, I walked to Clinton to hear Jim LANE. He spoke at night in the unfinished Congregational Church and there being no lamps, he held a stub of a lighted candle in his hand and spoke until it went out and left the audience in darkness. He gesticulated frantically and screamed until I am sure he could have been heard half a mile. The wind blowing through the open windows flung his hair wildly about and altogether the scene was a remarkable one..."

Note: Albert R. GREENE'S autobiography is not in printed book form and can be found at Clinton Historical Museum.

The above mentioned Congregational Church was demolished in the 1917 tornado. The Congregational Church site is now Clinton Presbyterian Church.
