Why switch to Essex Bank?

Just listen to what our customers say:

"Personalized service. Fees don't eat me up."

"Impressed with the friendliness, helpfulness of the staff. They always take the time to work with me on simple or complex issues."

"Much more helpful. I'm a customer and a friend—not a number."

"Our previous bank was rude and impersonal. Essex Bank is welcoming and attentive to my individual needs."

"I have complete respect for Essex Bank, who have gone out of their way to help my elderly parents and me."

"The question I asked that sold me on Essex Bank the day I opened an account was, 'Show me all of your service fees.' The lady handed me a small preprinted card. I looked at her and said, 'I want to see all of your account service fees.' She replied, 'That's all of them.' I left [my old bank] because they had come up with two full pages of ridiculous account service fees, along with an arrogant, 'were in charge' attitude. I have experienced nothing but friendly and helpful service while banking with Essex Bank. KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK!"

"I wanted a smaller bank with a welcoming atmosphere. I found it."

A Message from the Board Chairman

WELCOME!

Inform. Advocate. Facilitate. These are key words in the Anne Arundel County Chamber of Commerce vocabulary.

So much of what we accomplish in the County, and in Maryland's state capital, is the result of businesses like yours who pool their resources through Chamber of Commerce membership to find solutions to our shared challenges and seize opportunities for sustaining and growing our regional economy.

Your continued membership support, shared with hundreds of other business members, funds the important work your Chamber of Commerce performs every day that affects and shapes regional policy for the betterment of the business community.

As a Chamber of Commerce member you belong to something bigger than yourself that can make a difference in Anne Arundel County and the City of Annapolis. You join other businesses in a shared responsibility of working for a stronger economy and a brighter future. This work is not always easy, but it is important work requiring a collective effort among all of us in the business community. There is strength in numbers, and your business is an important part of the overall team effort.

Our mission is simple and straightforward ... "The Chamber of Commerce is a non-partisan, consensus building business organization serving Anne Arundel County. We seek a vibrant economy that provides opportunity for entrepreneurs, nurtures business growth and expansion, creates jobs for our citizens, promotes shared responsibility, and fosters an exceptional quality of life for all who work and live in Anne Arundel County and the City of Annapolis."

We live and breathe this mission throughout the year for all our business members without regard to business size, industry sector, ethnic/gender ownership, or geographic location in the region. We keep you informed, we've got your back, and we make things happen.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I extend a personal thank you for your membership support of the Chamber's work, and we look forward to serving your business needs in 2017.

Best regards,

Dennis Murphy
Board Chair

ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Welcome to Anne Arundel County

ANNE ARUNDEL: SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

If you play your cards right, you can visit Anne Arundel County many, many times and never see the same place twice. That's how diverse the county is, reaching as it does from the sprawling suburbs of Baltimore in the north to the farms, fields and forests of "South County," and bounded on the east by the beautiful and storied Chesapeake Bay.

The same diversity, though geographically narrower, can be found from west to east. To the west you'll find the enormous federal footprint of Fort George G. Meade – the state's largest employer with approximately 52,000 workers – and the National Security Agency, which accounts for another estimated 35,000 jobs (the actual number is classified). To the east it's water, water everywhere: Chesapeake country, that is, literally hundreds of miles of creek and river waterfront, stretching from the bungalow communities of Bodkin, Rock and Stoney creeks off the Patapsco River to the quiet old waterside towns of Mayo, Galesville, Shady Side and Deale. All along the way, you'll find a pleasant mix of old fishing towns, quiet residential enclaves and the aforementioned farms, fields and forests.

Situated smack in the middle and overlooking the Bay is the charming city of Annapolis, the state capital since 1788 and capital of the royal colony of Maryland for nearly a century before that. This is the historic center of the county, with its narrow brick-paved streets and countless 18th- and 19th-century homes. Popular attractions here include the Maryland State House, the oldest state capitol still in continuous legislative use (built from 1772 to 1797) and the only state house ever to serve as the nation's capital (1783-1784); the 18th-century William Paca House, with its stunning two-acre colonial garden; and, of course, the United States Naval Academy, a relative youngster, built in 1845 on the site of Fort Severn, overlooking Annapolis Harbor and the Severn River.

