ABOUT:

Cascading endlessly through the air, Sorrow of the Twin Stars gracefully paints a beautiful picture through its unique arrangement. Though its lyrics have been lost, leaving only its elegant title, Wong Kong-Yu's arrangement of this traditional Cantonese song is a beautiful rendition perfect for any pianist.

FROM THE COMPOSER:

Sorrow of the Twin Stars is a classic piece in traditional Cantonese music. There is no exact record of its origin, but it has been popular since at least a century ago. Its lyrics have been lost and only the elegant title remains. Today, this piece is often played by traditional instrumental ensembles in the form of monophony. This arrangement is the first piano version of it. The melody is entirely from the old piece, while the harmonies and textures are newly added by the composer. The music has three sections in three different speeds, but they are all concluded by a recurring refrain.
