Texas lmsw study guide

The University of Texas at Austin is making every effort to ensure that information about the state's licensing or certification is up to date; however, status requirements may change. If you plan to seek professional licensing or certification in a state other than Texas, we strongly recommend that you contact the appropriate licensee in that state before starting an academic program and request information and guidance regarding licensing or certification requirements. For more information on professional licensing requirements in this area, please contact Marian Mahaffey or visit the UT Austin Professional Licensure Disclosure Page.
