Call for Proposals

3MT Competition

The Office of Graduate Studies and the Graduate and Professional Student Council is running a competition across colleges at USF to find the best presenter, a representative at the regional 3MT® competition in Knoxville, TN in February, 2019! The 3MT® is a skills development activity which challenges students to explain their dissertation or thesis research project to a non-specialist audience in just three minutes.

Please register here by 5pm on Friday October 5th. For more details, visit the USF 3MT® site here.

AERA Grants Program Seeks Proposals for Dissertation Grants

Deadline: October 17, 2018

With support from the National Science Foundation, the American Educational Research Association (AERA) Grants Program seeks proposals for Dissertation Grants. The AERA Grants Program provides advanced graduate students with research funding and professional development and training. The Grants Program encourages proposals across the life span and contexts of education and learning of relevance to STEM policy and practice. The research may focus on a wide range of topics, including but not limited to such issues as student achievement in STEM, contextual factors in education, educational participation and persistence (pre-kindergarten through graduate school), early childhood education and development, postsecondary education, and the STEM workforce and transitions. Studies that examine issues of specific racial and ethnic groups, social classes, genders, or persons with disabilities are encouraged. Click here for more information.

Call for Research Grant Proposals

AERA Grants Program Seeks Proposals for Research Grants

Deadline: October 17, 2018

With support from the National Science Foundation (NSF), the American Educational Research Association (AERA) Grants Program seeks proposals for Research Grants. The AERA Grants Program provides Research Grants to faculty at institutions of higher education, postdoctoral researchers, and other doctoral level scholars. Proposals are encouraged from the full range of education research fields and other fields and disciplines engaged in education-related research, including economics, political science, psychology, sociology, demography, statistics, public policy, and psychometrics. Applicants for this one-year or two-year, non-renewable award must have received their doctoral degree at the start of the award. Click here for more information.
SOQM Seeks Proposals for Symposium
Deadine: November 25, 2018

The USF Student Organization for Qualitative Methodology is issuing a call for proposals for the 3rd Interdisciplinary Symposium on Qualitative Methodologies to be held at USF Gibbons Alumni Center on March 23, 2019. This one-day symposium seeks to provide a space for collaboration among students, faculty, emerging scholars, and researchers. We invite all types of qualitative research proposals, and are open to ongoing or completed empirical or theoretical research. Our special theme for the symposium is Neocolonial Discourses of Exclusion. Click here for more information.

---

Fall Writing Workshop

You Ready for Another Level? Meeting Faculty Writing Expectations in Graduate School

Hosted by Dr. Vernetta Williams, Writing Coach and Editor

Improve your scholarly writing and ease the writing process.

Location: SOC 151 | Date & Time: Tuesday, September 18th, 3:00 – 4:00pm

---

Taste of Honey

The University of South Florida (USF) Botanical Gardens is hosting its Ninth Annual Taste of Honey fundraiser. Visitors are invited to sample more than 100 exotic honeys from all over the world, including honey produced in the USF Botanical Gardens. The tasting event will also include chance to win prize baskets, shop local artisans, enjoy live music, and special tours by expert staff members on topics such as colony collapse, beekeeping basics, and how to start your own apiary. Click here for more information.

Location: USF Botanical Gardens | Date & Time: Saturday, September 22nd, 2:00 – 5:00pm
Special Offer for Educators

USF Football vs. ECU

Educators receive a discounted ticket price as part of Extra Yard for Teachers Week, an annual salute to teachers supported by the College Football Playoff Foundation and its partners. To RSVP and/or for more information, contact Tracee Norris at norrist@usf.edu or (813) 974-0363.

Location: Raymond James Stadium | Date & Time: Saturday, September 22nd at 8pm