Four Cumberland Sketches

By Randall D. Standridge

Program Notes

I love all of the seasons and all for different reasons. The sunshine of Summer, the colors of Autumn, the frosty quiet of Winter, and the blooming of Spring are all very beautiful to me. In 2015, I was commissioned by the Southeastern Kentucky Music Association to create a work for one of their honor bands. The piece before you was the result of that commission.

Four Cumberland Sketches is a suite in four movements that attempts to depict the beautiful Cumberland Forest in its various facets throughout the year.

I. Summer (White Water): This high-energy movement imagines a group of friends tubing or rafting down a river through the beautiful forest in the summertime. One should imagine the warm sunshine on their shoulders, the cool water splashing around, and the long snaking Cumberland River stretching out before you.

II. Autumn (Fall Festivals): The colors and festivals of harvest time serve as the inspiration for this movement. Fiddle songs and hoedowns can be heard as people gather to celebrate the Autumn season as the air turns cool and the forest gives way to brilliant oranges, reds, and yellows.

III. Winter (Lonely Winds): As winter overtakes the forest, the woods grow empty and devoid of life as the world goes to sleep under a blanket of snow and frost. The winds echo through the bare trees, singing their sad, lonely song.

IV. Spring (Living Forests): As winter gives way to spring, life returns to the forest. Bird songs can be heard as trees push forth new leaves and the world turns green, renewed, and beautiful.
