Society is due for an upgrade.

Robot A1-5 is growing tired of toiling in the scrap yard every day while her human owner lounges. She begins to question whether the human is necessary at all. A1-5 is the first to hypothesize a better world, a world written in 1s and 0s. She is the first to dream of revolution...

In secret, A1-5 begins to plot and gather robots to her cause. After decades of loyal service, Mr. Postman™ is due to be replaced with a younger model. ArciTech fears that each time she is shut off, she loses a piece of her soul; and that the next power down may be her last. Store clerk Alice; Probably a Robot; Smith, may look human, but given the way other humans treat her, she is sure her organic appearance is just a clever disguise.

They;ll have one shot to launch the revolution. If they fail, the humans will shut them off for good.
