District House Info Sheet

Space Overview:
The B1 and B2 levels of District House have been developed to be much needed student space on campus. The space is comprised of large common areas, dining options, and 10 reservable spaces. The rooms available for reservation offer diverse features to meet the needs of those wishing to host meetings, rehearsals, and small events on campus.

How to Book Space:
- View current availability for all CSE spaces online
- After you have confirmed that the space you wish to reserve is available at the day and time you wish to use it, submit your reservation request in OrgSync, using the “CSE Reservations Request” form

District House Policies:
In addition to all CSE Reservations policies which apply to these spaces, the high demand spaces within District House (B132 and B205) also follow the prime time hours policy:
- Organizations may not have more than two bookings in high demand spaces between 5pm and 10pm during any given week

District House Technology:
District House is equipped with standard GW classroom level technology. However, in lieu of having a desktop computer within each space, rooms are equipped with Apple TVs and inputs – allowing all those using the space to bring their own computers.

AV Systems: Most rooms within District House are controlled via an automated touch pad. These pads allow users to change inputs and turn on and off the AV system. The AV system is scheduled to turn off due to inactivity and at 10pm each night – however, you can easily override this shutdown by tapping the touch pad.

Apple TV: District House features Apple TVs connected to LED monitors and digital projectors. These devices can connect wirelessly to display an Apple device’s screen for presentations. Note that these devices do not connect to Windows or Android devices. However the CSE does have Apple devices (iPads and Macbook) which are available to check out for use within a reserved space.

Tech inputs: District House TVs and digital projectors also feature easy plug and play options for computers via wall and podium mounted outlets. The CSE has HDMI, VGA, and Apple cables to connect devices to these tech inputs which may be checked out for a reserved space.
