Foreword

I have served the local church as a Worship Pastor for nearly five decades now, going back to my first part-time position in Kokomo, Indiana while I was a college student. I suppose that means I have a bit of mileage on me at this point! 😊 But it also means that I have planned and led thousands of worship services. It seems that one of the benefits that comes with mileage is perspective. And with perspective, I have come to realize how important the start of a worship service can be for the gathered people of God.

Each week, as I sat down to think and pray through the best way to begin a worship service, I am often been reminded of the words of the Psalmist that say we are “...to worship the Lord with gladness....come before Him with joyful songs....enter His gates with thanksgiving and His courts with praise...to give thanks and praise...to worship the Lord...” (Psalm 100). My experience in music and worship ministry and being in the trenches week in and week out has served as the catalyst for this collection, which I hope will serve as a useful resource for pianists, worship leaders, and congregations alike to begin a service meaningfully and creatively.

One of the primary goals of worship leading, in my opinion, is to do all we can to encourage broad-based participation by all of the gathered people. As you employ these hymn settings in your worship plans, I pray that they will be useful vehicles in leading the people of your faith community to inspiring and meaningful worship. Our God is worthy of only our best efforts in worship!

Using SERVICE STARTERS

Each arrangement follows the same format:

1. Opening. Recognizing that the Word of God is of central importance in worship, each hymn setting includes a role for a scripture reader or two. This will likely entail a brief rehearsal to coordinate timing. Additionally, some of the settings include partnering with a vocal soloist or optional ensemble or a solo instrumentalist.
2. Hymn Introduction. Typically piano only, and labelled “Hymn Intro” in the music, this marks the beginning of the congregation’s participation in the singing of the hymn. A worship leader might invite the congregation to stand or to prepare to sing at this point.
3. Congregational Singing. Marked with “+Congregation (in parts)” in the music, this is when the congregation begins to sing the hymn, utilizing the traditional chorale settings found in most hymnals. The piano arrangement is merely a realized accompaniment to be used by pianists in supporting congregational singing with these familiar harmonizations.

Hymn lyrics that may be used for print or projection purposes are included in the supplementary parts download. Or you may wish to direct your congregation to the appropriate hymn page and stanzas for the selected hymn. Recognizing that there are nominal variances on lyrics from hymnal to hymnal, you should check for any lyric discrepancies.

4. Closing Stanza. The last stanza of each hymn, marked “Congregation (in unison),” includes a transitional modulation and free harmonization accompaniment where the congregation should sing in unison as the hymn is concluded.

Arranged by Lloyd Larson
Tune: NICAIA
by John B. Dykes (1823-1876)

Mysteriously, very freely ♩ = 54-58

Narrator: In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the Lord

The first system of the musical score is for the piano accompaniment. It consists of two staves, treble and bass clef, in 4/4 time. The tempo is 'Mysteriously, very freely' with a metronome marking of ♩ = 54-58. The music begins with a piano (p) dynamic. The right hand features a series of sixteenth-note runs, with a '6' indicating a sextuplet. The left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. Performance directions include 'holding back' and 'moving forward'.

sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and the train of His robe filled the temple. Above Him stood the seraphim.

The second system of the musical score continues the piano accompaniment. It features a change in time signature to 3/4. The right hand has a melodic line with a '6' indicating a sextuplet. The left hand continues the harmonic accompaniment. Performance directions include 'moving forward' and 'holding back'. A large red watermark 'SAMPLE' is visible across the score.

Each had six wings; with two he covered his face, and with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew. And one called to another and said: "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of His glory!" (Is. 6:1-3)

The third system of the musical score continues the piano accompaniment. It features a change in time signature to 6/4. The right hand has a melodic line with a '6' indicating a sextuplet. The left hand continues the harmonic accompaniment. Performance directions include 'moving forward', 'cresc. poco a poco', and 'holding back'. A large red watermark 'SAMPLE' is visible across the score.

"Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was and is and is to come!" (Rev. 4:8b)

The fourth system of the musical score continues the piano accompaniment. It features a change in time signature to 4/4. The right hand has a melodic line with a '6' indicating a sextuplet. The left hand continues the harmonic accompaniment. Performance directions include 'mp' (mezzo-piano) and 'moving forward'. A large red watermark 'SAMPLE' is visible across the score.

Piano, Solo, Congregation, and Narrator

Words by
Annie S. Hawks (1835-1918)

Arranged by Lloyd Larson
Tune: NEED
by Robert Lowry (1826-1899)

Narrator: Incline Your ear, O Lord, and hear me, for I am poor and needy.

Gently ♩ = ca. 80

The musical score is written for piano and solo voice. It begins with a piano introduction in 3/4 time, marked 'Gently' and 'p' (piano). The tempo is indicated as ca. 80. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The piano part consists of a simple, flowing melody in the right hand and a supporting bass line in the left hand. The solo voice part enters at measure 4 with the lyrics 'Give ear, O Lord, to my prayer. Hear my urgent plea. (Ps. 86:1, 6)'. The melody is simple and easy to sing. A large red 'Sample' watermark is overlaid diagonally across the page. The score continues with a solo section starting at measure 8, marked 'Solo' and 'p'. The lyrics for this section are '1. I need Thee ev - 'ry hour, most gra - cious—'. The piano accompaniment continues to support the solo voice.

When Morning Gilds the Skies

Piano, Congregation, and Narrator

Words from

Katholisches Gesangbuch, 1828;

tr. Edward Caswall (1814-1878)

Arranged by Lloyd Larson

Tune: LAUDES DOMINI

by Joseph Barnby (1838-1896)

Narrator: The heavens declare the glory of God; the skies proclaim the work of His hands. Day after day they pour forth speech; night after night they display knowledge. There is no speech or language where their voice is not heard. Their voice goes out into all the earth, their words to the ends of the world. (Ps. 19:1-4) (music begins) Because of the Lord's great love we are not consumed, for His compassions never fail. They are new every morning; great is God's faithfulness. (La. 3:22-23)

Expressively, very freely ♩ = ca. 76

The musical score is written for piano and features a large, diagonal red watermark reading 'Sample' across the center. The score is divided into four systems, each with a treble and bass staff. The first system begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a melodic line in the bass staff. The second system continues the melodic line in the treble staff. The third system includes a left-hand (l.h.) melodic line in the treble staff. The fourth system concludes with a melodic line in the treble staff. The score is written in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time. The tempo is marked 'Expressively, very freely' with a quarter note equal to approximately 76 beats per minute. The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, ties, and dynamic markings.

Words by
Charles Wesley (1707-1788)

Arranged by Lloyd Larson
Tune: AZMON
by Carl G. Gläser (1784-1829)

Narrator 1: I cried out to the Lord with my mouth; His praise was on my tongue. (Ps. 66:17)

Lightly $\text{♩} = \text{ca. } 80$

Narrator 2: Our mouths were filled with laughter, our tongues with songs of joy. The Lord has done great things for us, and we are filled with joy. (Ps. 126:2a-3)

Narrator 1: May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in your sight, O Lord, my Rock, and my Redeemer. (Ps. 19:14)

Narrator 2: If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. (1 Co. 13:1)

Narrator 1: At the name of Jesus every knee shall bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. (Php. 2:10-11)

From William Gardiner's Sacred Melodies, 1815

Narrator: Ascribe to the Lord the glory due His name. Bring an offering and come before Him; worship the Lord in the splendor of His holiness. (I Ch. 16:29) God is Spirit, and His worshipers must worship in spirit and in truth. (Jn. 4:24) (music begins)

With gentle motion ♩ = ca. 126

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It begins with a piano introduction in 3/4 time, marked mf and tempo ca. 126. The piano part features a steady bass line and a more active treble line. The vocal line enters at measure 5 with the lyrics "Wor - ship the Lord in the splen - dor of ho - li - ness." The score continues with a second vocal line at measure 9: "Wor - ship the Lord in spir - it and truth. Lift your". The piano accompaniment continues throughout, providing harmonic support for the vocal lines.
