Turmoil

Ryan Meeboer

Arranged by David Marlatt

This piece reflects the title accurately: chaotic, extreme contrasts and loud. Although it presents several challenges, it is a piece designed to capture the interest of both young musicians and listeners.

The piece opens with the exciting drive that is to be held throughout the song's entirety (even in the quiet parts) - driving bass line, strong chord shots and a smooth, yet simple melody to fill in the gaps.

The background riff comes in at measure 18, and is moved around to the different parts throughout the piece. This lick is to be light and separated, as it is not the melody, but is used to keep the energy and motion of the piece high, even though it is often used in 'softer' sections. Some time may need to be spent getting this part note accurate and fast.

At measure 42, the piece begins bringing back the original energy with new melodic material and chord shots. At measure 50, this new melody is accompanied by the opening material. Be sure the melody is dominant in this section, especially with everyone playing throughout the section.

Ryan Meeboer is a music educator, who obtained his degree through the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto. As a composer, he has written and arranged many pieces for concert band, jazz band, and small ensembles. His young band piece, Last Voyage of the Queen Anne's Revenge, has been well received by performers, educators, and audiences, and his pieces are starting to be found on festival and contest lists. As a performer, he has had experience in several groups, including concert and stage bands, chamber choir, vocal jazz ensemble, acoustic duets, and the Hamilton based swing group, "The Main Swing Connection".

Ryan began studying music at the age of seven through private guitar lessons. During his years in elementary and secondary school, he gained experience in several families of instruments. Focusing on music education and theory (including composition and orchestration), he attended McMaster University to achieve his honours degree in music. Ryan is currently a teacher for the Halton District School Board in Ontario, where he continues to compose and arrange.
