A Light Before Dawn

By Gavin Lendt

About the Work

Commissioned by band director Scott Weber and the Benton Community High School Band Boosters, Benton, Iowa, "A Light Before Dawn" stands as a poignant tribute in memory of Debbie, a saxophone player in the band whose life was tragically cut short.

This composition serves as a heartfelt memorial, capturing the essence of hope, resilience, and the enduring light that persists even in the face of profound loss.

The music unfolds like a narrative, reflecting the emotional landscape surrounding Debbie's memory. From gentle, reflective passages to powerful crescendos, "A Light Before Dawn" navigates the complexities of grief while offering a musical embrace to those who influenced us.

"A Light Before Dawn" invites listeners to share in the collective reflection on love, loss, and the enduring light that lives on in our hearts.

Rehearsal Suggestions

If a piano is not available for the performance, utilize either the provided cues at the beginning or allow the flute solo to be performed unaccompanied. The other piano cues throughout the piece should be played in the absence of a piano.

The alto saxophone solos throughout the piece symbolize Debbie, who was a saxophone player.

Measure 35 (Innocently) should be slightly faster and waltz-like.

Exercise restraint in the Fortissimo at measure 73; avoid making the piece excessively loud.

The fermata silence at measure 73 should persist until any decay or reverb has completely dissipated. Music is an interplay between sound and silence, allowing silence the room to breathe.

The Trumpet, Clarinet, and Flute solos in measure 78 hold a special significance as they were originally intended to be played by three of Debbie's closest friends.

Take your time with the mallet's G and Bb fermatas in the final measure. Also, the long notes of the winds in the final bar should fade into nothing. Instead of stopping the sound, you're starting the silence.
