Winter Park fire chief to work on state safety guidelines

Orlando Sentinel 4/1/93

WINTER PARK — Fire Chief Dennis Sargent is part of a statewide panel that will convene next week to hammer out a blueprint for safety plans for businesses, institutions and municipalities.

The panel will develop guidelines for a minimum safety plan to be made available to anyone who wants to adopt it, said Charles Adkins, regional manager for the safety and health division of the state Department of Labor and Security.

The state mandates that high-risk industries, such as the construction industry, adopt safety plans, but they cannot enforce it, Adkins said. This plan will be the first comprehensive blueprint the state will have for distribution, he said.
