Program Note

Viva Noel is a medley of glorious holiday favorites in a fast/slow/fast form. Opening with a musical fanfare based on the French hymn “He Is Born The Holy Child,” the arrangement transitions quickly into a fanciful rendition of “Deck the Halls.” The slower section opens with a beautiful brass choir adaptation of “It Came Upon A Midnight Clear” and develops into a lush, full band setting of this charming carol. The finale begins as a quick, light version of “Here We Come A-Wassailing” ending with a declarative brass fanfare with small bits of “Bring A Torch, Jeannette Isabella” and “Angels We Have Heard On High.”

Viva Noel is dedicated to the Southwest Ohio Symphonic Band, Cincinnati, Ohio, Danny Maddox Nichols, Music Director.

About the Southwest Ohio Symphonic Band

The Southwestern Ohio Symphonic Band was founded in 1969 by Director Emeritus William Stiehl in Middletown, but it can trace its roots back to the Armco Steel Band that played every Sunday on NBC and WLW in the 1930's. During the 70-80's, the band grew and became a popular choice for audiences, attracting large crowds and filling high school gymnasiums. Audiences were thrilled by the full sound of a large concert band that was equally comfortable playing swinging big band tunes or serious band literature.

For over 50 years, the band has continued to entertain audiences with a varied and challenging repertoire. The SOSB, beginning its second half-century, is still going strong. It is a true community band with members from all over the tri-state area. Professional, amateur and student musicians all volunteer their time and talent allowing each concert to be free to the public, making the arts accessible to all in the area. Many players are family with spouses, parents, and even children all playing together. The band performs at the Dave Finkelman Auditorium on the Middletown Regional Campus of Miami University (Ohio) and is an affiliate of the University's "Institute for Learning in Retirement."

Rehearsal Suggestions

The opening fanfare should be bright and bold, emphasizing the brass instruments. Care should be taken to observe the marked tempos. At measure 18 it is important to play with clear articulation. The key change at m. 31 will add the brass and should build in intensity to the Maestoso at m. 44. M. 53 should be played with careful attention to balance between voices. As the slower section adds choirs of instruments, balance is once again most important. The climax of this section is the key change at m. 77 and should be played with expression and intensity.

M. 95 begins the finale. Tempo and lightness of articulation are most important. The brass fanfare statement at m. 109 should be bright but not too heavy. As the music draws to a conclusion, the meter change and Maestoso at mm. 127 and 128 should be bold and forceful, emphasizing the rallentando in m. 130, coming to a complete hold at the fermata then immediately into the furious Vivace at m. 131.

M. 157 is the finale of the piece and should emphasize a dramatic molto rallentando with heavy emphasis on the timpani, bells and chimes in the last 3 measures.

I hope you enjoy preparing and performing this exciting holiday arrangement.
