PROGRAM NOTES

The Yorkshire Folk Song Suite is composed somewhat in the style, and is intended as a homage, to Holst, Grainger and all of the great English wind band composers. It might be considered as a kind of stepping stone to these masters and perhaps more accessible to younger bands before moving on.

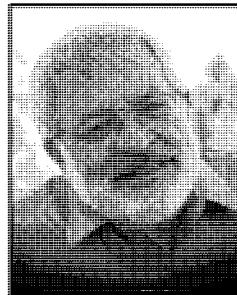

1. The March is based on two traditional sea-faring songs. "Admiral Benbow" was a real person and apparently very successful in his exploits. "Portsmouth" is a seaport on the English Channel after which the tune is named. The march is in ABA form (sometimes referred to as a "da capo" march) and should be played in a traditional, dignified manner. Vaughn Williams quotes these tunes as part of his "Sea Songs" for wind band.

2. The Intermezzo is based upon the song "Sweet William," the origins of which can be traced back to the early 17th Century. The story told by the song is that of a lady who dies of a broken heart after finding out that her lover has perished at sea. In some versions of the song, she perishes after learning he has married a rival. At any rate, it is a sad song and should be played with heartfelt tenderness and sympathy. This is an opportunity to concentrate on breath control, intonation and shaping of the phrase.

3. The Capriccio is based on an old English children's song, "A Frog He Would A-Wooing Go." It is a brief set of variations and is basically a non-sense song (again, of which there are many variants) about a frog who goes off to propose to Miss Mouse, while various critters (Uncle Rat, Bumblebee, flea, etc.) join in with the wedding party, but who meet disaster when a big white duck swallows the entire entourage. Some versions have a happier ending, where they all get away, or at least Mr. Frog does. I have included the part where the duck puts an end to the happy celebration, but the Frog gets away. This version is an ancestor to "Froggie Went A-Courtin'" with which Americans would be more familiar. The American version has a totally different melody and meter but is the same story, more or less.

The sassy trombones should create a complete change of mood with the "leaping" motive heard throughout the piece. The performance should be rollicking good fun, a complete contrast to the preceding movement.

ABOUT THE COMPOSER

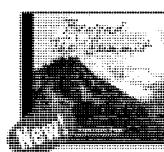

A lifelong student and teacher of music, Pierre La Plante was born September 25, 1943, in West Allis, Wis. He grew up in Sturgeon Bay, Wis. where he was active in the high school band, choir, and theater. La Plante received a Music Clinic tuition scholarship to attend the University of Wisconsin at Madison, where he earned his Bachelor of Music (1967) and Master of Music (1972) degrees.

In the fall of 1967, La Plante began his teaching career in the Blanchardville, Wis. public school system (now Pecatonica Area Schools). There, he directed the high school band and chorus. In 1972, La Plante went to Prescott, Wis. to direct the high school concert band, marching band, and choir. He returned to Blanchardville in 1975 to teach general music for grades K–6 and beginning band. He retired from Blanchardville in 2001.

His many years of working with beginning band students has proven very helpful when writing music that is accessible to young players. An accomplished composer, La Plante's catalog of musical works has been performed by high school bands in Australia, Europe, Japan, Saudi Arabia, and the United States. His first piece, Western Portrait, was published in 1976. His music is published by Daehn Publications as well as Kjos, Shawnee, Ludwig, Grand Mesa, and Bourne. In addition to band works, Bourne and G. Schirmer have published several settings of Wisconsin folksongs.

La Plante has adjudicated for solo and ensemble contests and played bassoon in regional orchestras, including the Dubuque Symphony Orchestra and the Beloit-Janesville Symphony. He is currently a member of MENC and ASCAP, and a former member of the Madison Wind ensemble. He resides in Oregon, Wis. with his wife, Laurie, where he enjoys gardening, cooking, reading, and spending time with his family. His daughters, Amy and Elizabeth, enjoy careers in graphic design and teaching, respectively. He also has three grandchildren, Emily, Parker, and Kate.
