To The Director

Momentum and drive are key ingredients to the success of this piece. It packs a punch from start to finish, requiring a very aggressive approach from all members of the combo. The key here is to play lightly, but deliberately.

Strive for a steady tempo, and as always, observe all articulation and dynamic markings to give the piece a spirited performance. All sections of the ensemble should work toward sectional independence to ensure confident entrances throughout.

The rhythm section contains notated parts that are integral to the composition, but experienced players may choose to adjust the voicings and/or comp their own parts. The length of the solo section may be extended at the directors discretion.
