Program Note

Bentley Shellahamer, distinguished music educator and professor at Florida State University, was one of the most influential people in my formative years as a musician. As director of the band program at Piper High School, in Sunrise, Florida, in the 1970s, he taught me music theory and history and encouraged me to compose music. He performed all of the apprentice works I wrote for the band. By the time I graduated from Piper High School in 1974, I was well prepared to pursue undergraduate studies in musical composition at the University of Miami School of Music.

Dr. Shellahamer asked that I reconceive my 2008 orchestral work Discover the Wild for wind band, and he included it on a concert of my band music with Tallahassee Winds in October 2010.

Discover the Wild is cast in the form of a three-part overture. The principal musical elements of the composition include a motive based upon the interval of the perfect fourth robustly stated in unison at the outset by four French horns. A lyrical theme follows, characterized by the interval of the perfect fifth. These musical elements are taken up in various melodic and harmonic combinations by the entire band and form the basis for musical development throughout the remainder of the composition.

About the Composer

Kenneth Fuchs has composed music for orchestra, band, chorus, and various chamber ensembles. With Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Lanford Wilson, Fuchs created three chamber musicals, The Great Nebula in Orion, A Betrothal, and Brontosaurus, which were originally presented by Circle Repertory Company in New York City. His music is regularly performed in the United States, Europe, and Japan.

The London Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of JoAnn Falletta, has recorded three discs of Fuchs's music for Naxos American Classics. The first, released by Naxos in August 2005, was nominated for two Grammy Awards. The second, which features music for horn, was released by Naxos in January 2008. The third, recorded in August 2011, will be released in August 2012.

The highly successful disc Kenneth Fuchs: String Quartets 2, 3, 4 performed by the American String Quartet was released by Albany Records. Following the release of this disc, the American Record Guide stated quite simply, "String quartet recordings don't get much better than this."

Kenneth Fuchs serves as Professor of Composition at the University of Connecticut. He received his bachelor of music degree in composition from the University of Miami (cum laude) and his master of music and doctor of musical arts degrees in composition from the Juilliard School. Dr. Fuchs's composition teachers include Milton Babbitt, David Del Tredici, David Diamond, Vincent Persichetti, and Alfred Reed. His music is published by E.B. Marks Music, Theodore Presser Company and Yelton Rhodes Music, and it has been recorded by Albany, Cala, and Naxos Records.

Measures 92-99 show a complex arrangement of woodwind and brass parts. The woodwinds (Picc., Flutes, Oboe, Bassoon, Clarinets, Bass Clarinet, Alto Saxophones, Tenor Saxophone, Bass Saxophone) play various rhythmic patterns, some with grace notes and slurs. The brass section (Trumpets, Trombones, Horns, Tuba, Bass Trombone) provides harmonic support with sustained notes and chords. The percussion (Percussion, Mallets, Timpani) adds rhythmic complexity with eighth-note patterns and dynamic markings like tr, mf, and Tempo Blks.. The bassoon has a prominent role in the lower register throughout the section.
