Effective Cover Letters for Nonacademic Jobs

A cover letter is an opportunity to demonstrate how your skills, experiences, and professional goals uniquely qualify you for a position. In this session, we will explore techniques to translate your graduate experiences for nonacademic positions and strategically tailor your cover letter to increase your chances of getting an interview.

Call for Proposals

The American Educational Research Association (AERA) is pleased to announce the AERA Fellowship Program on the Study of Deeper Learning (AERA-SDL). With funding from the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, this Fellowship supports postdoctoral and early career scholars in education research using the Deeper Learning data collected by the American Institutes for Research. These data include a wealth of information about students, schools, and teachers in the sample of Deeper Learning high schools. Fellows are awarded funding to undertake research projects using the Deep Learning Data and receive professional development and training. The AERA-SDL fellowship Call for Proposals and further program information is available here. The deadline for applications is April 30, 2019.
LESLLA welcomes proposals for the 15th annual conference to be held in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, USA, August 28-30, 2019. The theme of the 2019 conference – Bridging Research to Practice – seeks to emphasize the application of research-based approaches to the practical classroom setting.

LESLLA (Literacy Education and Second Language Learning for Adults) is an organization that aims to bring together applied linguists, researchers, educators, administrators, and policymakers to establish a multi-country and multi-target-language research group to study effective methods of language acquisition and literacy for adolescents and adults. Sessions will embrace multiple but complementary perspectives on the learning experiences and needs of LESLLA learners. We seek proposals that reflect diverse perspectives - both cognitivist and social perspectives - on language and literacy development for LESLLA learners. We also invite the participation of adult literacy researchers, practitioners, and applied linguists committed to the advancement of LESLLA research, practice, and policy. Presentations will include a mix of theoretical and practice-based themes, as well as panel discussions and poster sessions. The deadline for submissions is March 22, 2019, 5:00 pm EST.

Job Opportunity

Are you familiar with MAXQDA?

Looking for MAXQDA experts. Looking for some additional training beyond the company’s training videos.

If you use MAXQDA extensively or know anyone that might be willing to answer some questions or maybe give a class, they’re actually looking for someone to give classes to the E.d.D. program students just entering their research phase. Please, contact Rich Young at richyoung87@gmail.com for more information.

Service Opportunity

Faculty, staff, and administrators are needed to serve as members of the College of Education’s Scholarship Selection Committee, an important group that identifies worthy student recipients of our private donor funds!

The time commitment is minimal. No in-person meetings with all members of the committee are required; rather, selection is done by logging into the AwardSpring system and reviewing applications at times that are convenient for you. It’s a rather autonomous process! There are two options for training: in-person during a scheduled workshop or electronically through an emailed set of step-by-step instructions.

To serve your College by being a part of this committee, please email Jordan Gravlee (jgravlee@usf.edu) no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, March 29th.
