Lake Mizell is closed for chemical treatment

WINTER PARK — ^{12/2/98} Lake Mizell, popular among boaters and those who like to fish, will be closed until late Friday.

The city is applying the last of three chemical treatments that will force floating pollutants to the bottom of the lake.

"When you settle out all that floating matter in the water, the sunlight will penetrate deeper, and it will look like the Florida Keys for a while," said Mike Magahey, the city's stormwater engineer. "You'll be able to see 20 feet down instead of three."

The treatment, which can form a foam atop the water, does not pose a danger to people or to most of the fish, Magahey said.
