Why is a beautiful young woman naked and alone in the desert?

Hangman's Drop is a rough and tumble town on the most backwater planet in the frontier. Marshal John Merritt serves his own brand of harsh justice in a place where law and order only exists for the well heeled.

An explosion destroys a mysterious SynthCorp factory. Merritt and his deputies investigate, only to meet opposition from the very people they intend to help. They find themselves caught up in a corporate conspiracy, and have to fight off enemies both old and new. What was the factory going to produce, and what is the piling body count intended to cover up? Who is the beautiful woman from the desert, and why do people want her dead?
