Performance Notes

The West-Country Lover is a poem about a break up. The West Country is an informal term for the area of south western England where the West-Country lover lives. In this text, though the lover has persistently tried to win the girl's affection, his efforts have been unsuccessful. This poem describes how he has grown weary of trying to win her heart and how he plans to ride off on his horse in order to find new love and joy of life elsewhere. However, because he still cares for her, the parting is a pleasant one. This piece was designed to be sung a cappella, but may be performed with the optional accompaniment. If performed a cappella, feel free to experiment with singing the piece in different key signatures than the printed one to see which one best fits the choir. When performing this selection, work to clearly articulate the consonants to convey the meaning of the many words in the text. Also, be sure to open and sustain the “ah” vowel of the repeated diphthong in “goodbye” each time it is sung. Finally, strive to emphasize the downbeat of each measure and exaggerate the dynamics to help convey the playful character of the music and poetry in this selection.

Lilting (♩. = 66-76)

The musical score is written for Treble, Tenor, and Bass voices, with an optional piano accompaniment. The key signature has one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is 6/8. The tempo is marked 'Lilting' with a quarter note equal to 66-76 beats per minute. The piano part begins with a mezzo-piano (mp) dynamic and a half-measure rest in the bass line. The vocal parts enter in the second measure. A large red watermark 'Illegal to print or copy for onscreen use only' is diagonally across the score.

This musical system contains measures 58, 59, and 60. It features a vocal melody in the upper staff and a piano accompaniment in the lower staff. The lyrics 'bye! Good - bye! Good - bye!' are written under the vocal line. A mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic marking is present in the piano part at the end of measure 60.

This musical system contains measures 61, 62, and 63. Measures 61 and 62 show the vocal line with rests. Measure 63 features a piano accompaniment with a fortissimo (ff) dynamic marking. A large red watermark reading 'Illegal to print or copy for onscreen use only' is overlaid diagonally across the page.
