Q&A

CHEF JOE TRIPP HARBINGER

Chef Joe Tripp has turned heads locally and nationally for his work at Alba. Last spring, he partnered with Alba owner Jason Simon to open Harbinger, an Ingersoll hotspot that showcases small plates inspired by Tripp's travels in Southeast Asia.

WHAT'S THE SECRET TO YOUR MULTIPLE JAMES BEARD AWARD NOMINATIONS?

Alba sources items from local farmers, and Harbinger has taken that to the next level. It seems like such a small thing, but it really does equate to something very different on the plate. You're only as good as the ingredients you start with. Then, we look at each day and each dish, and ask ourselves, "How can we make it better?"

TELL US ABOUT ALBA'S CHEF'S TABLE, RANKED AMONG THE 10 BEST BY USA TODAY.

Having that interaction with the guests breaks down a barrier for a lot of people. They are excited to watch us cook and to ask questions. Alba's chef's table is always the start of good conversations.

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE PART OF THE FOOD SCENE IN GREATER DES MOINES?

There's always something new to try, and a new chef coming (or coming back) to town. They bring new perspectives and experiences. Things are blowing up right now.
