An energetic and fast-paced fanfare, this musical burst of energy is the perfect choice for a concert or contest opener. Attention to rich dynamic contrasts, punctuating articulations, and, of course, rhythmic precision will guarantee success.

PROGRAM NOTES

Revelry, camaraderie, and fellowship are encapsulated in this thrilling fanfare written in honor of all Alabama music educators that attended the Alabama Music Educators Association 2020 Inservice Conference in Montgomery, AL. Fanfare 1127 was written after attendance at the AMEA Professional Development Conference in January of 2020.

It is always good to go and support music education conferences, make new friends, and recharge your 'teaching' batteries.

NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

The intent of this work is to serve as a fanfare or contest/concert opener. In any fanfare-like piece, careful attention should be paid to the articulations. At measure 33, the woodwinds should clearly articulate the ostinato passage. Feel free to adjust the dynamics of the ensemble or limit accompanying players during the alto saxophone solo at measure 37. The alto saxophone soloist can improvise subtly, but not to the point of losing the melody. At measure 45, the trumpet parts call for a harmon mute with the stem pulled out. If harmon mutes are not available, straight mutes can be substituted.

As always, feel free to adjust tempo and dynamics to suit your ensemble and performance venue.

I have enjoyed writing Fanfare 1127. Best wishes for an energetic performance!
