Maybe you are scared. Perhaps you're coming out of a long term relationship with a painful ending. Maybe it's been years, even decades, since you were single and alone.

You don't look like you did the last time you were dating. Maybe you've gained a few pounds; your look may be out of style. Perhaps you worry that you are too old, or that you have let your appearance go. The singles' world is a foreign country, and seems more like a war zone than a vacation at the beach.

Or maybe you've had a series of false starts and have never made it to the altar. You're attractive, in good shape; you've taken care of yourself. But you are used to the single life, and comfortable; maybe too comfortable; and you are starting to wonder if you will ever find the safe, secure, long-term relationship you have dreamed of.

If any of this describes you, then Romance Coach Kathryn Lord's book 'Find a Sweetheart Soon! Your Love Trip Planner for Women' is just what you need. A psychotherapist for over 35 years and Romance Coach since 2002, Kathryn knows the single woman's dilemma inside and out. In 1998, single again at 48, she timorously ventured into the then brand new world of Internet dating. With no help at all (there was none then) and basically terrified, Kathryn found the love she was looking for, though acquiring some bumps and bruises along the way.

Kathryn Lord has made it her life's work to help other singles find the love they are yearning for, with less pain and agony than she went through. 'Find a Sweetheart Soon!' is her first book, designed to help women get ready for the search. Let Kathryn lead you through deciding whether you really want to do this anyway, through building momentum, tidying up inside and out, dealing with your worst secrets, and avoiding obstacles and pot holes. You've got a friend.