Finally, no mention of Anne Arundel County is complete with a nod to its maritime traditions, old and new. There are the fishermen, crabbers and oystermen who have for centuries made their living on the bounty of the Bay, as well as the seafood industry they support. And, of course, there are the tens of thousands of recreational boaters, sailors and anglers who ply the Bay and its tributaries—and the marine businesses that support them, from marinas, boatyards and boating supply stores to banks and insurance companies.

So welcome, one and all, to Anne Arundel County, land of diversity and land of business opportunity!

SPRING

After a long winter cooped up inside, you can't wait to enjoy the fresh air, the blooming flowers and the chirping birds. Filled with historic sites, natural areas and guided trails, Anne Arundel County offers a great selection for outdoor lovers. Take a tour of the 23 acres of archeological vistas and floral landscapes in the Historic London Town and Gardens. Enjoy Hancock's Resolution for some outdoor activities and a rich history lesson. Or, if you are more interested in hiking try the Anne Arundel County Trails, which includes a network, of four individual trails.

SUMMER

As temperatures rise, head on down to the wide array of beaches and parks conveniently located on the Chesapeake Bay. Enjoy a relaxing day at one of the many beaches, such as Severn Beach, to destress from your daily worries. Severn Beach offers a variety of activities, such as swimming, fishing and boating. For a relaxing nature walk by the water, take a detour to Spa Creek and Boxes Point Trail. If you are looking for something more adventurous, try Herring Bay or the Patuxent Water Trail for kayaking and canoeing, or head on down to Annapolis and take a boat ride at Sandy Point State Park. Known as "America's Sailing Capital," Annapolis is home to a coastline critical to its recreational boating industry. If you want to sharpen your sailing skills, Anne Arundel is the summer place for you.

AUTUMN

When the leaves are falling, it is a perfect opportunity to enjoy the scenic environment of Quiet Waters Park. The park's trails will give a visitor the perfect view of the vibrant colors of its forest. Quiet Waters has many trails that can accommodate hiking and biking. It truly is a sight to see in autumn.

WINTER

When the snow starts to cover the ground, Anne Arundel offers endless outdoor opportunities for that family-friendly experience. Don't stay trapped inside the house when you can attend the outdoor ice-skating rink in Glen Burnie, which is fun for the entire family. For children, or those with a child's heart, spend time in the county's parks sledding down steep hills covered with snow. Seek that thrill you have been waiting for all winter.

Sports—Activities for Land and Sea

FROM BOATING TO SKATING TO A ROUND OF GOLF, ANNE ARUNDEL LOVES ITS SPORTS

Annapolis is regarded as the sailing capital of the United States. Sailing races and regattas flourish in this nautical mecca, which is home to two of the nation’s largest boat shows. Paddling enthusiasts also have plenty to do as they explore the county’s countless rivers and creeks.

For leisurely fun on land, there are golf courses and country clubs, as well as many scenic trails that wind through beautiful state and county parks. Others looking to get their hearts pumping should stop at one of four ice-skating rinks or various state-of-the-art sports complexes that host multiple youth and adult leagues and tournaments.

If you prefer a mallet to a golf club, then the annual St. John's College vs. U.S. Naval Academy Croquet Match—known as the Annapolis Cup—might be the event for you. An April tradition for more than three decades, this event draws literally thousands of spectators/partiers and is considered the largest croquet event in the world.

Annapolis is also home to the Naval Academy athletics. The Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium is not only the site of Navy’s home football games, it also hosts the Navy men’s lacrosse team, as well as the Chesapeake Bayhawks professional lacrosse team. It is also home of the annual Military Bowl college football game every December.

Don’t overlook the other local college and professional sports teams. For more information on the area’s spectator sports, go to www.VisitAnnapolis.org.

Neighborhoods—A Place to Call Home

ANNE ARUNDEL HAS PLENTY OF OPTIONS FOR RESIDENTIAL LIVING

Anne Arundel County attracts residents from around the world because of its vibrant economic center. Anne Arundel's neighborhoods have a long, proud history and a variety of living options, ranging from chic urban spots to vibrant farmlands to palatial homes that sit along the Chesapeake Bay and other tributaries. The county offers easy accessibility to Baltimore, Washington, D.C. and the BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport for traveling locally or abroad.

Anne Arundel County offers numerous business and recreational opportunities that make it a prime place to call home.

