NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

Sometimes you meet someone who just oozes cool and hipness. I was never that way myself, but I know it when I see it! This tune tries to convey the attitude of someone who is inherently hip, who slides through life seemingly without a care. You know the type. The type who could play a B $\frac{7}{9}$  against a C7 chord and not really care that it's against the rules, that kind of person!

The figures in this song are deliberately simple and concise, and you should approach them with a cool, laid-back attitude. Don't let the volume get too loud, until the ensemble build into m. 68 as we go into the solo section.

There are a few places where I'd like you to exaggerate the off-beat accents, as in mm. 9–10, 13–14, 35, 38–39, etc. This will help make the chart sound a little quirky but will also help establish the swing feel. There are more off-beat accents in the bridge of the song, at m. 52. Please acknowledge these accents, but do not rush. Keep the swing feel locked!

As the horn players get to know this arrangement, they should become familiar with when they are in unison and when they are playing in harmony. The writing switches back and forth often, so they should be aware of how to keep the blend consistent both ways. Saxophones, remember not to use vibrato in unison passages, but always concentrate on good blend and pitch. And when you are playing voiced out chords with vibrato, be sure and match the rate and speed of the vibrato that the lead alto player is using.

After the solo section, there is a drum solo with interspersed horn figures. This can be a great challenge for the drummer, who will need to play a solo while also catching the horn figures. Remember to try and play melodically on the drums and that simpler is better, especially at the beginning of the solo in m. 101. Play your first four measures and "hand" the horn players the downbeat of m. 105 on a platter. They will thank you for it! As your solo concludes, you have one measure, m. 121, to decrescendo and lead those quarter note triplets into the D.S. al Coda.

A comment here about the use of a D.S. in a chart like this. This may or may not lead to page turn issues for you. Plan ahead and make a photocopy of any part pages you need in order to execute this D.S. and in going to the coda.

When you get to the coda, pay attention to the dynamic changes, the  $sfz$  markings, and crescendos. These devices bring a lot of personality to the music and will be particularly effective as you bring this chart to a close.

The tempo of this chart is  $\text{♩} = 146$ , which is about the right tempo to portray the coolness the title implies. Don't rush, or we definitely lose that hipness! Which should be no problem for you, assuming you are Terminally Hip. Which, of course, you are!

Please enjoy.

Gordon
Goodwin

Gordon Goodwin started composing at the age of three. No masterpieces at that time, but he kept at it and wrote his first big band chart at age 13. It was good enough to convince him that he could possibly keep doing this. Flash cut 20 years later and Gordon is working in Hollywood, writing for television and film, playing sessions on keyboards and woodwinds, and working with artists like Ray Charles, Christina Aguilera, Johnny Mathis, Toni Braxton, John Williams, Natalie Cole, David Foster, Sarah Vaughan, Mel Tormé, Brian McKnight, and Quincy Jones, to name a few. Goodwin's cinematic scoring and orchestration craft can be heard on such films as The Sorcerer's Apprentice, Escape to Witch Mountain, Get Smart, Glory Road, National Treasure, The Incredibles, Remember the Titans, Armageddon, The Majestic, Con Air, Gone In 60 Seconds, Enemy of the State, Star Trek Nemesis, and even the classic cult film Attack of the Killer Tomatoes.

In 2000, Goodwin formed The Big Phat Band, an eighteen piece jazz ensemble, which quickly gained a reputation as one of the most exciting large jazz ensembles on the planet. To date, the BPB has released five records, Swingin' For The Fences (2000), XXL (2003), The Phat Pack (2006), Act Your Age (2008), and That's How We Roll (2011). The albums have featured state-of-the-art guest artists like Arturo Sandoval, Eddie Daniels, Take 6, Brian McKnight, Johnny Mathis, Michael Brecker, Dianne Reeves, David Sanborn, Chick Corea, Dave Grusin, Lee Ritenour, Patti Austin, Art Tatum, Dave Koz, Gerald Albright, and Marcus Miller.

Goodwin's work has garnered him three Emmy Awards and eleven Grammy® nominations, with three Grammy wins for his work on the Pixar film The Incredibles (2006) and his arrangements of "Rhapsody in Blue" (2012) and "On Green Dolphin Street" (2014). His charts are played all over the world, and along with his method books and CDs, have been a robust source of inspiration and learning for thousands of young musicians.
