Slava March

By Randall D. Standridge

Program Notes

Oftentimes, when writing music, I am very aware of the reasons and influences that influence the piece.

Sometimes, I am not.

When I began writing what would become Slava March, I did not set out to write a piece that would draw so heavily from Ukrainian and Russian sounds, but, like most of the world, I am keenly aware of the conflict which began with the invasion of Ukraine in 2022. It is impossible to be a citizen of the world and to not think about it. These ideas found their way into my creative center, and this march is the result.

“Slava,” translated, means “Glory.” This march attempts to evoke a spirit of bravery, defiance, and hope.

It is my hope that one day, we as a people and a species will find and embrace peace.

Until then, we remain defiant in the face of tyranny.

Peace Love and Music.

Peace, most of all.

Rehearsal suggestions

- This work should be performed in “march style,” with slight separation given to notes unless slurred.
- Dynamics should be noticeable and effective.
- Any time the clarinets are placed in the chalumeau register, have them play out slightly for a richer sound
