The Monkey and the Mango

By: Nick
A monkey is walking in the jungle. He sees a really big and juicy mango at the very top of the tree. He is too scared to climb that high.
"What can I do?" he says.

"I'm really hungry."
He looks ahead and sees a big climbing gym. He walks inside the building, signs up and pays one dollar.
He starts climbing on a short rock wall. He falls down and lands on the soft mat at the bottom. He tries again. Then it is time to go back home.
He comes back the next day and climbs a bigger wall. He climbs to the top. He does not fall.
He sees a wall that is as tall as the tree. He climbs right up it to the top. He is not scared!
He walks outside to the tree. He climbs up and gets the mango. He sits at the top and eats it. It is very juicy. It tastes so good! The End.