ANNAPOLIS

Colonial-era homes line narrow brick streets that lead to the historic City Dock, which has been the heart of the city for more than 300 years. Yet these historical streets continue to overflow with residents and businesses. The National Trust for Historic Preservation recently recognized Maryland's capital city as one of "America's Dozen Distinctive Destinations."

National Geographic Adventure magazine named Annapolis one of the nation's best waterfront towns in which to "live and play." Likewise, Barron's magazine put it among the top 10 places in the world to retire, considering the great number of residential options ranging from large waterfront homes and historic properties to townhouses and condominiums.

Some residents even choose to live aboard their boats!

NORTH COUNTY

Northern Anne Arundel County residents benefit from an easy commute to downtown Baltimore, plus access to several public parks, a variety of shopping options and numerous employment opportunities. BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport and the Motor Vehicle Administration headquarters are nearby. Also, Anne Arundel Community College has a branch campus at the Arundel Center North in downtown Glen Burnie.

Brooklyn Park, an older, more established neighborhood, has been the focus of business development and revitalization initiatives, while newer developments have emerged around Glen Burnie and Linthicum.

SOUTH COUNTY

Farmers, horse breeders and watermen living in restored cottages and farmhouses call South County home. This picturesque area has its share of pastoral country lanes, white picket fences and horse farms.

Edgewater is the home of Historic London Town, Maryland's largest active archeological site. Twin Oaks, a summer cottage built for abolitionist and orator Frederick Douglass, is located in Highland Beach, America's oldest African-American resort community.

Main Street at South River Colony offers high-quality shopping amid a charming atmosphere with both large retail outlets and small stores.

EAST COUNTY

Neighborhoods along the Chesapeake Bay range anywhere from moderately priced apartments and townhouses to gated waterfront communities.

Pasadena is convenient to Marley Station Mall, which offers a mix of department and specialty stores. Gibson Island, one of Maryland's wealthiest ZIP codes, boasts large homes, a private golf course, a harbor and a marina.

WEST COUNTY

Odenton, which was a boomtown during World War II, is booming again, thanks to the economic activity revolving around Fort George G. Meade, one of the state's largest employers. Fort Meade has the third-largest workforce of any army installation in the continental United States, employing more than 40,000 military, civilian and contractor personnel. The Odenton MARC station is one of the Maryland Transit Administration's busiest passenger train stations, and the region has convenient highway access to both Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

On Fort Meade's north side is Severn, from which many residents commute to not only the military installation, but also to employment centers such as Columbia and Glen Burnie. It's also close to Arundel Mills, one of the state's primary entertainment and shopping destinations. Next door is the Maryland Live! Casino, a gaming, dining and entertainment destination open 24/7.

Arundel Preserve is a mixed-use community that allows people to live, work and play within the same neighborhood.

Crofton began as a planned community back in the late 1960s, and today it is still known for pleasant living. Several golf courses are located nearby.

SENIOR HOUSING

Local developers have created a number of 55-and-older communities, including several in the Annapolis area. Anne Arundel County offers a wide variety of living arrangements that provide for an active retirement as well as long-term care. Contact the Anne Arundel County Department of Aging for more information at 410-222-4464 or online at www.aacounty.org/aging.

Education—Providing Opportunities to Thrive

STUDENTS FLOURISH WITH A MULTITUDE OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Anne Arundel prides itself on education. County officials, business leaders and residents here value the importance of learning. Anne Arundel County has a rich reputation nationally for providing top-notch educational services to its residents through an excellent public school system, a thriving community college and state-of-the-art libraries spread throughout the county.

Anne Arundel Community College (AACC) provides students with a wide array of skills to meet their academic and workforce goals. In addition to a comprehensive curriculum, the college offers other fields of interest through clubs, sporting events, and other activities outside of class. AACC offers a unique education in several areas of study. For example, the AACC Interior Design program was recently granted full National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) accreditation. AACC is one of only two higher education institutions in Maryland to be awarded this accreditation.

Area libraries have also stayed on the cutting edge of technology with support from the county. In 2016, the City of Annapolis awarded a $12,000 grant to the Anne Arundel County Public Library (AACPL) to buy and install SMART Tables at the Annapolis and Eastport-Annapolis Neck libraries. This will enable children, ages 2-8, to build literacy, problem-solving and collaborative-learning skills. AACPL also offers 3-D printing services and digital library cards that provide students with access to online research libraries and courses, a digital tutoring service and Rosetta Stone.

