Zack has already lost count about the number of times he has been summoned to the principal's office.

His parents, frustrated when Zack is expelled from school, decide to send him away from home to his Uncle Bill's rescue ranch. Zack is promised to have plenty of work to keep him occupied. He is wondering how much more work he can handle when he is put in charge of a very abused young mare. She is terrified of people and considered a lost cause.

Zack doesn't get much help from his Uncle or Jacob, who is his Uncle's right hand man. How can he help the mare when he knows nothing about horses?

Will Zack surprise everyone with the outcome of his journey?
