Demokrative

Democracy is challenging for citizens. Civic education gives citizens the knowledge, skills and attitude to cope with it.

With our activities, we aim to strengthen civic education and thus our democracies.

Demokrative...

- is an initiative of education practitioners and political scientists;
- has supported the innovative civic education program building blocks of democracy since 2017;
- participates in the Swiss network of actors in the realm of education for sustainable development;
- aims to make the democracy board game accessible to non-academic target groups.

We foster interactive learning environments, experience-based learning and exchange between different professional fields.
