Lily Marten wanted a pet. There were a lot of pets for choosing, but Lily already knew what kind of pet she wanted. It’s a puppy. Lily admired her friends because Jenny had one bird, Amy had a cat and Nate had a snake.
Lily asked her mother, but her mother answered, “Lily, dear, you are too young to take care of a puppy.”
Lily also asked her dad, but her dad told her, “Lily, I and your mom really don’t have time to breed a pet.” So, I often went to my neighbor, Mrs Grand’s house because she had two dogs. One was Sunny, and another was called Spring.
One day in summer break, I heard a knock. It was Mrs. Grand.

"Hello, Lily, may I talk to your parents?"

"OK," I said, then I told my mom.

After Mrs. Grand left, Lily's mom told her, "Lily, Mrs. Grand is going to have a vacation, so we will help her to take care of Sunny and Spring for maybe three weeks."

Lily was so excited and went to the library to borrow some books about how to take care of a puppy.
Lily took care of Sunny and Spring very carefully.
When Mrs. Grand came back, she was very grateful for Lily’s family and then took back her puppies.
Lily was so sad until her mom said, “Lily, you did a good job, and I was so impressed that you took care of dogs, so I decided that we can buy a puppy for you.”
