About the Composition

Soaring is an exciting composition for solo trumpet and concert band, commissioned by the G. Ray Bodley High School Music Department under the direction of Terrance Caviness. The piece is dedicated to David Bamonte, who is a dear friend and holds the position of principal second trumpet in the Oregon Symphony and former principal trumpet in the Israel Philharmonic. He is also currently on the faculty at Portland State University.

The music is celebratory in nature and features the dynamic and rhythmic range of the trumpet. The piece opens in a very American rhythmic gesture reminiscent of the music of Aaron Copland and John Williams. The trumpet answers this gesture with a bold, rhythmic idea of its own that will transform into the main melody a little later on.

The opening gesture takes on a more rhythmic and brilliant light at m. 25 to usher in the fast section and set up the main melody at m. 32. Make sure the punctuations in the ensemble have a bounce to them and are not played too short. The rhythmic drone at m. 46 in the lower voices should have a quiet intensity and life. As the melody travels forward, counter lines start getting added for increased intensity. Match the phrasing of the solo player throughout this development. The ensemble takes center stage briefly at m. 74 then retreats to support the solo. The ensemble then presents the main melody at m. 87 to set up the cadenza section for the solo at m. 97. This quasi-cadenza should be played freely and lyrically.

The return of the fast section at m. 111 uses a little nugget of the melody as a rhythmic motive. The solo returns at m. 120 with an augmentation of the melody. The opening gesture returns at m. 130 to bring the piece around full circle.

The Carl Fischer Performance Series for Band has five performance levels to provide you with a highly focused repertoire for your band. Each level has been carefully designed and graded, within specific guidelines, so that each piece in a level will work with your band when it achieves that level. Each level is also color coded for ease in finding the series that will be appropriate for your band, as it develops.

Within each grade level, you will find selections in a variety of styles and genres designed to meet all of your performance and teaching needs.