Anne Arundel County Public Schools (AACPS) is home to 126 schools serving more than 80,000 students and 5,000 teachers. Ranked 2nd in the state with 348 national board certified teachers, AACPS is known for some of the nation's highest-performing schools. These teachers have a considerable amount of experience and are highly qualified educators for eager students.

Overall, Anne Arundel has 15 National Blue Ribbon Schools and 20 Maryland Blue Ribbon Schools of Excellence. Arnold Elementary and Pasadena Elementary have recently been added this past year to the prestigious list. It was the ninth time in the last ten years that AACPS has been honored with the Blue Ribbon award.

Along with these achievements, AACPS has been recognized for its outdoor education program as well as its award-winning centers of applied technology. Anne Arundel County public high schools also have close active partnerships with schools such as Anne Arundel Community College, Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland. These relationships allow students to take advantage of this higher education opportunity and guide them to become leaders of tomorrow.

Anne Arundel offers a broad spectrum of learning experiences outside of the traditional classroom setting. AACPS provides students with schools with magnet programs, advanced placement programs and international baccalaureate programs, to name a few. The multitude of programs offered caters to any student's needs and learning capabilities. All the high schools here in Anne Arundel thoroughly prepare students for postsecondary education. This past year, students who took the SATs had a composite mean total score of 1,485. Here at Anne Arundel, students are able to strive for success.

Business—A Thriving Economic Center

BUSINESSES AND INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND IN ALL SECTORS

Anne Arundel County is a booming economic center. The area is home to a diverse array of businesses, ranging from neighborhood shops to large corporations. The county's economy remains one of the strongest in Maryland, consistently producing one of the lowest unemployment rates in the region. Anne Arundel has a broad range of industries from retail to information technology and national security to agriculture.

Anne Arundel is embarking on an exciting new development on West Street behind the Double T Diner. Construction has begun on a new 293-unit apartment building, which is expected to be a catalyst for more expansion.

The Festival at Riva Shopping Center also had a grand reopening and attracts visitors from around the region with a solid mix of retail stores, restaurants and entertainment. The booming center offers a variety of options for the entire family.

Baltimore/Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport continues to break records for the number of passengers traveling through its hub. BWI also ranked highest on Thrillist's "Top 10 Most Surprisingly Great Airports in America." The airport was noted for its fitness, rest, relaxation, cultural enrichment and outdoor opportunities.

The county enjoyed a low average unemployment rate for 2015 of less than 5 percent, according to the Maryland Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation. The county boasts more than 280,000 workers in the civilian labor force.

The county's top employer is Fort George G. Meade, with more than 50,034 employees. Booz Allen Hamilton, a provider of information operations and signal intelligence solutions, accounts for another 2,100 employees. Lockheed Martin, an engineering firm, has 925 employees. Maryland Live! Casino has helped lead industry growth sectors in amusements, gambling and recreation and now boasts 3,000 workers.

Education is also a driving force for employment. Anne Arundel County Public Schools has 14,000 full-time, part-time and contractual employees. Higher education institutions account for another large part of the workforce, particularly at the U.S. Naval Academy (2,340 employees) and Anne Arundel Community College (2,056 employees).

If government agencies and related contractors drive the county's economy, you could say that Baltimore-Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport flies it, providing 9,717 jobs (including 3,200 affiliated with Southwest Airlines) and drawing businesses that require proximity to a major airport. Last year, 22.68 million passengers came through BWI.

In the healthcare industry, the Anne Arundel Health System and University of Maryland Baltimore Washington Medical Center account for a combined 6,800 jobs.

Anne Arundel County loves small business and offers a number of resources to small business owners. The Anne Arundel Economic Development Corporation maintains a Small Business Resource Center that provides services free of charge, and the Arundel Business Loan program offers loans up to $300,000 to small businesses, with the U.S. Small Business Administration backing the loans. SCORE delivers expertise and counseling to the small business community.

Healthcare—Among the Best

AWARD-WINNING HEALTH CARE DELIVERED AT COMMUNITY HOSPITALS

Anne Arundel County boasts two of the region's top health care institutions with Anne Arundel Medical Center (AAMC) in Annapolis and Baltimore Washington Medical Center (BWMC) in Glen Burnie. These centers provide residents with vital access to necessary treatment. Both AAMC and BWMC provide excellent care in inpatient and outpatient settings, along with offering specialized care centers that use the latest technology and research to assist patients.

