

GEORGE SKENE/THE ORLANDO SENTINEL

Bus accident in Winter Park

Winter Park Fire/Rescue workers check the blood pressure of students (above) who were riding in a school bus that was hit by a van Friday morning. The bus, which was on its way to Glenridge Middle School in Winter Park, was sideswiped by the van on Glenridge Way just before 9 a.m. The driver of the van, James Patrick McCormick, 36, of Orlando, was charged with failure to maintain a single lane. Fireman Joe Lashley (right) tries to distract and calm Gregory McCormick, 2, who was riding in his car seat when the accident occurred. No one was hospitalized.

OS 2-28-98