A Note From The Composer

Elegy for Band is my first attempt at a slow, lyrical work for concert band. It would be appropriate for any situation that calls for something pretty. The French horn part is of particular importance, so much so that an alternate alto saxophone part is included that doubles the f horn (only use this part if necessary). The percussion required for this work is somewhat limited, but can be used with great effectiveness. I feel this work would make a very effective "middle tune" for any concert festival.