Operated by the Anne Arundel Health System, AAMC is a 425-bed hospital with more than 5,000 dedicated employees, medical staff members and volunteers. More than 5,200 babies are born in the hospital each year, and the center is known for its skills in joint replacement, cancer treatment and emergency heart attack response. The hospital admits more than 28,000 patients each year.

For the sixth time, AAMC was named as one of the national "Most Wired" hospitals and health systems in a survey sponsored by Hospitals & Health Networks. AAMC was recognized for the deep collaboration among all its departments and for the forward-thinking use of technologies, such as an electronic medical record system that assists physicians, nurses and patients to communicate efficiently.

In 2015 Anne Arundel Medical Group opened a new primary care office in Severna Park. Severna Park Primary Care, which is a practice associated with AAMC, provides quality patient care for the entire family, including routine check-ups, consultation for illnesses and lifestyle coaching.

BWMC is part of the University of Maryland Medical System and is comprised of a 310-bed hospital that sees around 95,000 patients and admits 19,000 patients annually. The hospital's staff numbers 2,800 employees and 650 physicians.

Designated as a primary stroke center, BWMC also has a wide array of quality centers, such as the Aiello Breast Center; Tate Cancer Center; Maryland Vascular, Spine and Pain Center; Wound Healing Center; Joslin Diabetes Center; and a women's health center.

The hospital received the American College of Cardiology Foundation's NCDR ACTION Registry-GWTG Platinum Performance Achievement Award for 2015 – one of only 319 hospitals nationwide to do so. The award recognizes BWMC's commitment and success in implementing a higher standard of care for heart attack patients and signifies that the medical staff has reached an aggressive goal of treating these patients to standard levels of care as outlined by the American College of Cardiology/ American Heart Association clinical guidelines and recommendations.

Transportation—Easy Access to the Rest of the World

HOME TO A WORLD-CLASS AIRPORT AND FIRST-CLASS INFRASTRUCTURE

YOU CAN GET THERE FROM HERE

Anne Arundel's County's strategic location in the mid-Atlantic corridor, along with easy access to neighboring Baltimore and Washington, D.C., makes the area an efficient, easy and environmentally friendly place to travel. The County also offers a number of public transportation options.

Savvy commuters use mass transit and help to significantly reduce the impact of cars on the environment. Through new "green" transportation methods such as "green" locomotives, hybrid MTA buses, and electric Amtrak rail systems, using mass transit has become even safer for the environment.

Various transportation plans have been implemented in Anne Arundel County to help residents get to their destinations and decrease their carbon footprint. For example, expanded pedestrian and bicycle routes allow residents to easily walk or pedal to work as an alternative to driving their cars.

PROXIMITY TO EVERYTHING

Anne Arundel County is home to interstate highways, Amtrak and Maryland Rail Commuter (MARC) service, light rail and the state's primary airport, making transportation simple for both residents and travelers who are going to Baltimore, Washington, D.C., or any points beyond.

AIRPORT

Providing convenient passenger and cargo services on nearly 700 national and international flights daily, Baltimore Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport is served by roughly 50 airlines, which include passenger, commuter, charter and cargo airlines. Over 22 million people fly in and out of the airport each year. BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport has also recently started offering flights to Havana, Cuba, just one of seven new international destinations added by the airport.

HIGHWAYS

I-97 both connects Baltimore and Annapolis, and provides easy access to BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport from most sections of the county. The Baltimore-Washington Parkway (Md. Route 295) runs north/south along the county's western edge, providing easy access to I-95, the major state highway, via Md. Routes 100 and 32, major east/west limited-access highways. Route 175 now accommodates additional commuters to Fort Meade as a result of BRAC. Connecting Annapolis and Baltimore, Ritchie Highway (Route 2 North) is lined by major shopping centers. Md. Route 214, south of Route 50/301, is a great alternate route to Washington, D.C., and its suburbs.

RAILROADS

Maryland Rail Commuter (MARC) links BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport to Baltimore and Washington, D.C. BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport also connects to Amtrak's Northeast Corridor, allowing easy travel to Philadelphia, New York and Boston. Light rail links the airport's international concourse to Hunt Valley, Baltimore City and business and retail centers in northern Anne Arundel County.
